Item 6 Supervision

Trustmont Advisory Group, Inc. has created policies and procedures reasonably designed to prevent violation of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and the rules that the Security and Exchange Commission have adopted under the Act. Trustmont Advisory Group, Inc. does not oversee the direct investment advice that your Investment Advisor gives to a client or potential client. Client or potential clients should rely exclusively on the expertise and knowledge of the Investment Advisor for all advice and recommendations. Trustmont Advisory Group, Inc. does have guidelines on the advice that your Investment Advisor provides. These guidelines include but are not limited to: Your Investment Advisor Representative must provide advice that is in the client's best interest and must not place their interests ahead of the client's interest under any circumstances. Your Investment Advisor must follow specific fiduciary obligations when dealing with clients, obligations such as but not limited to: the duty to have a reasonable, independent basis for the investment advice provided, the duty to ensure that investment advice is suitable to meeting the client's individual objectives, needs and circumstances and a duty to be loyal to clients. Engaging in any fraudulent or deceitful conduct with clients or potential client is strictly prohibited. Examples of fraudulent conduct include but are not limited to: misrepresentation, nondisclosure of fees and/or misappropriation of client funds.

Your Investment Advisor is supervised by MaryLynne Hixenbaugh, Chief Compliance Officer, of Trustmont Advisory Group, Inc. Contact information is on the cover page of this supplement.
