CONTENTS

 Preface ix

 Introduction 1

 1. “Of Course I’m Proud of My Country!”: Michelle Obama’s Postracial Wink 31

 2. “Because Often It’s Both”: Racism, Sexism, and Oprah’s Handbags 58

 3. “I Just Wanted a World That Looked Like the One I Know”: The Strategically Ambiguous Respectability of a Black Woman Showrunner 83

 4. “No, But I’m Still Black”: Women of Color Community, Hate-Watching, and Racialized Resistance 108

 5. “They Got Rid of the Naps, That’s All They Did”: Women of Color Critiques of Respectability Politics, Strategic Ambiguity, and Race Hazing 133

 Coda: “Have a Seat at My Table” 195

 Acknowledgments 199

 Notes 203

 Works Cited 221

 Index 241

 About the Author 253