

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: The Pursuit of Religious, Racial, and Social Unity in an Early Republic Metropolis	1
1 The Foundations of Religious Establishment: The Colonial Era	13
2 Religious Establishment Challenged, Destroyed, and Re-formed: The Revolutionary Era	30
3 Creating Merchant Churches: The 1790s	48
4 Stepping Up and Out: White Women in the Church, 1800–1820	75
5 Gendering Race in the Church: Black Male Benevolence, 1800–1820	97
6 Preacher Power: Congregational Political Struggles as Social Conflicts, 1810–1830	120
7 Neighborly Refinement and Withdrawal: 1820–1840	146
8 Reaping the Whirlwind: Immigration and Riot, 1830–1850	170
Conclusion. Elusive Unity: City Churches in a Romantic Age, after 1840	196
Notes	207
Bibliography	243
Index	263
About the Author	271