The loss of a loved one is an emotionally painful event and is often accompanied by a period of difficult decisions and feelings of a lack of control. The information provided below is designed to help guide you through some of the basic decisions that will need to be made in a timely manner.

STAGE 1 – FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS

1. Call a Funeral Director to begin coordinating the funeral arrangements.
 - a. Discuss details of funeral and/or memorial service:
 - i. Music
 - ii. Readings
 - iii. Photographs
 - b. See www.funeralwise.com for several useful planning guides.
2. Request 10 to 20 copies of the death certificate from the Funeral Director or the Bureau of Vital Statistics.
3. Inform family members, friends, employers and co-workers, and social and non-profit organizations.
4. Prepare an obituary to be sent to the media (in newspapers or online).
 - a. See www.obituaryguide.com for guidance and several useful templates.
5. Plan a reception to celebrate the life of the deceased.

STAGE 2 – SECURING DECEDENT'S RESIDENCE AND BELONGINGS

1. Arrange for immediate care/security of the decedent's residence.
2. Arrange for care of plants, pets, and personal assets (especially perishables).
3. Have mail temporarily held at post office, then forwarded to Executor/Personal Representative.
4. Cancel subscriptions to newspapers, magazines, and other deliveries.

This is provided as information only, not as legal advice. It is strongly recommended that you seek advice from competent legal and tax counsel to determine the applicability of this information to your estate and financial planning decisions.

STAGE 3 – ESTATE PREPARATION (IF YOU ARE APPOINTED EXECUTOR OR PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE)

1. Locate original Estate Planning Documents (Will, Trusts, etc).
2. Locate other important documents and financial records:
 - a. Certificates (Birth, Marriage, and Divorce)
 - b. Account statements (investments, retirement accounts, bank accounts, annuities, insurance policies, etc)
3. Identify and schedule an appointment with the decedent's Attorney.
4. Identify and schedule appointment with the decedent's various other advisors:
 - a. Financial Advisor
 - b. Life Insurance Agent
 - c. Accountant / Tax Preparer
 - d. Property & Casualty Agent
5. Notify Social Security/Veterans Administration to process forms for obtaining benefits.
6. Contact employer (including State/Fed government agencies) and request unpaid salary/bonus vacation pay/pensions/other death-related benefits.
7. Continue Health Insurance Coverage for surviving spouse and dependent children.

STAGE 4 – ESTATE DISTRIBUTIONS

1. File Decedent's Final Income Tax Return.
2. File Decedent's Estate Tax Return, if required.
3. Adjust cost basis, where applicable.
4. Pay Decedent's final expenses:
 - a. Outstanding bills
 - b. Loans
 - c. Estate / attorney /executor fees
 - d. Income tax / estate tax / accountant fees
5. Pay real property taxes.
6. Distribute the net estate to the appropriate beneficiaries or trusts.

STAGE 5 – HANDLING GRIEF

Losing a loved one is among the most difficult crises we face in life. Sharing grief with those you love can often provide meaningful emotional support. It is also important that you give yourself time to adjust to your loss. Some experts say that the grieving process can take a year or longer. In any event, remember that you must work your way through your grief.

This is provided as information only, not as legal advice. It is strongly recommended that you seek advice from competent legal and tax counsel to determine the applicability of this information to your estate and financial planning decisions.
