2016
Legislation
Packet

Legislation is numbered by school, then author's name. See the rules packet for information regarding authorship speeches (<http://spartan2016.tabroom.com>). Generally, an agenda is a list of orders of business with the order in which they shall be taken up, whereas a docket is an unordered list of legislation.

Unfortunately, due to the substantial amount of excellent submissions, not all submitted legislation could be accepted. The legislation included in this docket were chosen in order to vary the region and school of sponsorship, vary the topics, while still providing debatable bills and resolutions. Part of the development that Congressional Debate provides to competitors is expanding the horizons of their knowledge, thus enabling students to debate important topics in depth that they might not have otherwise even known about. This legislation included reflects that.

Competitors should recognize that there are fewer than six hours of debate, and 10 topics included; therefore, multiple topics should be researched. There is no minimum number of speeches in order to qualify for awards, but it is unlikely that students will be ranked if they give fewer than two speeches.

Thank you to everyone who submitted legislation; please bear in mind that the primary criteria for inclusion were regional/school sponsorship and topic variety, not quality of legislation (which was not at all an issue in the selection from the tournament submissions). We trust this docket will provide a challenging platform for productive debate.

B/R # 101*A BILL TO SANCTION CHINA FOR BUILDING ISLANDS IN THE SOUTH CHINA SEA

BE IT ENACTED BY THE CONGRESS HERE ASSEMBLED THAT:

SECTION 1. The Department of State is hereby directed to establish and transmit quarterly to the House Committee on Foreign Affairs and Senate committee on Foreign Relations a list containing officials in the Chinese ruling party, major businesses connected to the Chinese government, and Chinese executives of such companies. All individuals or entities on this list shall have all funds within the United States seized by the Department of the Treasury, and shall be banned from travel through or conducting business in the United States.

SECTION 2. There shall be no trade with China in rare earth metals, food, military systems, shipping equipment, dredging equipment, construction materials or equipment, or energy generation equipment. Any person or organization, regardless of the place of origin, shall be added to the list created by section 1 if they violate this section.

SECTION 3. Sanctions shall be lifted 90 days after the President submits a report to both Houses of Congress certifying that China has ceased construction of artificial islands in the South China Sea, destroyed such islands, given up territorial claims outside of area to which they are guaranteed under international law and, ratified a treaty which settles all disputes over EEZs involving China. The President may at anytime thereafter reinstate this legislation, if he or she determines that China no longer meets the requirements of this section.

SECTION 4. This legislation shall be implemented immediately.

SECTION 5. All laws in conflict with this legislation are hereby declared null and void.
