

“Principal Ponderings” from Mrs. Humbert October 24, 2018

Parents and Guardians,

We continue to learn and grow here at school. I have been impressed with how quickly the students learn the routines and how well, in general, they are able to obey the rules and the routines of school.

Sometimes these rules and routines are different than what is expected at home...HOWEVER, by being back in a Catholic school environment I am reminded how similar school and home rules are! I thank you for partnering with this school in supporting your child in that way. Believe me, as I have worked in various environments...when I say that children will learn more and have a better chance of growing up to be good and decent humans when school and home are in sync!!
THANK YOU.

Below is a link to SJB Daily Living Practices for your reference. It is also in the handbook.

Common Sense Media website is a great resource for the upcoming holiday shopping/Santa list. Although I like alternatives to “screen time” this media friendly site is a good one to consult before purchasing and/or watching.

Again, thank you for the opportunity to serve as Interim Principal.

Thank you!

Mrs. Humbert
