Mark Ge-AFF - slow down, was speaking so fast was hard to understand at times. Good responses on CX. On your CX don't let your opponent control it. If we're not going to judge on an issue move on quickly. Good job on explaining your argument on IAR. Good eye contact & body language.

Greg Schwartz-NEG - Good control on CX & excellent questions. Speak a little bit louder. Good eye contact & body language. Excellent on NR - thorough arguments & points made clearly.

Both excellent speakers & presentation.
The round became focused on resolution interp.
early and relied heavily on the definition of national service vs a draft and if they are synonymous with one another - the Neg clearly disprove this idea. The AFF fails to discuss the resolution throughout his case and does not spend much time negating the NEG's cont outside of topicality.

1) Compulsory drafting is needed to avoid favoritism. the disconnect will be wider if it is not compulsory.
Social change —

Cross examination — Greg — defn draft Compulsory drafting forces people to do

Greg — people are hamed back — why should it be compulsory.
Express the opponents illogical way of why forcing is not beneficial in the context of national Drafting.

Enough volunteers exist — why compulsory drafting?
Greg — Mark — does not touch why it should be made compulsory.
