SHAKING THROUGH – FOOD SPONSORSHIP PROGRAM

Shaking Through is a critically acclaimed web documentary series in its 7th year, produced by Weathervane Music, a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization based in Philadelphia, PA. The Shaking Through series shows inspiring artists at work in the recording studio, sharing their stories and the processes and techniques that make them exceptional.

Weathervane's work is supported by membership fees, contributions from major donors, grants from arts, culture and educational foundations, and sponsorship from vendors in the community. Food sponsors not only feed participating artists while they are in town, they also provide an opportunity for these extraordinary musicians to experience everything this great city has to offer.
