

WHAT IS TECH SNIPS?

TechSnips is an IT career development platform for IT professionals, system administrators and DevOps engineers focusing on providing high-quality, laser-focused, how-to technical screencasts called snips delivered by industry professionals.

All snips are designed to teach a viewer how to solve their immediate problem and move on with their day. Snips are not considered training. A snip is focused on problem-solving, not on teaching; there are courses for that.

TechSnips is anti-PowerPoint and only hosts snips that are technical demos from industry experts that have "been there, done that" across dozens of categories.

MORE EFFECTIVE MESSAGING

Sponsorship on TechSnips is different from traditional banner and sidebar ads that never get seen anyway. By sponsoring with us, your message will be seamlessly integrated into each video you sponsor (as shown on the next page).

When a viewer searches for and clicks on a video, your message will be displayed.

- Highly-targeted. You can pinpoint exactly the kind of audience you're looking to get in front of down to the snip.
- Captive audience. By placing your message directly in the content, it has a significantly higher chance of being digested.
- Ad-blockers are no threat. Because each message is embedded in the video itself, ad-blockers have no effect.
- Seamless integration. By embedding your message directly into the content, it integrates naturally with the content itself.

SPONSOR MESSAGE PLACEMENT

Your message will appear on every sponsored snip's introduction slide as shown below.

All snips have this introduction slide that is displayed at the beginning of every snip for approximately 8-10 seconds.
