Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction: The Feminist Disorder of Diaspora 1

1 The World and the “Jar”: Jackie Kay and the Feminist Locations of the African Diaspora 18

2 It’s Lonely at the Bottom: Elizabeth Alexander, Deborah Richards, and the Cosmopolitan Poetics of the Black Body 44

3 The Drama of Dislocation: Staging Diaspora History in the Work of Adrienne Kennedy and Ama Ata Aidoo 77

4 Asymmetrical Possessions: Zora Neale Hurston, Erna Brodber, and the Gendered Fictions of Black Modernity 106

5 Intimate Migrations: Narrating “Third World Women” in the Short Fiction of Bessie Head, Zoë Wicomb, and Pauline Melville 142

6 Impossible Objects: M. NourbeSe Philip, Harryette Mullen, and the Diaspora Feminist Aesthetics of Accumulation 175

Coda: The Risks of Reading 201

Notes 209

References 233

Index 265