Last updated: 30 May 2018

At Streamr, we respect your privacy and your control over your own data.

In this Privacy Policy, we explain what kind of personal data we collect from people who sign up and use the Streamr platform or participate in the Streamr marketplace or the Streamr project in other ways. We also explain why we collect such information, how we use it, how we keep it secure, and who we share it with, as well as how you can exercise your rights with regard to your personal data.

Personal data means any data that allows the identification of a person directly or indirectly. For example, combining various data may enable identifying a person even when each data separately would not allow that. Personal data can include many types of data, such as a name, location data, an online identifier, IP address or the like.

We regularly review our Privacy Policy and may change it from time to time. Please review this Privacy Policy from time to time to stay tuned with our practices. By using the Streamr platform, our website, marketplace or services, you agree to this Privacy Policy and are bound by it.

Who are we and how can you contact us?

We're Streamr Network AG, a limited company (Aktiengesellschaft) incorporated in the Canton of Zug in Switzerland (registration number CH-177.792.543). Streamr is the entity which coordinates and manages the implementation and development of the Streamr platform, Streamr marketplace and the other components of the Streamr Project. For more information about Streamr Project, please see our website at www.streamr.com.

If you have any questions about this policy or if you would like to exercise your rights to your personal data described further below, please contact us by email at privacy@streamr.com.

What personal data is being processed?

When you sign up on the Streamr platform, we will ask you for your email address, full name and your time zone.

If you want to subscribe to third party data products on the Streamr marketplace, such third party data providers may require that you enter into a legal contract with them. As part of the contracting process, they may ask you for additional personal data or request a confirmation of your identity. Any such information will be collected separately by these third parties and not by us, and we advise you to read and familiarize yourself with their privacy policies. However, such third parties may share your personal data with us in line with their privacy policies, and if they do so, we will process the data in line with this Privacy Policy.

If you publish or purchase paid products on the marketplace, we will ask for and store your cryptographic wallet address. If you provide data products in the marketplace and you are a corporate entity or other organization, we may additionally ask you to provide specific and satisfactory documentation which verifies your identity and good reputation.

In addition to the above, we may collect and process information concerning your use of the Streamr platform or your browsing behavior on our website, your IP address, and other statistical information through the use of cookies on our website or on the platform. See the section concerning “cookies” below for more information on this topic.

To the extent your personal data is processed as part of data streams provided in the Streamr marketplace, the controller of your personal data is the third party data provider and not us. In this case, we simply process the data on behalf of the controller. Therefore, in these circumstances the third party data provider’s privacy policy governs the processing of your data, and not this privacy policy. We recommend that you familiarize yourself with the contents of the data provider’s privacy policy.

How do we obtain personal data about you?

We obtain your personal data when you sign up on our Streamr platform, and also when you or a third party create, update, or purchase data products in the Streamr marketplace. Further, your personal data may be collected by analytics providers or other third party services used by our website or by the Streamr platform.

Who is collecting the personal data?

We (i.e. Streamr Network AG) are collecting the personal data described above.

We may also acquire statistical data about visits to our website from reliable third parties that have placed cookies on our site. These third parties will naturally also process the data collected by their cookies.

As explained above, third parties may separately ask you for your personal data in cases where a legal contract is required for access to their data products in the Streamr marketplace.

What is the legal basis for processing your personal data?

The processing of your personal data is necessary for the performance of the contractual relationship between Streamr and you.

We may also process your personal data based on our legitimate interests. This means that we have a legitimate interest to process your personal data for example based on our relationship with you as a user, there is a limited privacy impact on you, and you should reasonably expect your data to be used that way. Streamr has a legitimate interest, for example, to process your personal data to develop its platform and its business, based on the contractual relationship between you and Streamr. Further, we have a legitimate interest to communicate with our users about products or services that are alike to those they have already purchased from us, unless they have declined such communications.

We may also process your personal data for specific purposes based on your consent, if we have separately requested and obtained your consent.

How is the personal data protected?

Any personal data we ask from you is entered by you on secure web pages. A lock icon will appear in a web browser to indicate that a web page is secure.

Once we receive your data, we take steps to ensure that it's treated securely. The personal data is stored on servers and computers protected by user names and passwords, firewalls and asymmetric cryptography keys according to the best practice and industry standards. Passwords are stored in encrypted form.

Keep in mind that your user account on the Streamr platform can be accessed by anyone who knows your username and password. We enforce a certain standard of passwords, but it is your own responsibility to choose a password which is difficult to guess, to keep it confidential, and to change it from time to time.

Will the personal data be shared with any third parties?

We will not show, sell or rent your personal data to third parties, unless we are required to do so by law, a court order or similar judgement, or unless we obtain your prior consent.

However, we may use third party subcontractors (e.g. hosting service providers) in providing our services, in which context they may also process your personal data.

Note also that if you decide to subscribe to a third party data product, your personal data may be shared to the data producer. Correspondingly, if you offer a data product and a third party decides to subscribe to your data product, your personal data may be shared with the third party.

Transfer of your personal data outside the EU or the EEA

Countries outside the European Union ("EU") or the European Economic Area ("EEA") (all, "third countries") may not have a similar level of protection for personal data as the EU and the EEA. As part of providing services on the Streamr platform (including your participation in the Streamr marketplace), your personal data may be transferred to such third countries. This may happen if any of the servers of Streamr platform (or servers participating in the operations of a blockchain we use) happen to be located in a third country. This may also happen if you access our website, Streamr platform, or Streamr marketplace while you are outside the EU or the EEA.

Any transfer of your personal data to a country outside the EU or the EEA will be made only provided that the EU Commission has decided that the third country ensures an adequate level of protection in accordance with the EU General Data Protection Regulation (679/2016) or, if such decision has not been made for the country in question, in accordance with the EU Commission's standard contractual clauses for data transfers.

For more information about such clauses, see this link: https://ec.europa.eu/info/law/law-topic/data-protection/data-transfers-outside-eu/model-contracts-transfer-personal-data-third-countries\_en. For clarity, the EU Commission has determined that Switzerland is a country with an adequate level of protection.

How long will the personal data be stored for?

We will retain your personal data only for as long as it is relevant for the purpose for which it was collected and will delete any personal data that is no longer relevant. This means that we will keep your personal data that is necessary to implement our agreement with you for as long as you maintain a user account on the Streamr platform, for as long as you keep data products listed on the Streamr marketplace, or for as long as you have ongoing subscriptions to data products in the Streamr marketplace, whichever is longest, as well as until the expiry of any applicable claim periods after this. We will also comply with any applicable laws or statutes which obligate us to retain your personal data for a specific time period, such as the mandatory retention periods under accounting laws and regulations.

As regards any personal data that we process based on your consent, we will retain such data for as long as it is relevant for the purpose for which the data was collected, unless you withdraw your consent before that.

You may request to close your account on the Streamr platform at any time. After we receive your request to close the account, we will do so without delay, as long as you have no outstanding obligations as either a data provider or a data subscriber and have no data products listed on the Streamr marketplace. We will delete all your personal data when your account is closed, unless there are applicable laws or statutes which obligate or allow us to retain your personal data longer.

If you have entered into a contract with a third party data provider, any such contract may contain further obligations as to for how long the personal information is kept.
