GENERAL ADMISSION
Through interactive exhibits, the Museum traces the evolution of espionage and provides a context for guests to interpret the role intelligence plays in current and historic events. The general exhibition presents the tradecraft of espionage and showcases the ingenuity and imagination of real-life spies and spymasters.

OPERATION SPY™
In an action-packed hour, your group takes on the role of US intelligence officers on an international mission to locate a missing nuclear device before it falls into the wrong hands. This immersive team-building experience combines live-action, video characters, themed environments, special effects, and hands-on activities.

STUDENT EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS
Take your visit to the next level with a hands-on workshop that encourages active learning. Our workshops meet National Curriculum and Common Core Standards and include a pre-visit packet and classroom resources. Workshops can be paired with any of the Museum activities or they can be a stand-alone experience.
