Comments & Reason for Decision:

AFF presented clear w/ impacts that outweighed. NEG did not present clear alternative. AFF presented better evidence - climate change threatens humanity and we have ethical/moral obligation to act. NEG did not present clear counterplan, and did not address the impacts of climate change.

Comments & Reason for Decision:

Advices for both team: Provide some more evidences, specific.

- The ~~problem~~ issue come down to: Should the Fed or states ~~be~~ be in ~~the~~ control of $ distribution.

~~Both~~ The affirmative ~~is~~ is not "super" specific on how the plan will be implement, be neither is the Neg. However, the Aff seem to be better in performance and responding to Neg critics.

Aff win on discredit the ability of the state in implementing the plan. Neg should be more persuasive to discredit the Aff.

Introduction: Unequal funding distribution lead to inequality.

Plan: US Fed should be in charge of funding distribution

→ Perm: Do both;
 • They could, but not should.

Arguments:

- State will not distribute $ to low income ~~poor~~ minority school where it is needed the most.
- It is not. Previous policy show some evidence, state also racist, the problem is how to solve it.
- State plan for the state is also vague, no number showing success story.

→ Totally agree.

→ Counter plan: State should control.

→ Can't do both. How will they cooperate?

Arguments:

- Fed are too big. State is better to solve for specific case.
- Fed is racist,
- The plan is vague, How to implement, and who

Comments & Reason for Decision:

The aff is the only team that extends impact. The neg concedes aff's framing that DOJ is to vote for team that best challenge disenfranchisement. The aff wins that ~~plan~~ their education is best to challenge st. racism. Neg doesn't really have impact on DA and doesn't weigh it against aff.

~~DA should be ext~~

Need better link in DA - more specific to aff.

If aff ~~to~~ defend implen. of <sup>plan</sup> ~~plan~~ you should read FW ~~in~~ ~~them~~ or topicality.

Comments & Reason for Decision:

Daniel & Aleene really had a tough debate since Kureysa & Saraiya chose the open debate form. However, the Neg found several flaws in the Aff's plan that the Aff could not rebut. ~~Neg~~ Aff. plowed through a lot of data explaining the problems in sexual education. Neg demanded details on what the solution is. Aff said funding is the solution. Neg wins because they showed examples of previous failed fundings and that advocacy and awareness would be a better solution.

Sexual education is inadequate. Abstinence, pregnancy, STIs are confusion-riddled areas. Increase funding of sex ed in K-12.

Funded programs are good. Programs are bad because funding is insufficient.

Education also provides awareness.

We will be impacting millions.

Only criticism, no concrete solutions. What are the solutions? They won't magically go away. Anti-politics are suggested. Foster discourse. Funding isn't going be the path.

There are already programs that do exactly what they are proposing to do with the funding. What we need is awareness, not education. → Mobilization

Where would the money come from. Something else would financially suffer.

Comments & Reason for Decision:

The one-bullet critique of spreading was a non-factor without a reason to prefer it first, or w/greater, than the other positions regarding ~~the~~ <sup>impact</sup> Aff-provided, Neg-accepted weighting mechanism of in-school education.

The Neg dismantles the Aff performative advocacy using the weighting mechanism itself. To summarize: The Aff asks all questions, no answers. The Aff fails to weigh the education gained from her story against the Negative's evidence. The Neg holds up their evidence as proof of educational attainment, under the Aff-admitted lens that policy education is important (he argues it's the most important). Without an argument how story-telling is more powerful, effective or otherwise "real" than academic/policy based education, I vote Neg.
