

Guardian SecureFuture Income AnnuitySM Fact Card

An individual flexible premium deferred paid-up fixed annuity is designed to provide you with a future stream of annuity payments that is guaranteed to last for your lifetime and your spouse's lifetime, if applicable. Guardian SecureFuture Income AnnuitySM is an individual flexible premium deferred paid-up fixed annuity backed by the claims paying ability of The Guardian Insurance & Annuity Company, Inc. (GIAC) — a leading provider of annuity products. QLACs are single premium contracts.

While GIAC guarantees the future income payments based on the total premiums you have paid into the contract, GIAC does not guarantee that the amount of premium will be sufficient to provide you with a secure retirement. GIAC strongly recommends that you consult with your financial advisor when determining the amount of your premium.

Minimum Initial Premium:

$5,000. The initial application must be accompanied by the illustration provided by your financial professional, or the contract may not be issued.

Maximum Premium for the Life of the Contract:

$1 million. For Qualifying Longevity Annuity Contracts (QLACs), maximum premium is the lesser of $125,000 or 25% of aggregate IRA account values.

Annuity Payment Calculation

The lifetime annuity payments are calculated based on characteristics of the annuitant (person on whose life the annuity payments are based) or joint annuitants, such as age at the time of any premium payment and gender; the Lifetime Annuity Payment Option; the amount of time before the annuity payments begin; the frequency of the annuity payments; and the purchase rates in effect at the time of initial premium or any additional premiums made thereafter.

Minimum additional premium:

$100. May be made any time up until 13 months before the date annuity payments are scheduled to begin, called the annuity commencement date (ACD). All annuity payment streams from a contract will be combined for you.

QLACs are single premium contracts, hence additional premiums will not be accepted for these contracts.

Issue Ages:

For non-qualified monies and Roth IRAs:
0 – 75 for Life Annuity without Guaranteed Period
0 – 80 for all other annuity payment options

For traditional IRAs:
18 – 68 for all annuity payment options

For QLACs:
31-82 for all annuity payment options available for QLACs.

A Confident Future with the Right Company

The Guardian Insurance & Annuity Company, Inc. (GIAC) is a subsidiary of The Guardian Life Insurance Company of America (Guardian), a mutual insurance company with over 150 years of providing diversified financial solutions. The annuity payments provided by Guardian SecureFuture Income AnnuitySM are backed by the claims-paying ability of GIAC, not Guardian.

About Guaranteed Periods:

For non-qualified contracts, the guaranteed period cannot exceed 100 minus the annuitant's age (or spouse's age, if older, under a joint life contract) as of the future ACD day.

For qualified contracts, the guaranteed period cannot exceed your life expectancy based on your age as of the future ACD day.

Life Annuity without Guaranteed Period (also known as Life Only) – Annuity payments are made for the annuitant's lifetime. You can maximize your future income stream when you choose this option and elect to have the annuity issued without a payable death benefit during the deferral period, an election available only with this option (subject to state availability). Can be designated as a Joint Life Annuity with Survivor Benefit.

Life Annuity with Guaranteed Period – Annuity payments are made for the annuitant's lifetime. If the annuitant were to die during your selected guaranteed period (which can be 5 to 30 years, see side bar), for the remainder of the guaranteed period the benefit of the annuity will be paid to the owner or beneficiary, or the owner or beneficiary may elect to receive a lower, present-value lump-sum. Can be designated as a Joint Life Annuity with Survivor Benefit. Not available for QLAC.

Life Annuity with Refund Certain – Annuity payments are made for the annuitant's lifetime. If the annuitant were to die before the owner has received a total dollar amount in annuity payments equal to the net premium payment(s), the remaining benefit of the annuity, or a lump-sum, will be paid to the owner or beneficiary until such an amount is reached.* Can be designated as a Joint Life Annuity with Survivor Benefit (must be 100% survivor benefit).

Joint Life Annuity with Survivor Benefit – Annuity payments are made for the lives of two individuals (called joint annuitants). The joint annuitants must be spouses at issue. After payments have begun, upon the death of a specified annuitant or either one of the annuitants (if you choose) payments will be based on a survivor percentage rate from 5% to 100%, which you select at issue. Payments will not reduce until the end of any guaranteed period, if applicable.

* For QLACs, only lump sum payments are available.

...To Start When You Want

Deferring Your Annuity Payments

Minimum: 2 years (1 year in Florida) after issue date. For QLACs, minimum age for income start date is 71.

Maximum: 40 years; 5 years for Life Annuity without Guaranteed Period issue ages 71–75, for non-qualified and Roth IRA.

Maximum Deferral Ages:

85 for non-qualified, Roth IRA and QLACs;
70 ½ for traditional IRA

Your future annuity commencement date (ACD), which is the day your annuity payments will start, must be selected when you first buy the contract. Or, you may choose to have us set your ACD to the maximum allowed based on your age. All annuity payments from the contract will start on this date, even annuity payments for additional premium used to buy more income.

For QLACs, the maximum ACD can be no later than the first month following the QLAC owner's 85th birthday.

Payment Frequency

You can receive the payments on a monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual schedule. You have the flexibility to change the frequency at any time up until the day your payments have begun. After your payments have begun, the frequency cannot be changed.

The Right to Cancel

You have the right to cancel (also called “free look”) and receive back your initial premium within 10 days after receiving the contract. The number of days may vary by state and is stated in your contract. The contract cannot be cancelled after this time period has elapsed.

The free look period to receive back any additional premiums you have paid into the contract is 10 days for all states and starts when you receive your confirmation from us for the additional premium. The additional premium cannot be cancelled after this time period has elapsed.

Adjusting to Meet Your Needs

Change the Payee –

At any time you can change the person or entity the annuity payments will be or are being paid to.

Flexible ACD –

Bring forward or push back your first payment's start date by up to 5 years. If you push back, you have the one-time option to bring it forward again but not to a date that is before your original ACD.

Moving the ACD may change your annuity payment amount.

14 days notice must be given prior to your new ACD (if bringing forward) or your Original ACD (if pushing back).

Adjusting to Meet Your Needs – continued

After payments begin, you can request a one-time payment of the next five monthly annuity payments with your current annuity payment.

Must be age 59½ or older, and have at least six months remaining in a guaranteed or refund certain period at time of request.

Available with:

- Life with Guaranteed Period
- Life with Refund Certain
- Joint Life with Survivor Benefit with a Guaranteed Period and/or Refund Certain

Payment Acceleration Rider

One-time payment equal to one monthly payment plus the next 5 monthly payments.

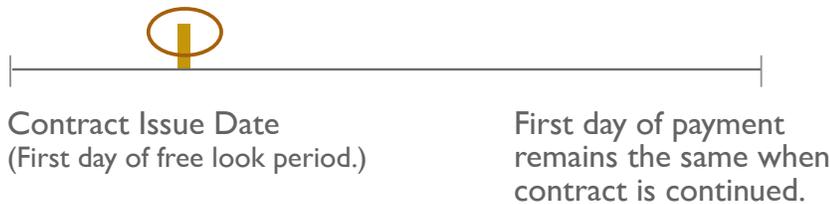

Normal monthly payments resume.

Planning for the “Unexpected”

Life has unexpected moments. You’ll want to know what will happen with your contract before and after payments have begun. Please talk with your financial professional about how to properly structure the contract so that its ownership may be passed to your spouse. For maximum income, you may choose to have your contract issued without a death benefit, which is subject to state availability and is only available when selecting Life Only without Guaranteed Period payment option. Talk with your financial professional for more information.

Before Annuity Payments Have Begun – Deferral Period

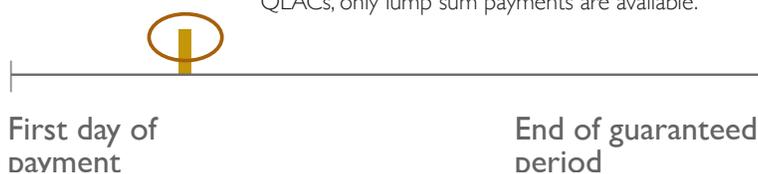

Death of an owner or annuitant (person whose life the payments are based on)

- Under a single life contract, the contract ends. All monies used to buy the contract are paid to the named beneficiary.
- Under a joint life contract, if an owner dies and there is one annuitant still living and the owner’s spouse is the sole beneficiary, the contract continues. If the last surviving annuitant were to die during this time, then the above point about single life contracts will apply.

After Annuity Payments Have Begun – With an Applicable Guaranteed Period or Refund Certain

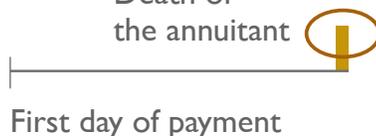

Death of the annuitant

- Under a single life contract, remaining annuity payments continue to the owner until the end of the guaranteed period, or he/she can elect a lower, present-day value lump-sum of them. Under a Refund Certain contract, the owner may elect to continue the remaining annuity payments or receive a lump-sum equal to their combined total. For QLACs, only lump sum payments are available.
- Under a joint life contract, payments continue and the survivor percentage rate will not be applied upon the death of a specified annuitant or either one of the annuitants (if you choose) until the guaranteed period ends. If both annuitants were to die during this time then the point at left will apply.

After Annuity Payments Have Begun – Without or After an Applicable Guaranteed Period or Refund Certain

Death of the annuitant

- If a single life contract, the contract ends. No more annuity payments.
- Under a joint life contract, upon the death of a specified annuitant or either one of the annuitants (if you choose) payments continue and will be based on the survivor percentage rate you chose when the annuity was first purchased. The contract ends at the death of the last surviving annuitant.
