

Massachusetts Speech and Debate League Online Speech & Congress Tournament Saturday, February 13, 2021

The Board of Directors of the Massachusetts Speech and Debate League is pleased to announce the Online Sweetheart Speech & Congress Tournament. The tournament will be hosted online on Saturday, February 13, under the direction of the MSDL Board and is open to all high schools and any Massachusetts middle schools.

The tournament will include all speech events and Student Congress, live, utilizing the National Speech and Debate Association's NSDA Campus through Tabroom. We recommend that all competitors and judges test the NSDA Campus platform before the start of the tournament. This also provides a preview as to what the platform looks like, and what functionality is available. Competitors and judges should click on the "Test Competition Room" link found here:

<https://campus.speechanddebate.org/>

Some schools have encountered issues with firewalls when trying to compete from their school buildings. If possible, testing should be conducted from the location from which students and judges plan to "attend" the tournament as well as on the device that the student or judge plans to use on the day of the tournament.

Phones may be used to access Tabroom, but it will require the downloading of the app Jitsi Meet in order to access NSDA Campus.

Participating schools must have completed and submitted their 2020-2021 MSDL Participation Agreement with signatures from school administration. Alternatively, schools may send us a copy of the signed participation agreement from their local league.

Observers will not be able to attend rounds as the platform's video quality can be compromised by extra attendees in the room.

All participating schools will have a "Squad Room" on the Tabroom platform for use during the tournament day. This is a virtual room where members of the team – including coaches and judges – can hang out together when they are not in competition rooms.

Entries

Entry is subject to the following limitations:

1. Students in Student Congress and Group Discussion may not double enter.
2. Students in Novice and Varsity Extemporaneous Speaking and Radio Broadcasting may double enter or participate in Multiple, but not both.
3. Students in all events except Student Congress, Group Discussion, Novice and Varsity Extemporaneous Speaking and Radio Broadcasting may double enter and enter Multiple as a third event.
4. Each student may only enter once in any given event.

Event Procedures

All Events

Both movement and lots of color can contribute to a deterioration in the quality of the video over an online platform. We encourage students to wear plain-colored clothing (i.e. minimal patterns), and, if possible, to perform in front of a neutral solid background or plain-colored wall. Only one video camera maybe used, and that camera should remain stationary throughout the performance. No sets are allowed. Students may use a microphone or headset, but these should not be used as props or to make non-vocal sound effects.

Given the constraints of the online environment, the following rules will be in force:

No time signals will be provided in any events. Students in need of time indicators should time themselves, synchronizing the start of timing with the judge. The judge's time is the official time.

Students may elect to sit or stand for their performance, but they cannot move from a seated to a standing position or vice versa during the performance, with the exception of Multiple Reading where movement from one position to another is allowed.

In reading events, the script should be at least partially visible throughout the performance.

Duo Interpretation

Each student should enter the competition space separately – even if both members of a Duo reside in the same household. We expect that each Duo will be judged in a breakout session with the judge(s), but we cannot guarantee that the partners will be beside each other in the online space. Interaction and gestures should be planned accordingly. Since voices cannot overlap using an online platform, the grace period is extended to 60 seconds.

Extemporaneous Speaking

Preliminary round questions will cover international, national, and economic topics. The final round topic will be Global Issues. There will be no cross-examination in the final round. All questions will be derived from online and print editions of current political and news magazines and newspapers.

Students will be assigned to a specific prep room where they will receive three questions. Throughout the prep period, students should remain in the prep room space with cameras turned on and microphones turned off. When it is time for the student to speak, the extemper will proceed to the assigned speaking space.

Group Discussion

The topic area for Group Discussion is Social Media with a focus on the right to post, the rise of new platforms, the presence of misinformation, the proliferation of hate groups, and the dissemination of illegal material.

Multiple Reading

Multiple Reading may perform only once, depending on the number of Multiples entered. A student may participate in only one Multiple.

For Multiple Reading, each student should enter the competition space separately - even if more than one member of a Multiple team reside in the same household. Given the constraints of an online environment, blocking and movement may need to be extremely limited. Since voices cannot overlap using an online platform, the grace period in Multiple Reading is extended to 60 seconds.

Radio Broadcasting

Students will be assigned to a specific prep room where they will receive a link to the radio package for that round. Throughout the prep period, students should remain in the prep room space with cameras and microphones turned on. When it is time for the student to speak, the broadcaster will proceed to the assigned speaking space. The broadcaster may present with the video function turned off to simulate an actual radio broadcast.

Judges in Radio Broadcasting will have access to the packet of materials supplied to students for the round.

Student Congress

Legislation is due to Mr. Paul Wexler at pjwexler06@gmail.com by 3:00 pm on Friday, February 5.

Novices

A “novice” competitor is defined as any student who has not competed in high school forensics in a previous school year. A student who competes in two or fewer high school tournaments while in middle school retains novice status; but if a student competes in more than two high school tournaments, that student cannot be considered a novice. In Extemporaneous Speaking, a student may be considered a novice if it is his/her first year in high school Extemp. Special recognition will be given to the top-ranking novice in each category.

Coaches: Please make sure to review your roster to ensure that only this year’s novices are flagged.

Finals

We plan to conduct a few of the final rounds in rooms where observers may attend. Please see the tournament website for information on observing.

Judges

Schools must provide one judge for every five standard Speech and Congress entries, or fraction thereof. All judges must be capable of conducting rounds online and judging online through Tabroom. All Speech and Congress judges must have graduated from high school prior to the date of the tournament. Coaches should spend time with their judges in advance of the tournament reviewing the events to ensure that they are prepared for the competition.

A $50.00 penalty will be imposed for each missing judge. This penalty is not to be used in lieu of your requirement; if we do not have sufficient judges, we may have to reduce your entry numbers in line with your number of judges.

If you have a judge who is not available for every round, you must find a replacement for that judge. All judges are expected to be available to judge for every round. Missing judges seriously compromise the smooth operation of the tournament. Any judge who is not available to judge a round of their obligation may incur the $50.00 missing judge penalty.

Awards

The awards ceremony will be in a Zoom room at the conclusion of competition. Arrangements will be made to distribute awards to all finalists when it is safe for us to do so. The top novice in each speech category will also receive special recognition.

Instead of Team Sweepstakes awards at each online tournament, we will be presenting cumulative sweepstakes awards at the end of the first semester. These awards will be based on the scores of all students from each school, computed by using preliminary ranks. Sweepstakes awards will be presented in different categories:

Interpretation: DP, DUO, PR, PO, KL, PL, MULT, POI

Debate: Debate, Congress, GD

Limited Preparation: VX, NX, RB, IMP

Platform: OO, DEC, INFO

We will also award a cumulative Novice sweepstakes award, based on preliminary round scores for all novices.

Fees

The entry fee for all standard Speech events except Duo Interpretation and Congress is $6 per entry. The entry fee for Duo is $12.
