CONTENTS

Introduction: “Run Over by a Unicorn” 1

1. Affective Intensity and Children’s Embodiment 33

PART I. POLITICAL SUBJECTS 55

2. The Production of Fear: Children at the U.S.-Mexico Border 61
3. “I Hate You, Dunel Trump”: Anger or Civility? 83
4. “Criss-Cross Applesauce”: Keeping Control in the Classroom 107

PART II. KIDS’ TELEVISION, FROM PROBLEM SOLVING TO SIDWAYS GROWTH 137

5. TV’s Narratives for Emotional Management 142
6. The Steven Universe, Where You Are an Experience 173

PART III. THE LIMITS OF DIGITAL LITERACY 201

7. Minecraft’s Affective World Building 205
8. From Memes to Logos: Commercial Detours in the Game of Roblox 232

Conclusion: “Shame on You Killers, Shame on You” 255

Acknowledgments 261
Notes 263
Bibliography 271
Index 279
About the Author 285

Color photos appear as an insert following page 162.