

Creative Financing for the Foundations Program

Here is a creative idea to help you finance The Foundations Program without having to pay the entire amount out of pocket. I'm happy to discuss this with you if you would find that helpful.

The Foundations Program requires both written and practical competency demonstrations. This will require you to have people to practice on. You will be required to practice on someone every week and submit Energy Tracking Forms. What I suggest is, you recruit 3 or 4 people that will commit to work with you every week. In exchange they will pay you a significantly reduced fee of $25 per week for treatment sessions. This is a very fair and balanced energy exchange. If they purchase a $300 gift certificate at the beginning of each quarter (before your next class) you will owe them 12 Energy Balancing sessions and you will have the money to pay your tuition. It's a win, win situation. Your Foundations Program Classes are funded, you have people to practice on, and they get weekly energy balancing that would normally cost them much more! With this sort of "practice" you will excel in the program. This is actually an ideal set up to learn the material and something I recommend anyway. This way you are not scrambling to find someone to work on every week. It also has the added benefit of helping to ease you into the business of an Energy Medicine Practice and you will have a solid clientele by the time you graduate from the Certification Program.

If you are concerned about having to declare this as income on your Income Taxes, you can have your "Practice Buddies" make their checks out to me directly. This will allow you to prolong officially starting your business until after you graduate.

A second variation on this theme is to create a GoFundMe project to fund your Tuition. Spread the word on Facebook and have all your friends share the post on their FB page and you will get some assistance. Be creative in telling your story and appeal to people's compassion and generosity. This is social media at it's best. Go to <https://www.gofundme.com> to discover the possibilities.

I want to close by saying that this is Energy Medicine, and everything is energy. When I have come to these points in the road and I want to do something that seems too expensive, it has been my experience that once I make the decision to proceed and make the commitment, the universe finds a way to support my decision. It all works out, and I get where I want to go. When I look back in retrospect, I wonder what I had worried about. We live in an infinite universe and money is just energy. Set your intention and energy will follow!
