A Bill to Mandate Police Access to Private Security Cameras

BE IT ENACTED BY THE CONGRESS HERE ASSEMBLED:

SECTION 1. Law enforcement agencies throughout the United States and its territories are authorized to access any privately owned security camera within their jurisdiction providing the camera is positioned such that it captures a view of a public space, such as a sidewalk or roadway.

SECTION 2. When law enforcement has need of footage from such a camera, they must formally request it from the camera's owner, who will then have 48 hours to comply with the request or to lodge a formal appeal. The law enforcement request must clearly and precisely state why the footage is needed.

SECTION 3. Each state and territory may determine what penalties, if any, are appropriate for refusal to comply with a law enforcement request for private camera footage, as well as the details of the appeal process

SECTION 4. This legislation shall be overseen by the Department of Justice.

SECTION 5. This legislation shall take effect immediately upon passage.

SECTION 6. All laws in conflict with this legislation are hereby declared null and void.

A Bill to Classify Prediction Markets as Gambling

BE IT ENACTED BY THE CONGRESS HERE ASSEMBLED:

SECTION 1. Congress hereby officially classifies prediction markets as a form of gambling, thus making them subject to any existing laws governing gambling throughout the United States and its territories.

SECTION 2. Cornell Law School's definition of prediction market shall be utilized for this legislation: "a speculative information exchange where people can trade on the outcomes of future events."

SECTION 3. Any state or territory that fails to classify and regulate prediction markets accordingly shall forfeit 50% of its federal funding provided by the Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant (JAG) Program for each fiscal year of non-compliance.

SECTION 4. This legislation shall be overseen by the Department of Justice.

SECTION 5. This legislation shall take effect on January 1, 2027.

SECTION 6. All laws in conflict with this legislation are hereby declared null and void.

A Bill to Ban Police-Tracking Apps

BE IT ENACTED BY THE CONGRESS HERE ASSEMBLED:

SECTION 1. No web application or other online service may enable users to share or receive information regarding the whereabouts of law enforcement officers.

SECTION 2. Any corporation or entity found to be hosting an application or service that violates this legislation shall be subject to fines and injunctions limiting business operations at the discretion of their local justice department.

SECTION 3. This legislation shall be overseen by the Department of Justice.

SECTION 4. This legislation shall take effect on January 1, 2027.

SECTION 5. All laws in conflict with this legislation are hereby declared null and void.

A Bill to End the Ukraine War

BE IT ENACTED BY THE CONGRESS HERE ASSEMBLED:

SECTION 1. Congress hereby authorizes the President to utilize military force to bring the ongoing Russo-Ukrainian War to a swift and minimally violent conclusion, prioritizing an immediate and lasting peace over all other concerns and considerations. The President is directed to achieve this goal by the end of 2026, after which point this authorization shall elapse.

SECTION 2. This legislation shall be implemented in collaboration with the Department of Defense.

SECTION 3. This legislation shall take effect immediately upon passage.

SECTION 4. All laws in conflict with this legislation are hereby declared null and void.
