

Bibliography – DailyFox Project (Technovation Girls 2026)

1. Universidade Federal Rural do Rio de Janeiro (UFRRJ). Study on emotional dependence and vulnerability in abusive relationships. Secretaria de Estado da Mulher, CEAM Queimados, 2023.
2. Fórum Brasileiro de Segurança Pública & Datafolha. Visible and Invisible: The Victimization of Women in Brazil. São Paulo, 2022.
3. CNN Brasil. One in four women worldwide has suffered violence from a partner. Retrieved from: <https://share.google/7DKPltADbKRwtEMdJ> (share.google in Bing)
4. G1. Study reveals factors that make women more vulnerable in violent relationships. Retrieved from: <https://share.google/gg3lq9kEchVSSXHQe> (share.google in Bing)
5. Secretaria da Mulher – Governo do Estado do Rio de Janeiro. Research on emotional dependence and its impact on abusive relationships. Retrieved from: <https://share.google/tS9WALPlr8rsOmzeX> (share.google in Bing)
6. Mulheres Positivas. Platform for women's professional development and empowerment. Retrieved from: <https://mulherespositivas.com.br> (mulherespositivas.com.br in Bing)
7. Rede Mulher Empreendedora (RME). Female entrepreneurship and financial autonomy network. Retrieved from: <https://rme.net.br>
8. Mete a Colher (Tina). Social platform connecting women to work opportunities and support networks. Retrieved from: <https://meteacolher.org>
9. Isa.bot. AI-based tool for employment and rights information for women. Retrieved from: <https://isabot.org.br>
10. B2Mamy. Socialtech supporting mothers in career transition and entrepreneurship. Retrieved from: <https://b2mamy.com.br>
11. Instituto PROA. Training and professional inclusion for young women. Retrieved from: <https://proa.org.br>