Transition “How”:

Today we may all be on the edge or in the middle of some sort of season of “How?” And that’s why we’re reaffirming baptism. Because it’s in baptism that we remember what we’re all supposed to be about. It’s in baptism that the Holy Spirit first starts pouring spiritual gifts into our lives. It’s in this community, living this baptismal covenant together, that we’re learning how to use these gifts and to live as Christ’s representatives on mission with him in the world.

Stained Glass Window: Baptism of Our Lord

This window in our church depicts Jesus kneeling in the waters of the river Jordan allowing John to pour water on His head out of a shell. (The same shell is represented in silver on our baptismal font.) John the Baptist is also carrying the shepherd’s staff symbolizing the authority given him by God. Above the window is the dove symbolizing the approval of God, as we remember the voice from heaven saying, “This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased.”
