To Whom it May Concern:

I would like to inform you of the quality of work that Brian Gardner performed for our team this summer.

Brian was hired to be an Intern working as a Internet Broadcaster for our summer collegiate baseball team – Herndon Braves. We have a 42-game schedule that is primarily played in June and July. Brian was very self-confident and mature and was able to work independently when the situation was needed. He was diligent in researching the statistics for the teams and the players. His on-air voice was clear and he articulated well. His enthusiasm for the game was very apparent and he was always up to any new challenge I presented to him.

Brian worked alongside two other Interns and was very easy going. Because baseball games don't always follow a set time, Brian was always ready to adjust and keep going despite rain delays, equipment problems, etc. He is highly capable of handling any position that he sets his mind to and would be an asset to any organization.

He was dependable and wasn't shy about asking for help if it was needed. Working 8+ hours for a double-header called for stamina, patience, and high energy. Brian possesses all of these qualities and was able to be consistent, despite exceedingly high temperatures and long working hours.

If you have any questions concerning Brian Gardner's work ethic or qualities, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Lisa Lombardozzi
President, Herndon Braves
