AS I SEE IT
by N. L. Preston

Wrong Way Preston

I'm directionally dysfunctional. I need someone to hold my hand and whisper, "Turn left, dummy." -Yours Truly

Bet your bottom dollar you didn't know that July was originally called Quintilis. Consider April, May, June, and Quintilis. Nope, doesn't have a ring to it. It was renamed July by the Romans to honor their ruler, Julius Caesar, who died in 46 B.C. Fast-forward to July 2026, when our nation will celebrate its semiquincentennial; that's a mouthful if ever there was one. The term refers to the upcoming 250th anniversary of the signing of America's Declaration of Independence which occurred on July 4, 1776. A nonpartisan commission to plan for this summer's momentous event was formed ten years ago and we will see the results of their ideas this summer with various celebrations across America.

What else is going on this month, you ask? July 15 is National Give Something Away Day and this would be a good day to organize, toss, purge, and generally start getting rid of clutter that we all accumulate over days, months, and years. I did that big time when we moved from a 3-story home to a 2-bedroom condo, then again, when I moved to a different condo in October last year. Each time I sorted through boxes and bins that I had been keeping for who knows why and started donating items to family, friends, and charity. Some I just dropped anonymously on various porches with a note, early Merry Christmas. Nah, just kidding. The good news is I have short term memory loss and don't remember anything I donated, so I don't mourn the loss of that which I don't remember was once mine. Guess this is one of the few perks of being older that dirt.

As an extension of that, I've always had a poor sense of direction, but now it's practically nonexistent. I get on the wrong floor and knock on stranger's doors in hotels; I miss my driveway and circle aimlessly before finding the condo in which I now live; I lose my car in parking lots and have to use my key fob to activate the car horn and locate my vehicle. It's a good thing I haven't lost my sense of humor because Robert says I could get lost in a bucket and couldn't find my behind if I felt with both hands. My friends lovingly call me Wrong Way Preston; a reference to Wrong Way Corrigan who we celebrate on July 17, the date that made him famous. His flight plans called for piloting his plane from New York to California, but instead he ended up crossing the Atlantic and landing in Ireland. He's definitely my hero!

I don't know what caused his misdirection, but I've always thought my inability to orient myself location-wise began as a kid after I threw a big rock up in the air and watched it crash down on top of my head; just one of the dumb ass things I did when I should have known better. Until next month, may lady Luck blow you kisses as you dance out the door with dollars. Win big, and don't forget that Sunday, July 26, is National Parents Day. Spend some time with them, treat them to dinner, and a fun evening of bingo. It's cheap payback for the time they spent raising you.

Ditch the Store-Bought Mixes: Homemade Alternatives for Healthier, Tastier Meals

If you take a close look at the ingredients in most store-bought ranch mixes and onion soup packets, you'll see the pattern: They're built for shelf-life, not for your health. Fillers, preservatives, flavor enhancers and surprisingly high amounts of sodium do the heavy lifting. Then we mix them with mayonnaise or dairy and eat it for dinner. We can do better than this.

The good news? You don't have to give up those familiar flavors. Making your own blends at home is simple, inexpensive and puts you back in charge of what goes into your food (and your body!).

Ranch seasoning has a way of sneaking into just about everything, from popcorn and mashed potatoes to roasted vegetables, dressings and dips.

This homemade version lets you use ranch seasoning exactly the same way, sprinkled, stirred or whisked. Only now, you're in charge of every ingredient. It's the same versatility, just cleaner, fresher and entirely yours.

Homemade Ranch Dressing Mix

Yield: 14 tablespoons

Total Time: 5 mins.

- 1/2 cup buttermilk powder
- 1 tablespoon onion powder
- 1 tablespoon garlic powder
- 1 tablespoon dried parsley
- 1 tablespoon dried dill weed
- 1 tablespoon dried chives
- 1 teaspoon sea salt, optional
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar, optional

Whisk all ingredients together until well combined. Transfer to an airtight container and store in a cool, dry place for up to 6 months.

To Use:

- * Substitute 3 tablespoons mix for 1 store-bought packet.
- * Dressing: Mix 3 tablespoons with 1/2 cup sour cream, 1/2 cup mayonnaise and 3/4-1 cup milk (adjust for desired thickness).
- * Dip: Mix 3 tablespoons with 1 cup sour cream.
- * Add a squeeze of lemon juice to dips and dressing for extra zing.

If ranch is the life of the party, then onion soup mix is the steady, dependable friend who makes everything better behind the scenes.

Onion soup mix is one of those kitchen staples that shows up everywhere. It's the backbone of classic comfort dishes: pot roast, gravy, slow cooker meals and casseroles. It delivers deep, savory flavor with almost no effort, which is why it's been a pantry staple for decades.

Making your own keeps that same savory depth but lets you dial in the flavor without excess salt or mystery ingredients. Same results, just a little smarter.

Homemade Onion Soup Mix

Yield: 1 cup + 2 tablespoons

Total Time: 5 minutes

- 3/4 cup onion flakes
- 1/4 cup powdered beef bouillon or vegetable bouillon
- 1 tablespoon granulated onion
- 1 teaspoon celery seed
- 1 teaspoon granulated garlic
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon salt, optional
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar, optional

Before You Mix:

Check your beef or vegetable bouillon.

If salt or sugar is listed as one of the first ingredients, do not add any additional salt or sugar to this recipe. If not, add as directed.

Combine all ingredients in a jar and store in a cool, dry pantry.

To Use:

- * Use 1/4 cup (4 T) in place of 1 packet of onion soup mix.
- * This recipe yields about 4 1/2 packets worth.

Notes:

- * For soup, use homemade stock or broth instead of bouillon to control sodium.
- * For a vegetarian version, use vegetable bouillon.

Horoscopes for July 2026

ARIES (MAR 21-APR 20): Rallying your usual get-up-and-go might be difficult this month. If doubts have taken root, you need to do some proactive weeding, and push yourself now because no one else is going to do it for you.

Lucky Days: 14 - 20

Lucky Numbers: 10 - 38

TAURUS (APR 21-MAY 21): The new Moon on the 14th allows you to slip out of a complex predicament at home, but only if you let go of control. Clinging to what has extended past its 'sell-by date' will only complicate things for you later this year.

Lucky Days: 2 - 9

Lucky Numbers: 45 - 57

GEMINI (MAY 22-JUN 21): Avoid sticking your foot in your mouth by doing the proverbial "count to ten" before offering your opinion. You're feeling particularly energized this month, but skillful means are required when you're negotiating for what you want.

Lucky Days: 8 - 17

Lucky Numbers: 9 - 22

CANCER (JUN 22-JUL 22): The new Moon on the 14th finds you studying up on some of your favorite topics and pastimes. You're feeling sentimental this month. Move forward by reaching out to the folks you're feeling nostalgic about; they'd love to hear from you.

Lucky Days: 8 - 20

Lucky Numbers: 13 - 53

LEO (JUL 23-AUG 23): You have a reputation for being regal and downright queenly. But you're not pretentious. The finer things in life are a sign of quality, not showboating. With Jupiter in your sign now, you're able to celebrate this part of your nature freely. Hold your head up.

Lucky Days: 6 - 14

Lucky Numbers: 33 - 35

VIRGO (AUG 24-SEP 23): Venus in your sign now brings out a more experimental part of your romantic nature. As regulated as you can be about your love life, you long for someone to surprise you with their spontaneity. Partnered or not, give in to the urge to try something risky for the fun of it.

Lucky Days: 6 - 16

Lucky Numbers: 55 - 56

LIBRA (SEP 24-OCT 23): The universe requires you ground yourself now and start changing some of your wonderful ideas into realities. To accomplish this, you'll need to stop second-guessing yourself and take a stand on what's most important in your life.

Lucky Days: 9 - 10

Lucky Numbers: 33 - 58

SCORPIO (OCT 24-NOV 22): The new Moon on the 14th brings you some sweet relief in the form of support from others. If the going's been rough lately, it might be because you're trying to do too much on your own. Accept the generous gestures from others now.

Lucky Days: 17 - 21

Lucky Numbers: 19 - 43

SAGITTARIUS (NOV 23-DEC 21): You prefer thinking big and making big gestures, especially when it comes to showing others the grand sides of your nature. But this month requires that you tone things down and pay attention to small details and the fine print.

Lucky Days: 4 - 25

Lucky Numbers: 5 - 35

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20): You can take your mind off your problems by helping people in your circle who may need assistance. Consider these words of wisdom from Muhammad Ali: "Service to others is the rent you pay for your room here on Earth."

Lucky Days: 11 - 25

Lucky Numbers: 7 - 42

AQUARIUS (JAN 21-FEB 19): The new Moon on the 14th delivers a much-needed solution to a financial pinch you're struggling with. But this requires that you fire up your futuristic imagination and think way outside the box for your solution. Old solutions won't work now.

Lucky Days: 19 - 26

Lucky Numbers: 44 - 54

PISCES (FEB 20-MAR 20): Do you ever feel like you're the star in a movie that involves your family and close circle of friends? Don't laugh. When you hit the right groove, you're able to display levels of showmanship that are both entertaining and educational. Take a bow!

Lucky Days: 3 - 7

* Historic Bingo Tourism: SoIN Tourism launched a new interactive digital bingo card titled "Historic SoIN: Red, White and Billie." The program acts as a tourism passport, giving prizes like retro lunchboxes to participants who visit local historic spots to celebrate America's 250th birthday.

Participants travel across Clark and Floyd counties in Southern Indiana, checking in at historic locations to complete bingo and earn prizes

* Summer Book Bingo Kicks Off: The 12th annual Summer Book Bingo partnership has launched between Seattle Arts & Lectures and regional library systems. Summer Book Bingo is a free, county-wide reading challenge running through September 8, 2026. Cards can be downloaded and printed or picked up at local libraries.
* Wyoming Bar Gaming Shutdown: The Wyoming Gaming Commission

launched a massive crackdown targeting bar-hosted community games, such as "Music Bingo" and "Queen of Hearts" raffles. Regulators declared these events illegal gambling, sparking heavy pushback from local organizers who note the games have raised over $4.5 million for area charities.

* Washington Senior Center Adjustments: Under the newly enacted Washington State SB 5565, senior living centers and senior housing organizations can now host bingo games once per week

BINGO JOHN

Lady of the Lake

(Last month we left Bingo John with a gold daub on his forehead placed by the Holy Bingo Preacher, Orchard Reece, making him an official Bingo disciple.)

I never expected to see what I saw, and I don't know if it was a delusional vision or a real bona-fide gift from the man on high. But being summer and the season of heated visions, it might be anything. It all started after we left the Bingo hall in Dothan, Alabama. After three or four hours we turned down a dirt road that led into a thick forest. The road was rough with potholes and mud pits then all of a sudden it got smooth like a powerful hand caressed the surface. When we stopped the Preacher said, "This is home. This is the place where it all started."

"I thought that cabin in the woods...?" I started to ask, but Reece interrupted.

"I have a home wherever I go. He always provides."

"Who provides," I asked, inquisitively. He raised his hand to silence me.

"Yours is not to question. A disciple's way is to follow."

After the dust settled, he opened the door of the bus and stepped into the humid night air. When I got out, I could see a deserted Bingo hall covered in a wall of kudzu. A neon "PLAY BINGO" sign flickered on and off. In the trees thousands of lightening bugs lit up, on and off, like flickering candles in time with the Bingo sign. We went up to the door, and it creaked open. From the darkness came a low groan. The Preacher did not notice and went in. I hung back for a minute as all hairs rose on my scalp like a scared cat.

"Come my son," said the Preacher, taking my hand. Once I was in, the door slammed behind us.

We were in a small entrance room, dimly lit by a candle. Then something furry touched my leg. Before I could run, the Preacher grabbed my arm and said, "Look, my son."

It was the main Bingo hall. The snack bar was lit up. Fresh hotdogs and cheese pizza were arranged on trays. On another table were cokes and popcorn.

"Sit down my son. It's time for dinner."

"We'll be here for a day or two to rebuild our strength. But whatever you do, DO NOT go down to the lake behind the Bingo hall," he said, downing a soda while eating a hotdog. When I asked him why, he answered by slowly chewing and staring at me with narrowed eyes. Then he raised his hand to silence my question.

After dinner, we retired to a room lined with dusty recliners arranged in a semicircle around a stack of antique Bingo cards. I stared at the cards until my eyes closed. A few hours later, I was awakened by a presence. It was as if something was in the room looking down at me from above. The Preacher was gone, and as my vision cleared, the side door slowly opened to reveal a porch, and the light of a full moon reflected off the lake with a spectral glow.

Even though I knew not to, I was drawn to the lake. As if in a dream I walked out of the Bingo hall down to the shore. The water's surface was slightly ruffled by something under water, so I got down on my hands and knees to take a closer look. It moved like a layer of thickly poured oil, but the light was too dim to make anything out. As I reached down to touch it, a voice of pure sound came from the darkness. It was an operatic soliloquy of intense beauty. My eyes peered through the night. Then like a spotlight, a moon beam illuminated a woman on the opposite shore. She appeared to be dressed in a white gown made of Bingo cards. As she sang, her body rippled with the effort. I was hypnotized. Her voice was like honey to my ears. It drew me into the water. Even though the water was freezing, I walked toward her. Under the surface I felt something press on my legs. It was warm and reminded of my mother's hand when she touched my face. I kept going deeper into the water. I wanted to be consumed by the cascading song of her voice. When I was waist deep a joy invaded my soul. I felt as if I just won all the Bingo games I ever played. It was heaven in Alabama.

"YOU FOOL!" I heard a voice screaming. It was Preacher Reece pulling me back to shore. "I told you not to go in the water. You think I was friggin' joking? The Bingo Maiden will strip your soul like kids eatin' tater tots." Then he slapped me around until I got a hold of myself.

"The Bingo Maiden is the cursed one. Where I go she follows. She lures my sweet lambs into the clutches of her arms." As I sat there taking in his words, I remembered Sarah-Mae.

"I can see by your eyes you know what I'm talking about. She waits for Bingo Disciples to fall into her arms. Beware my boy, beware."

I lay on the ground staring into the night sky. I woke up the next day to chanting coming from the Bingo hall. Then a line of people, dressed in white, came out one by one. They wore Bingo cards on their chests. The Preacher was leading the first one by the hand. When he got to the water's edge, he dipped the lady into the water.

"Blessed be you," he said. "Go safely forth to play Bingo."

Next month: Bingo John strikes out into the desert.

Non-Father's Day

We called Cliff and Rodney to ask if they would be our honorary fathers for the Father's Day celebration at Boys and Girls Club Bingo. Both were somewhat reluctant, but the lure of free Bingo for them plus dinner after won them over. It was one of those rare and beautiful spring days when we picked them up and proceeded to the newly refurbished hall.

I was surprised to note there were more men than women. Huge Father's Day posters hung on the walls and the guys seemed to be really enjoying themselves. We told Cliff and Rodney they could have anything they wanted at the buy-in and tried hard not to look dismayed when they loaded up. We had already promised they could keep all their winnings.

Next they wanted snacks and accompanied Kate to the snack bar where she paid. I wondered if we were ever that casual while spending their money. They had certainly taken us out many times. We usually paid our own way in to Bingo, but they had bought us many meals.

First, we played the warm-ups and then moved into the regular games. There were specials about every third game. Cliff was on repeatedly and I knew he would win before long. I was, however, the first to win on the "Really Big Father's Day Special." They asked me to produce my father and I got Rodney to stand explaining he was my honorary father for the day. He received a basket of men's toiletries, but I could tell he was embarrassed. "I'm only eight years older than you," he muttered.

I won $350 so I was no longer worried about the expenses of the day. Next Cliff won and produced Kate as his "daughter." He did not explain that this was an honorary title but grinned wickedly. Kate received a basket of women's toiletries, which I thought was very nice. Cliff had to split the prize three ways, so he only received $75, but we still thought it was a nice win.

At intermission the guys wanted more snacks and I told Kate: "At least they won't be hungry for a very big dinner." I was certainly wrong about that.

The second half always seems to go very quickly, but there was time enough for Kate to be a winner on the "Oh My Papa" game. She got to spin the wheel and won $1,000, which excited us all so much we could scarcely think.

We went happily on to dinner, Kate looking at her check several times. I finally noticed Rodney was very quiet and asked him if anything might be wrong. "Oh, no, nothing," he said. When he continued to be quiet, I pressed him again. "Well," he admitted, "You will have to admit that being an honorary father takes a good bit of pizzazz. I feel like I rated a special prize. You all won big bucks and all I got was a bar of soap and some after-shave." We all got a giggle out of that and I told him at least he'd smell extra fresh for his next bingo outing.

QUESTIONS

- Where did Beatle George Harrison get his idea for "While My Guitar Gently Weeps"?
- Paul Revere & the Raiders were originally known by what name?
- What was the Big Bopper's real name?
- Which artist released an album titled Highway 61 Revisited?
- Name the song that contains this lyric: "I'll try every trick in the book, With every step that you take, everywhere that you look."

ANSWERS

- While reading about the I Ching, Harrison decided to write a song based on the first words he saw upon opening a book at random. The first words he saw were "gently weeps." The song appears on the group's double white album, released in 1968.
- The Downbeats. As Raiders, the group wore Revolutionary War costumes on stage and had their first hit with "Just Like Me" in 1965.
- Jiles Perry Richardson Jr. He died in the plane crash that also killed Buddy Holly and Ritchie Valens in February 1959.
- Bob Dylan, in 1965.
- "I'm Gonna Make You Mine," by Lou Christie, in 1969. The song charted around the globe and spent 12 weeks on the Hot 100.

* A grill tip just in time for summer: When you need to cook something that needs covering (say, chicken) alongside something that does not (like hot dogs), simply invert an aluminum roaster/cake pan over the needs-covering item. You can purchase smaller size pans that can be reused.
