Needham Tournament Super Scenario

“A Serious Man” (or a chamber of Congress people) is needed to address the dire situation breaking out under the “Precious” Hollywood sign. A dangerous group known as A Very Angry Team Against Rewards is protesting the decision to add five more movies to this year’s Academy Awards “Best Film” nominations. The Los Angeles Times is reporting that the city will continue to be “Blind Side’(ed) by the mob’s violence and vandalism in the streets of Los Angeles so long as Congress remains ‘Up in the Air’ about what they plan to do to combat these attacks. Without action, LA will become a ‘Hurt Locker.’” Barbara Lee of California’s ‘District 9’ says that “What Congress does is ‘Up’ to them, but anyone with ‘An Education’ can tell you that my fellow Californians to the south are caught in the ‘Inglorious’ workings of a group that has the intentions of making a political statement about the state of film. While many of us believe that the additions will turn the United States into a ‘Nanny State’ where everyone gets an Oscar shaped trophy, their aggression is uncalled for.”

Updates:

- 1) AVATAR has begun to protest outside of the home of Katherine Bigelow, proclaiming “We’re gonna let you finish, but James Cameron made one of the best movies of all time, of all time!” and is threatening to wreak havoc on her section of the city.
- 2) It appears Sandra Bullock has been kidnapping children with football related dreams by sneaking up on their Blind Side. Strangely enough, many of them are named Steve. It appears she is no longer Miss Congeniality.
