Foreword

The Corrections Program Office, Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice compiled the information contained in this guide in 2001, and has requested that NIC post it on its Web site. The Tribal Resource Guide offers a brief synopsis of program objectives, applicant eligibility, eligible beneficiaries, the types of assistance available, and contact information for each resource. While much effort and research went into trying to make this guide as accurate and current as possible, it does not guarantee the availability of funds, nor does it guarantee that a grant’s criteria and direction will remain the same.

The intent of this guide is to provide the reader with the current options being offered by various federal agencies. Please use this guide with the understanding that deadlines for application may have already passed. To ensure the availability of a resource listed in this guide, please use the contact information provided to contact the awarding federal office directly. The information provided here should serve as a guide when researching past, present, and future options.

As part of the mission of the National Institute of Corrections (NIC), to provide information and services to its customers, we are pleased to be able to offer the Tribal Resource Guide on our Web site. NIC welcomes any suggestions you may have regarding the content and style of this publication. Please feel free to complete the Feedback Form located at the end of the guide regarding this publication and suggestions on how NIC can serve you better.

Commodity Supplemental Food Program

Program Objective: To improve the health of low-income pregnant and breast feeding women, other new mothers up to one year post-partum, infants, children up to age six, and elderly people at least 60 years of age by supplementing their diets with nutritious USDA commodity foods. To provide food and administrative funds to states to supplement the diets of these groups.

Eligible Applicants: Agreements are made between the Department and the state agency, or an Indian Tribe, band, or group recognized by the Department of the Interior for the administration of the program.

Eligible Beneficiaries: To be certified as eligible to receive supplemental foods, each applicant must be: (a) Categorically eligible as an infant, child up to age 6, pregnant, postpartum or breast feeding woman, or elderly person 60 years of age or older, residing in an area where the program operates; (b) Women, infants, and children, income eligible under existing Federal, State, or local food, health, or welfare programs for low-income persons; elderly must have an annual income at or below 130 percent of Federal poverty income guidelines; and (c) At state agency discretion, at nutritional risk as determined by a competent health professional at the local agency.

Type of Assistance: Formula Grants; Sale, Exchange, or Donation of Property and Goods.

Food Distribution Program On Indian Reservations

Program Objective: To improve the diets of needy persons in households on or near Indian reservations through the distribution of commodities.

Eligible Applicants: (a) Authorized Indian Tribal Organizations and state agencies designated by the governor, legislature, or other authority may receive and distribute donated foods. (Indian Tribal organizations may be their own state agency for the administration of the program on reservations if determined capable by FNS); (b) State agencies that administer the program are eligible to receive federal cash assistance (administrative funds) to assist in meeting operating expenses incurred in administering the program.

Eligible Beneficiaries: Households must be (a) living on an Indian reservation; or (b) be Indian households living in a designated area near an Indian reservation or in Indian country for Oklahoma and must be certified by local authorities as having inadequate income and resources. Upper limits of allowable income vary with family size. Household resources for all household sizes are set by FNS.

Type of Assistance: Project Grants; Sale, Exchange, or Donation of Property and Goods.
Environmental Quality Incentives Program

Program Objective: To provide technical, educational, and financial assistance to eligible farmers and ranchers in order to address soil, water, and related natural resource concerns on their lands in an environmentally beneficial and cost-effective manner. This program provides assistance to farmers and ranchers in complying with federal, state, and tribal environmental laws, and encourages environmental enhancement. The purpose of this program is achieved through the implementation of structural, vegetative, and land management practices on eligible land. This program is funded through the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC). NRCS provides overall program management and implementation leadership for conservation planning and implementation. The Farm Service Agency provides leadership for administrative processes and procedures for the program.

Eligible Applicants: (a) Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; (b) Individual/Family.

Eligible Beneficiaries: (a) Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments; (b) Individual/Family.

Type of Assistance: Direct Payments for Specified Use.

Type of Assistance: Project Grants (Cooperative Agreements).
Community Economic Adjustment Planning Assistance for Community Base Reuse Plans

Program Objective: To assist local governments or states, on behalf of local governments, to conduct community base reuse plans at closing or realigning military installations.

Eligible Applicants: An applicant may be eligible for DoD funding if the Secretary of Defense announced in 1988, 1992, 1993 or will announce in 1995 that the local military installation is a candidate for closure or realignment or that a final decision has been made that the installation will be closed or realigned; and that a community reuse plan is required for the DoD Environmental Impact Statement or Environmental Assessment. State or local governments, regional organizations composed of state and local organizations, and Federally Recognized Indian Tribes located within the 50 States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and Guam are eligible if the above criteria are met.

Eligible Beneficiaries: (a) Local governments; (b) States, on behalf of local governments, regional organizations composed of State and local governments; (c) Federally Recognized Indian Tribes that represent the impacted area.

Type of Assistance: Project Grants.

Growth Management Planning Assistance

Program Objective: To assist local government or states, on behalf of local governments, to undertake community economic adjustment planning activities to respond to military base opening or expansions.

Eligible Applicants: An applicant may be eligible for DoD funding if: (a) the establishment or expansion of a local military installation involves the assignment of more than 2,000 military, civilian, and DoD contractor personnel to a new or expanded installation; or the assignment of more military, civilian, and contractor DoD personnel that is equal to 10 percent of employment in counties or independent municipalities within 15 miles of the installation, whichever is the lesser; (b) the new or expanded installation will result in a direct and significantly adverse consequence on the affected community; and (c) other special impact assistance is not available. State or local organizations and Federally Recognized Indian Tribes located within the 50 States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and Guam are eligible if the above criteria are met.

Eligible Beneficiaries: (a) States, on behalf of local governments; (b) Regional organizations composed of state and local governments; (c) Federally Recognized Indian Tribes that represent the impacted area.

Type of Assistance: Project Grants.

Community Economic Adjustment Planning Assistance for Joint Land Use Studies*

Program Objective: To enable the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps to participate in the development and implementation of "Joint Land Use Studies." The studies will be used to identify land use measures needed to ensure that further public and private development around a military installation is compatible with both the mission of the military installation and the plans of the jurisdiction(s) responsible for the land surrounding the installation. The grantee(s) or participating government(s) are expected to adopt and implement the study recommendations.

Eligible Applicants: An applicant may be eligible for DoD funding for Joint Land Use Studies if the Secretary of Defense determines that encroachment of the civilian community on a military installation is likely to impair the continued operation utility of the military installation. Planning activities considered eligible for study are (a) the impacts of community development on the installation; and (b) the impacts of planned changes in the activities of the installation on the surrounding community(ies). Joint Land Use Studies will be initiated by DoD and accomplished by the grantee in cooperation with the appropriate Military Department. Information such as installation master plans, noise contours and accident potential zones, which may be necessary for the development of the Joint Land Use Study, normally will be available from the Military Department.

Eligible Beneficiaries: (a) State and local governments; (b) Regional organizations composed of state and local governments; (c) Federally Recognized Indian Tribes.

Type of Assistance: Project Grants.
Community Economic Adjustment Planning Assistance

Program Objective: To assist local governments or states, on behalf of local governments, to undertake community economic adjustment planning activities to respond to military base closures and re-alignments.

Grants to Encourage Arrest Policies

Program Objective: To implement mandatory arrest or pro-arrest programs and policies in police departments, including mandatory arrest programs and policies for protection order violations; as part of a coordinated community response to domestic violence to develop policies and training in police departments to improve tracking of cases involving domestic violence; to centralize and coordinate police enforcement in groups or units of police officers, prosecutors or judges; to coordinate computer tracking systems to ensure communication between police, prosecutors, and both criminal and family courts; to strengthen legal advocacy service programs for victims of domestic violence; and to educate judges in criminal and other courts about domestic violence and to improve judicial handling of such cases.

Eligible Applicants: Eligible grantees are states, Indian tribal governments, or units of local governments that (1) certify that their laws or official policies encourage or mandate arrests of domestic violence offenders based on probable cause that an offense has been committed, and encourage or mandate arrest of domestic violence offenders who violate the terms of a valid and outstanding protection order; (2) demonstrate that their laws, policies, or practices and their training programs discourage dual arrest of the offender and the victim; (3) certify that their laws, policies, or practices prohibit issuance of mutual restraining orders of protection except in cases where both spouses file a claim and the court makes detailed findings of fact indicating that both spouses acted primarily as aggressors and that neither spouse acted primarily in self-defense; and (4) certify that their laws, policies, or practices do not require, in connection with the prosecution of any misdemeanor or felony domestic violence offense, that the abused bear the costs associated with the filing of criminal charges or the service of such charges on an abuser, or that the abused bear the costs associated with the issuance or service of a warrant, protection order, or witness subpoena.

Eligible Beneficiaries: Beneficiaries include criminal and tribal justice practitioners and service providers who respond to victims of violent crimes committed against women in rural jurisdictions and Indian country, and rural and tribal communities in general.

Type of Assistance: Project Grants.
Rural Domestic Violence and Child Victimization Enforcement Grant Program

Program Objective: To implement, expand, and establish cooperative efforts and projects between law enforcement officers, prosecutors, victim advocacy groups, and other related parties to investigate and prosecute incidents of domestic violence and child abuse; provide advocacy and counseling to victims of domestic violence and child victimization; and work in cooperation with the community to develop education and prevention strategies directed toward such issues.

Eligible Applicants: State agencies in rural states may apply for assistance for statewide projects. Local units of government in rural states and public and private entities in rural states also may apply directly for assistance. Only state agencies in non-rural states may apply for funding assistance. These agencies may apply on behalf of one or more of their rural jurisdictions. Rural and/or non-rural States also may submit joint applications for projects that would be implemented in more than one state. Indian tribal governments may make individual applications or apply as a consortium. A tribal government also may apply for assistance on behalf of a non-tribal government organization. Only grantees who received a fiscal year 1998 Rural Domestic Violence and Child Victimization Enforcement grant will receive funding.

Eligible Beneficiaries: Beneficiaries include criminal and tribal justice practitioners and service providers who respond to victims of violent crimes committed against women in rural jurisdictions and Indian country, and rural and tribal communities in general.

Type of Assistance: Project Grants.

Type of Assistance: Project Grants.
Appendix A

Indian Tribal Entities Within the Contiguous 48 States
Recognized and Eligible to Receive Services From the United States Bureau of Indian Affairs

The listed entities are acknowledged to have the immunities and privileges available to other federally acknowledged Indian Tribes by virtue of their government-to-government relationship with the United States as well as the responsibilities, powers, limitations, and obligations of such tribes. We have continued the practice of listing the Alaskan Native entities separately solely for the purpose of facilitating identification of them and reference to them given the large number of complex Native names.¹

Therapeutic Communities of America
202-296-3503
Therapeutic Communities of America is a national professional association which regularly address the needs of hard core substance abusers, those with long drug-using histories and criminal backgrounds, who lack education, vocational skills, and family support networks. Therapeutic Communities of America has grown from its residential program base and now includes outpatient services, day treatment, crisis intervention, family therapy, case management, education, prevention, and relapse prevention.
This Tribal Resource Guide offers a brief synopsis of program objectives, applicant eligibility, eligible beneficiaries, and the types of assistance available coupled with contact information for each resource. Resources are grouped by U.S. Department and then by individual office’s offerings. Types of assistance vary from agency to agency. The following list of definitions is taken from the General Services Administration’s definitions of each type of assistance offered in this guide.

The Guide makes a distinction between those who are eligible to apply and those who are eligible beneficiaries from the offered resource. Resources that do not explicitly cite Federally Recognized Tribal Governments American Indian or Alaskan Native as an eligible applicant, but cites these tribal categories as eligible beneficiaries are distinguished by *.

(A) Formula Grants:
Allocations of money to states or their subdivisions in accordance with distribution formulas prescribed by law or administrative regulation, for activities of a continuing nature not confined to a specific project.

(B) Project Grants:
The funding, for fixed or known periods, of specific projects. Project grants can include fellowships, scholarships, research grants, training grants, traineeships, experimental and demonstration grants, evaluation grants, planning grants, technical assistance grants, survey grants, and construction grants.

(C) Direct Payments for Specified Use:
Financial assistance from the federal government provided directly to individuals, private firms, and other private institutions does encourage or subsidize a particular activity by conditioning the receipt of the assistance on a particular performance by the recipient. This does not include solicited contracts for the procurement of goods and services for the Federal government.

(D) Direct Loans:
Financial assistance provided through the lending of Federal monies for a specific period of time, with a reasonable expectation of repayment. Such loans may or may not require the payment of interest.

(E) Guaranteed/Insured Loans:
Programs in which the Federal government makes an arrangement to identify a lender against part or all of any defaults by those responsible for repayment of loans.

(F) Sale, Exchange, or Donation of Property and Goods:
Programs which provide for the sale, exchange, or donation of Federal real property, personal property, commodities, and other goods including land, buildings, equipment, food and drugs. This does not include the loan of, use of, or access to Federal facilities or property.
(G) Use of Property, Facilities, and Equipment:
Programs which provide for the loan of, use of, or access to Federal facilities or property wherein the federally owned facilities or property do not remain in the possession of the recipient of the assistance.

(H) Provision of Specialized Services:
Programs which provide Federal personnel directly to perform certain tasks for the benefit of communities or individuals. These services may be performed in conjunction with nonfederal personnel, but they involve more than consultation, advice, or counseling.

(I) Advisory Services and Counseling:
Programs which provide Federal specialists to consult, advise, or counsel communities or individuals to include conferences, workshops, or personal contacts. This may involve the use of published information, but only in a secondary capacity.

(J) Dissemination of Technical Information:
Programs which provide for the publication and distribution of information or data of a specialized or technical nature frequently through clearinghouses or libraries. This does not include conventional public information services designed for general public consumption.

(K) Training:
Programs which provide instructional activities conducted directly by a Federal agency for individuals not employed by the Federal government.

(L) Investigation of Complaints:
Federal administrative agency activities that are initiated in response to requests, either formal or informal, to examine or investigate claims of violations of Federal statutes, policies, or procedure. The origination of such claims must come from outside the Federal government.
