The Boulevard Inn

1 N Arthur Ashe Blvd, Richmond, VA 23220•(804) 359-1211

Situated in the heart of Richmond's historical fan district, The Boulevard Inn is a bed and breakfast that provides luxurious and stylish accommodations paired with top notch amenities and service that will make you feel right at home. Built in 1914, this colonial revival style townhouse will immerse you into the history and culture of Richmond while giving you the comforts of modern design. Just steps out of the front door you will find countless dining and tourist attractions within walking distance to create a truly memorable stay in Richmond.

Museum District B&B

2811 Grove Ave, Richmond, VA 23221•(804) 359-2332

“Step out our front door and you’ll see the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts right across the street, with the Virginia Museum of History & Culture just beyond. Walk two more blocks and you’re at Monument Avenue, the only street in the nation designated a national historic landmark. Built in 1922 by Judge Rhea, our stately brick house welcomes you with its spacious two-story porch. Inside, warm yellow walls and dark oak floors lead you through our spacious common room

Graduate Richmond

301 W Franklin St, Richmond, VA 23220•(804) 644-9871

“Step inside Graduate Richmond and find yourself immersed in local history, legends and Ram traditions, as creative interiors and college nostalgia come together for a stay that’s undeniably Richmond. Located in downtown Richmond, just across the street from the Virginia Commonwealth University campus, our hotel is your perfect home base for exploring the best of RVA.”

The Berkeley Hotel

1200 E Cary St, Richmond, VA 23219•(804) 780-1300

“After a major reinvention in the 1970s, the Shockoe Slip’s neighborhood movement provided an idyllic location on the corner of 12th and Cary Streets NW to welcome a boutique-downtown hotel. Prior to opening our doors in the Historic District of Richmond, architects devoted attention to the era detail of similar surrounding buildings. The inn’s castle-like inspired detail provides a historic element when visiting. The Berkeley Hotel sits along the James River and neighboring cobblestone streets.”
