The importance of diversification.

Building a diversified portfolio, across asset classes, is one of the most important components in reaching your financial goals. BlackRock Model Portfolios are invested in a range of funds aiming to help you achieve better returns within your risk level.

BlackRock constructs each model portfolio with quality and cost-efficient investments across alpha, index and factors.

Alpha strategies

Managers delivering active returns, not static tilts.

Index strategies

Low-cost, tax-efficient, broad market exposures.

Factor strategies

Historic drivers of outperformance or reduced risk.

Fixed income risks include interest-rate and credit risk. Typically, when interest rates rise, there is a corresponding decline in bond values. Credit risk refers to the possibility that the bond issuer will not be able to make principal and interest payments.

International investing involves risks, including risks related to foreign currency, limited liquidity, less government regulation and the possibility of substantial volatility due to adverse political, economic or other developments. These risks often are heightened for investments in emerging/developing markets and in concentrations of single countries.

Transactions in shares of ETFs may result in brokerage commissions and will generate tax consequences. All regulated investment companies are obliged to distribute portfolio gains to shareholders. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for shares of an ETF will develop or be maintained.
