

Non-Discrimination Policy

Sullivan University is committed to the principle of equal opportunity and providing an educational and work environment free from discrimination. All forms of discrimination are prohibited, including but not limited to that based on race, color, national or ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression, religion, age, disability, genetic information or veteran status and other legally protected statuses in the recruitment and admissions of its students, in the administration of its education policies and programs, or in the recruitment of its faculty and staff. Sullivan University adheres to all applicable state and equal opportunity laws and regulations.

All Sullivan University faculty, staff, and students are responsible for understanding and complying with the non-discrimination policy.

Title IX Coordinators

Title IX Coordinators direct the university's effort to comply with any and all federal and state laws that prohibit discrimination on the basis of one or more of the protected characteristics listed above.

This includes coordinating its efforts to comply with and carry out its responsibilities under Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 as amended. Title IX prohibits the discrimination in educational programs on basis of sex. Prohibited sex discrimination includes sexual harassment and sexual misconduct (including sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking) as defined by the university's policies.
