"Blessed"

This article is reprinted from last June after spending a lot of time in the hospital. It takes my mind back to that time and reminds me how blessed we are as children of God!

Have you ever spent some serious time thinking about how blessed you really are in your current situation? Last week was an incredibly challenging week for me with various health concerns. When someone is in the hospital (emergency room, operating room, or just a normal hospital bed) it can be extremely uncomfortable and scary. Your body is in terrible physical pain. Your emotions may be all over the place. You are genuinely concerned about your condition, about your family, and even about the things that you are missing or may miss because of this situation. All these things at some point may go through our mind and we expect our mind to sort these thoughts out and put them in a correct order. We hope to be blessed by those around us who can help.

We find a blessing of help first from our family members who may be standing by us in this challenging time. I was certainly blessed by my wonderful wife and my two great sons. We find help from the hospital staff who are there to take care of us. We definitely find help in the many prayers of the friends, family, and brothers and sisters in Christ who offer up supplications to our Father. We find help in the kind words and encouragement that others give during this time. We find help in all the nice gestures that people may offer the family. One of the greatest scriptures to help us is, Galatians 6:2 (NASB) "Bear one another's burdens, and thereby fulfill the law of Christ."

As Christians let's not miss the point of, Hebrews 10:24-25 (NASB) "and let us consider how to stimulate one another to love and good deeds, not forsaking our own assembling together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another; and all the more as you see the day drawing near." The scriptures are full of advice of how we can bless each other. 1 Peter 3:8 (NASB) "To sum up, all of you be harmonious, sympathetic, brotherly, kindhearted, and humble in spirit;"

Your mind goes a million miles a minute before they put you to sleep. Thinking about how much I love my wife and my boys! Without a doubt, oh how I love Jesus and God! I love my friends and Christian family who help me and bless me. And I realize that "I am blessed, oh I am blessed!" To my wife and boys thank you for blessing me! To my church family and friends thank you for blessing me. To my health insurance company and all the great hospital staff, thank you for blessing me. And to my Lord and Savior thank you for blessing me! I hope that we can bless others and others can be a blessing to us.
