SHAKING THROUGH - RECORDING PRODUCT SPONSORSHIP

Shaking Through is a critically acclaimed web documentary series in its 7th year, produced by WeatherVane Music, a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization based in Philadelphia, PA. The Shaking Through series shows inspiring, independent artists at work in the recording studio, sharing both their stories and the processes and techniques that make them exceptional.

WeatherVane's work is supported by membership fees, contributions from major donors, grants from arts, culture and educational foundations, and sponsorship from vendors in the community. Recording Product Sponsors not only have a chance to facilitate the production of great new music, they can also show a worldwide community of recording artists and producers - both amateur and professional - exactly what can be accomplished using their products lines.
