Why garlic and other allium vegetables?

- Allium vegetables (garlic, onion, chives, leek, etc.) have been used worldwide for thousands of years as foods, spices and folk medicines.
- Scientific studies show that Allium vegetables are enormously beneficial to our well-being.

Why NeoLife's Garlic Allium Complex?

- Broad-spectrum whole-food supplementation. Garlic Allium Complex features extracts and concentrates from a variety of Allium vegetables - garlic, onion, chive and leek - linked in numerous research studies to optimal well-being and assures your daily intake of diverse, beneficial nutrients from the Allium "family".
- Unique process to protect enzymes. The enzyme allinase is required for the formation of allicin, the critical sulphur compound responsible for many of garlic's benefits. NeoLife's special technology protects allinase from destruction by stomach acid.
- Guaranteed allicin content. Two tablets provide 4,200 micrograms of active allicin from high-yield garlic extracts. Research studies show that this amount - equivalent to that found in one clove of fresh garlic - is effective in promoting well-being.
- Nutrient family approach. Includes not only allicin, but also other bioactive compounds (for example, oil-soluble substances from fresh garlic and onion), which are in Allium vegetables and work together in different ways to benefit overall well-being.

- Targeted Delivery Technology. Enteric coating maximises the product's stability and absorption and assures the formation of active allicin in the intestines. As a result, Garlic Allium Complex does not cause repeating or garlic breath!
- Contains rosemary, a potent, antioxidant herb which helps protect the tablet contents.
- Convenient. Provides an easy way to reap the benefits of Allium vegetables without having to eat a fresh clove of raw garlic every day.
