

2024 TAX PLANNING

UNDERSTAND WHERE YOUR FEDERAL TAX DOLLARS GO

In this guide, we will explore where your tax dollars go, some of the ways tax filing may look different this tax year, and what you can do to prepare. Keep in mind that this guide is for informational purposes only and is not a replacement for real-life advice, so make sure to consult your tax, legal, and accounting professionals before modifying your strategy.

Before we dive into the upcoming tax brackets and what you can do to prepare for the upcoming tax season, it will be helpful to understand precisely how the government allocates your federal tax dollars.

In 2022, the federal government spent $6.27 trillion, which equals 25 percent of the nation's gross domestic product. Further examination reveals that three significant areas of spending made up the majority of the budget.¹

Medicare

Medicare accounted for $755 billion, or 12 percent of the budget, in 2022.¹

Defense Spending

Another $767 billion, or 12 percent of the budget, was paid for defense and security-related international activities. The bulk of the spending in this category reflects the underlying costs of the Defense Department, including the costs of multiple defense initiatives and related activities, described as Overseas Contingency Operations in the budget.¹

Social Security

Seventeen percent of the budget, or $1.22 trillion, went to Social Security, which provided monthly retirement benefits averaging $1,632 to 48 million retired workers. Social Security also provided benefits to 3 million spouses and children of retired workers, 6 million surviving children and spouses of deceased workers, and 9 million disabled workers and their eligible dependents.^{1,2}

THE TAX BRACKETS

The tax brackets are: 10, 12, 22, 24, 32, 35, and 37 percent.

Here are the tax brackets and the corresponding income ranges:³

2023 TAX RATE	SINGLE	MARRIED FILING JOINTLY
10%	$0 to $11,000	$0 to $ 22,000
12%	$11,001–$44,725	$22,001–$89,450
22%	$44,726–$95,375	$89,451–$190,750
24%	$95,376–$182,100	$190,751–$364,200
32%	$182,101–$231,250	$364,201–$462,500
35%	$231,251–$578,125	$462,501–$693,750
37%	$578,126+	$693,751+

These modest changes to the tax brackets also mean that wage earners may fall into lower brackets this tax year. Here is one example: A single filer at $95,000 in taxable income would have fallen into the 24 percent bracket for tax year 2022. The filer would now be in the 22 percent tax bracket for 2023. These new rates are scheduled to expire in 2025 unless Congress acts to make them permanent. Exemptions also changed under the new tax code.

Keep in mind that the tax brackets are representative of how much you will pay for each portion of your income. For example, if you make $125,000 for the 2023 tax year and are married filing jointly, you would pay 10 percent on the first $22,000, 12 percent on the next $79,450, and 22 percent on the final $23,550. You would not pay 22 percent for the entire $125,000 of your annual income.

Here is an overview of the standard deductions over the past two years:³

TAX YEAR	2022	2023
Single	$12,950	$13,850
Married filing jointly	$25,900	$27,700
Married filing separately	$12,950	$13,850
Head of household	$19,400	$20,800
Personal exemption	N/A	N/A

PREPARING FOR THE TAX SEASON

Planning well in advance of the tax season may help you better prepare for the unexpected. Here are several reasons to begin early:

- Your home, job, or relationships changed
- You need to start saving money if you may owe taxes
- You want to ensure you qualify for tax deductions

You can make changes throughout the year to ensure that your tax preparations go smoothly. In particular, you can make periodic assessments of your paycheck withholdings so that you can get a refund or reduce or eliminate your tax burden.

You should keep track of and store your tax and other financial records to avoid delays or frantic preparations as the filing deadline approaches. Records may include W-2 forms, canceled checks, certain receipts, and previous returns.

Here is a list of other items to start gathering:

- Pay stubs
- Mortgage payment records
- Closing paperwork on home purchases
- Receipts for items or services you may want to claim as itemized deductions
- Records on charitable giving and donations
- Mileage logs on cars used for business
- Business travel receipts

- Credit card and bank statements to verify deductions
- Medical bills
- 1099-G forms for state and local taxes
- 1099 forms for dividend or other income

During the first few months of 2024, make sure you receive your W-2 and 1099 forms as well as other tax documents. Leave adequate time to collect documents and prepare to file your taxes prior to the April 15, 2024 deadline.

TIGHTENING THE NUTS AND BOLTS

Here are some additional ways to prepare this year for next year's tax season:

Look at last year: Take one more look at last year's return. In the months ahead, you may still have the opportunity to contribute more to your retirement plan, which may lower your taxable income.

Donate to charity: How about "bunching" your charitable donations? Bunching allows you to optimize your deduction allowances by making two or more years' worth of charity donations in one year?

Let us say you are married, you expect to itemize your deductions, and you anticipate making $15,000 in annual donations. By donating $30,000 in one year and skipping the next, you may be able to qualify for a higher deduction.⁵

Review capital losses: If you are investing in the financial markets, you may want to consider deducting capital losses. You have the opportunity to claim deductions if you experienced losses, but you can claim losses only if they exceed capital gains. You are allowed to claim the difference of up to $3,000 per year if you are married filing jointly or $1,500 if you are filing separate returns. Net losses that exceed $3,000 can be carried over into future years.⁶

Deductions for capital losses can only be applied to investment property sales, not to the sale of investment property that was held for personal use.

Get organized: Find a place to store your tax documents until it is time to prepare to file. A good recordkeeping system may alleviate concerns later as the deadline gets closer.

If you store your documents or prior returns on your computer, make sure you back them up on a thumb drive or other device or system in case your computer is hacked or stolen.

Consider other taxes: Keep an eye on local and state government requirements that may affect your specific tax situation.

HOW LONG?

The IRS provides recommended timelines for retaining financial documents:⁷

1. You should keep your tax records for three years if #4 and #5 below do not apply to you.
2. You should keep records for three years from the original filing date of your return or two years from the date you paid your taxes if you claimed a credit or refund after you filed your return. Select whichever is the later date.
3. You should keep your records for seven years if you claimed a loss from worthless securities or a bad debt deduction.
4. You should keep your records for six years if you failed to report income that you should have and the income was more than 25 percent of the gross income listed on your return.
5. Keep records indefinitely if you do not file a return.
6. You should keep employment tax records for at least four years after the due date on the taxes or after you paid the taxes. Select whichever is later.
