How You Can Take Control of Your Wealth and Your Money Matters

SAN RAMON, CA (PRWEB) May 04, 2017 -- The world of personal finance and wealth management has changed. Do you know what the changes are and how they affect you? It’s no longer just about managing investments. Award winning TV host Forbes Riley and inventor of the infomercial and “Shark Tank” original Shark, Kevin Harrington sat down with Marilyn Suey of The Diamond Group Wealth Advisors to talk about how taking a big-picture, holistic approach to your finances may help you build and invest for your family’s future.

“One of our objectives at The Diamond Group Wealth Advisors is to continually ‘raise the bar’ on our ability to deliver extraordinary service and advice to our clients,” said Marilyn Suey, Principal and CEO. “We take great care as we serve and support our clients who are business owners, health care professionals, and entrepreneurs. Our advice includes managing investments; however, we go much deeper to ensure that our clients are on their path toward financial independence using our Prosperity Blueprint Process.”

“Based on our interview and research, The Diamond Group Wealth Advisors takes a holistic view of their clients’ lifestyle needs,” said Kevin Harrington. “Marilyn looks at her clients’ entire background as she builds their customized Prosperity Blueprint, and she collaborates with each client as they take action to implement their plan.”

“I understand that Marilyn loves working with women as well who may be business owners, entrepreneurs, or on their own,” said Forbes Riley. “Women need more people like Marilyn to support them as they build their financial futures.
