Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: Thinking Interstitially 1

1 Coloring between the Lines: Historiographies of Southern Anomaly 23

2 The Interstitial Indian: The Lumbee and Segregation’s Middle Caste 57

3 White Is and White Ain’t: Failed Approximation and Eruptions of Funk in Representations of the Chinese in the South 91

4 Anxieties of the ‘Partly Colored’ 123

5 Productive Estrangement: Racial-Sexual Continuums in Asian American as Southern Literature 159

6 Transracial/Transgender: Analogies of Difference in Mai’s America 197

Afterword: Continuums, Mobility, Places on the Train 229

Notes 239

Works Cited 261

Index 273

About the Author 285