Asset Details

Asset Details reports cash and cash equivalents as well as classifies assets by category. The Baird Client Statement displays unrealized gains/losses, except for the standard statement type, allowing the investor to closely monitor their individual investments. This section also segregates purchases from reinvestments. Cumulative investment return information is displayed in dollars for funds and unit investment trusts that are being reinvested.

Networked annuities may also be included in the Asset Details section. The annuity data is received directly from the annuity company and may contain detailed subaccount information.

ASSET DETAILS
This section shows the cash, cash equivalents and/or securities in your account. It reflects market values as of the close of business, June 30, 20xx. Please note, unrealized gain/loss is being prepared for informational purposes only and should not be used for tax preparation without the assistance of your tax advisor. Cumulative Investment Return on funds and unit investment trusts is provided for informational purposes only to assist you in comparing the total current value of your position with your total amount invested, excluding reinvestment activity. Cumulative Investment Return may be misstated if any cost information is inaccurate or if you have sold part of your position since your original investment.
9	CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS
	Any balances reflected in this section held in a bank deposit account or in shares of money market mutual funds may be liquidated on your order and the proceeds returned to your account or remitted to you. We encourage you to visit www.rwbaird.com/cashsweeps and to speak to your Financial Advisor about alternatives for your idle cash as there may be material differences in yield and other important factors to consider (e.g. liquidity, safety) when choosing the best solution to meet your needs.

19. Beneficiary Information is shown on a quarterly basis for all Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) and monthly if a contribution/distribution has been made in the prior or current year. This information is also shown if the Required Minimum Distribution section is populated.

20. Contribution/Distribution Summary conveniently displays the prior or current year contribution, rollover, other contributions, or withholdings for planning purposes. This section appears if contribution/distribution is made in current year or prior year.

21. Required Minimum Distribution shows the required yearly withdrawal, amount that has been distributed, as well as how much is remaining to be paid, if applicable.

Realized Gains/Losses

Realized Gains/Losses are shown for investments sold during the statement period. This section calculates the realized gains/losses by security and tax lot to determine whether the gain/loss is short-term or long-term. Year-to-Date gain/loss is shown on the September, November, and December client statement.

REALIZED GAINS(-)LOSSES
This section presents estimated realized gains or losses for your information only, and should not be used for tax purposes. To calculate gains or losses, the position with the highest purchase price has been liquidated first unless you have instructed us otherwise. We suggest you review this information for accuracy and contact your Baird Financial Advisor with any questions.

Additional Information & Disclosures

Additional information directly related to your relationship with your Baird Financial Advisor, potential risks, and important reporting details shown on the client statement are outlined in this disclosure document.

This disclosure document is delivered with every client statement and available for eDelivery clients, within the "Documents" tab on Baird Online. Please reference rwbaird.com/disclosures.

Change in Circumstances

Contact your Financial Advisor immediately if there is a material change in your financial or tax situation. If you participate in a discretionary investment advisory program, please contact your Financial Advisor if you wish to impose or modify reasonable restrictions on the management of your account.

Pricing

The pricing of securities displayed on your statement is derived from various sources. For securities listed on an exchange or otherwise actively traded, the prices reflect market quotations at the close of your statement period. For corporate, municipal and other fixed income securities, as well as other securities that are not actively traded, we generally rely on third party pricing services, or a computerized pricing model, which may consider numerous factors and employ evaluation methodologies (which may include recent trade information or price quotations) to provide a price. Similarly, some annuity and insurance market values provided by outside sources are estimates. If we cannot obtain a price, "N/A" appears. In some cases, we obtain prices from the issuers or sponsors of investment products in your Account when prices are not otherwise readily available. This frequently occurs with respect to the valuation of complex investment products, such as hedge funds, funds of hedge funds, private equity funds, funds of private equity funds, non-traded REITs and community bank stocks. Under adverse market conditions, liquidity and valuations for securities may be significantly impacted. Prices shown on your statement may reflect market values that differ from values that could be obtained from other sources. There is no assurance that you could obtain the prices shown on your statement in an actual sale of the investment. For current price quotes, please contact your Financial Advisor.

Ratings

Reproduction of any information, data or material, including ratings ("Content") in any form is prohibited except with the prior written permission of the relevant party. Such parties, its affiliates and suppliers ("Content Providers") do not guarantee the accuracy, adequacy, completeness, timeliness or availability of any Content. A reference to a particular investment or security, a rating or any observation concerning an investment that is part of the Content is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold such investment or security does not address the suitability an investment or security and should not be relied on as investment advice. Credit ratings are statements of opinions and are not statements of fact.

Cost Basis Information

Information provided with respect to cost basis is derived from transactions in your account or information supplied by you or your agent, if applicable. Although Baird maintains cost basis for each trade processed through us, your statement may display the net cost of your current holdings. There is no guarantee as to the completeness of cost basis information or the gain and loss information provided on this statement. Certain transactions may have complex tax consequences that may require adjustments to the cost basis of assets acquired and/or sold. These transactions include reorganization activity (mergers, spin-offs, etc.), wash sales and post year-end cost basis adjustments. When reporting your cost basis information, please see the tax information below. Cost basis associated with covered securities in taxable (reportable) accounts will be reported to the IRS in the year of sale.

Tax Information

Tax information is reported based on data available to us at the time your statement is created. Taxable dividends are segregated into qualified and non-qualified income. In order to take advantage of the reduced rate, you must determine if you meet the QDI holding period requirement for each payment. Certain post-year-end adjustments may subsequently change the tax information presented on your statement. Distributions paid by mutual funds, closed-end funds, real estate investment trusts and unit investment trusts may be reflected as non-qualified income and subsequently changed after year-end based on the issuer's tax reclassification information. When reporting your tax information, please rely exclusively on substitute Form 1099-B that you will receive from us for your taxable (reportable) accounts. For retirement accounts, the cost basis information and tax information sections are provided for informational purposes only. Form 1099-B will report distributions from your retirement account.

Assets Not Held at Baird

In certain instances, we may include on your statement information about assets "not held" by Baird identified by a pound sign (#) on your statement. Baird does not maintain custody or control of such assets which may be held by you or a third-party custodian. Any information reflected on your statement about assets "not held" at Baird may be provided by you, your third-party custodian or other agent. Baird does not guarantee the accuracy of any information provided on this statement with respect to assets "not held" at Baird, including but not limited to the quantity, value or cost basis of any such assets reflected on your statement. If such assets are held with another custodian, your third-party custodian is responsible for providing you year-end tax reporting information (Form 1099) and separate periodic statements for such assets. Information provided by the third-party custodian may vary from the information included on your Baird statement for certain reasons, such as different reporting periods and valuation sources.

Physical and Lost Certificates

Transactions involving physical certificates are processed by Baird on a best efforts basis and may be subject to separate processing fees. Baird will not be liable for any damage, loss, cost or expense, including lost profits, that you may incur arising directly or indirectly from circumstances beyond Baird's reasonable control including, without limitation, actions or failures to act of third parties unaffiliated with Baird. If your statement indicates that securities were delivered out of your account and you have not received them in physical form, please notify Baird immediately in writing. If written notification is received within 120 calendar days of the mailing of the statement to you, replacement will be made free of charge. Thereafter, a fee for replacement may apply.

Transaction Dates

All securities transactions are reflected on a trade date basis.

Free Credit Balances

Any free credit balances in any account will be paid to you on demand, in the normal course of business, along with any fully paid securities to which you are entitled, and any securities purchased on margin upon the full payment of any indebtedness to Baird. Free credit balances are not segregated and may be used in our business, subject to limitations imposed by applicable regulation.

Margin Accounts and Margin Account Interest Charges

If you have applied for margin privileges and have been approved by us, this statement is a combined statement of your securities account and a special miscellaneous (or margin) account maintained for you under Regulation T issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. The permanent record of the separate miscellaneous account required by Regulation T is available for your inspection upon request. Securities held in a margin account are identified by the letter "M" on your statement. Distributions made from securities loaned to a third party over a dividend record date may be reported on substitute Form 1099-MISC as substitute payments and will be taxed at ordinary income tax rates. The margin interest period includes the second last business day of the prior statement period through the third business day prior to the last day of the current statement period. The margin interest charge is computed by multiplying the rate of interest by the average net daily settled debit balance and a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days the debit balance existed, and the denominator of which is three hundred sixty (360). The rate of interest is determined by the cost of borrowing money and other factors and is subject to change without notice. The average net daily settled debit balance includes any settled credit and settled debit balances in your cash and margin accounts during the period.

Schedule of Fees and Service Charges

Please see www.rwbaird.com or contact your Financial Advisor for a schedule of fees and service charges which may pertain to your account.

Cash Sweep Program

Baird offers a Cash Sweep Program in which uninvested cash in a client's account is automatically swept or deposited into one or more FDIC-insured, interest-bearing deposit accounts at one or more banks up to $1,250,000 (or $2,500,000 for joint accounts) in aggregate, with excess cash automatically invested in a Dreyfus money market fund. A third-party administrator assists in the administration of the program. Baird receives compensation for the services it provides in connection with the Cash Sweep Program. Such compensation consists of a monthly per account fee that applies to IRA advisory accounts, which is generally paid out of the total interest that the banks agree to pay on the aggregate client deposits (the "bank all-in interest") and therefore does not appear on client account statements; and a fee applicable to all other accounts that is equal to the amount remaining after deducting the interest paid to clients on their cash and the administrator's fee from the bank all-in interest. Such compensation, which may be up to 2% per annum of aggregate client cash balances, presents a conflict of interest in that it gives Baird a financial incentive to have clients participate in the Cash Sweep Program and to maintain cash balances in the Cash Sweep Program. Clients with investment advisory accounts will pay both the asset-based fee on all of the assets in those accounts, including cash, which means that Baird receives both the asset-based advisory fee and compensation under the Cash Sweep Program on cash balances. Advisory account clients may choose to maintain their cash balances in a brokerage account in which there is not an asset-based fee. Money market mutual funds and other cash equivalent investments may be purchased outside the Cash Sweep Program. The banks participating in the Cash Sweep Program, the bank priority lists that apply to the cash balances in clients' accounts and the interest rates that are paid on those cash balances may change from time to time following notice provided on Baird's website for the Cash Sweep Program at www.rwbaird.com/cashtweeps. For more information about the Cash Sweep Program, the participating banks, bank priority lists, and current interest rates or yields, see www.rwbaird.com/cashtweeps.

Estimated Annual Income and Yields

Estimated annual income and yields are calculated by annualizing recent distributions, which may not reflect historical experience and is not a prediction or guarantee of future results. The actual income and/or yield may be lower or higher than the estimated amounts. The estimated yield only reflects the income generated by an investment and may change based on price fluctuations and other factors. Certain types of securities could generate returns of principal or capital gains, which would cause the estimated annual income and yield amounts to be overstated.

Option Transactions

Option transactions are subject to the following: 1) Commissions and other charges related to the execution of option transactions have been included in confirmations of such transactions previously furnished to you, and will be made available promptly upon request; 2) You should advise us promptly of any material changes in your investment objective or financial situation; and 3) Assignment notices for option contracts are allocated among customer short positions pursuant to an automated procedure which randomly selects from among all customer short option positions those contracts which are subject to assignment, including positions established on the day of assignment. Additional information pertaining to the procedures used for automated random selection is available upon request.

Services Offered, Client Relationship Booklet and Other Helpful Information for Retail Investors

We offer to clients both brokerage services and investment advisory programs and services. Depending upon a client's particular needs and goals, a client may have brokerage accounts, advisory accounts or both. You should understand that there are important differences between brokerage accounts and advisory accounts. Brokerage accounts and advisory accounts are governed by different laws and regulations and also different terms and conditions in a client's agreements with Baird. Those accounts also have different services, features, costs, and methods for compensating us. Information about the services, characteristics, costs, fees and expenses, and conflicts of interest associated with brokerage and investment advisory accounts is available through your Financial Advisor and in Baird's Client Relationship Summary and Client Relationship Booklet, which you have received, current versions of which are available at www.bairdwealth.com/retailinvestor. Other useful information is provided at www.bairdwealth.com/retailinvestor to assist clients in considering the type of accounts and investments that are appropriate for them. It is important that you fully understand the characteristics of the accounts and services provided to you by your Financial Advisor and the account options available when investing through Baird. Actual fees charged to your account for the services provided are detailed in your client statements. Commissions charged on brokerage accounts are disclosed as required on your transaction confirmations. Please consult with your Financial Advisor in the event you have any questions regarding charges to your account, the services provided or account options available. Additional information is also available on our website at www.bairdwealth.com/retailinvestor.

Embedded Commissions Paid to Third Party Brokers

If the account incurred an embedded commission that was paid to a third party broker, please refer to the document "Important Information about Investment Managers' Placement of Client Trade Orders and Their 'Trade Away' Practices" available at www.bairdwealth.com/retailinvestor.

SIPC Protection

Baird is a member of the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). SIPC protects securities customers of its members up to $500,000 for cash and securities held in your Baird account for which you act in a separate capacity. Up to $250,000 of that coverage may be applied toward uninvested cash. For more specific information about the limitations of coverage, please see www.sipc.org or visit rwbaird.com. Baird also provides coverage in excess of SIPC limits through an insurance policy through Lloyd's of London, with an aggregate coverage limit of $250 million for all eligible Baird claims. The policy has a sublimit of $1.9 million per customer for cash awaiting reinvestment. Please see rwbaird.com or contact your Financial Advisor for details.

Errors and Inquiries

It is important that you review your statement carefully and notify the Branch Manager of the office servicing your account immediately in the event you suspect an error. We will consider your statement correct unless we receive a written inquiry from you within 10 calendar days of the mailing of the statement to you. Any oral communications you have with Baird regarding possible errors in your statement should be reconfirmed in writing to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act. All correspondence regarding your statement should include: (1) your name and account number; (2) the date and a complete description of each entry in question and why you feel that the entry may be in error; and (3) detail regarding any oral communication you have had with Baird regarding the statement prior to the mailing of your written correspondence.

Where to Find Additional Information

Additional important information regarding the disclosures above, the products and services available to you, applicable fees and charges and the terms and conditions applicable to your Baird accounts is contained in your Client Relationship Agreement and related disclosure documents. If you have an investment advisory account, additional important information is contained in Baird's Form ADV Part 2A Brochure. The disclosures in this document are only a summary of important information applicable to you and those disclosures are qualified in their entirety by the more complete disclosures contained in the documents referenced above. You should have already received copies of those documents. You are urged to review those documents for more complete information. A copy of those documents are also available by contacting your Financial Advisor.

A Consolidated Statement of Financial Condition of Robert W. Baird & Co. Incorporated is available at our Web site, www.rwbaird.com. A copy will also be mailed to you upon request.
