Key Components	Evaluating Your Plan For Financial Freedom	Rate Your Current Planning 1 (Least) – 5 (Best)	What Does Your Score Mean?
1 Protection Components	My family and I are fully protected from life's uncertainties through current wills, life, disability and liability insurances.	_____ Initials _____	GREATER THAN 27 Congratulations! You've successfully addressed the key components of having a solid financial plan. Continue to review everything annually. 20 – 27 You're most likely on your way to having the key areas of planning under control. Focus on the areas you scored lowest. Getting a second opinion should provide insight and enhance what you've already done. 15-20 It's definitely time to address these key areas before too much time passes and some options may no longer exist. A holistic and thorough approach is clearly needed to help you build and protect your future. Less than 15 It's imperative to get a detailed comprehensive plan in motion to address all of these glaring weaknesses in your current planning. Do not put this off any longer as the real cost of inaction could be devastating. Email info@hdci.biz to schedule a complimentary planning review.   LONG ISLAND                      250 Crossways Park Drive, Woodbury, NY 11797  NEW YORK CITY                      355 Lexington Avenue, 9th.
