In Honey's new update, studio developer mojang focuses on bees, honey, and beehives. The new Overlay Editor has also been updated. Bees! Let's consider Arilar first with you. Since the release of the new global update, which everyone calls honey updates, bees are considered one of the most beloved gangs that players around the world love. The bees in the new update have changed the mechanics and are rather unusual now. If we compare their behavior with farmers, we can safely say that they are even smarter. Why is that? Since their daily routine is better thought out, they have a certain set of actions, hide from snow and rain, can save their resources and, in the event of a threat, can kill their enemies in minecraft download apk. In general, everyone already knows that bees are neutral creatures and will only attack in the event of a threat. Players can spread this gang using flowers and tie them to the collar. Bees live in their special block houses. Blocks, blocks, blocks! There is a new honey block in the new version of Minecraft PE 1.14.0.6. In general, we can assume that this is an analogue of mucus blockage, but we do not believe that they somehow interact. The new block will get the object inside or try to move it. Also, you can't jump into crowds or players (of course, you can't use special tricks or potions). Block the honeycomb. These are blocks that can be used as decorative elements without special features. Players can make use of small beehives from the craft table. The image below shows that it has a beautiful yellow texture:Article! In the new version of Minecraft 1.14.0.6, developers add new items, small beehives and honey glass bottles. The player will need this item to be able to generate different items from the new update. Interesting: to fill a glass bottle with honey, simply click on the nest with an empty glass bottle. And also if the player clicks the hive with scissors, he will receive a beehive. Same principle as glass bottles with honey. Change or correct! Fixed the installation of a very long overlay in Skins Editor in Minecraft version 1.14.0.6. There's a mistake that makes it impossible to even pick Steve's skin. What will you see in the new update? New rocks with steep slopes, new crowds called snow and goats in the mountains in the hills of the mountains! How do players choose biome for new updates? Let's start from scratch, just as developers are creating new updates to the mountains. Initially, developer Studio Mojang made a search on their Twitter account to select a new biome for the next update, the choice being between desert tables, mountains and swamps. All players' ideas and ideas are considered as developers prepare for the next Minecon 2019. After that, we receive a lot of information about what we can expect from the upcoming updates that everyone is looking forward to! As you've seen, in the first stage of voting, players vote more in mountains and swamps, the mesa desert is the first biome removed from the ballot. By the second stage, players must have chosen one of the two biomes they liked the most. At the start of the vote, it was unclear who would win because of the players' great activities, as both biomes were part of it with small voting margins. However, the mountains won after the vote! This decision was made by the players because the mountains are one of the most boring, indifferent and oldest places in the minecraft world.WHAT DO WE EXPECT IN THE NEW UPDATE? The first thing we noticed in the promotional video on Minecraft's official Twitter account was that developers repeating objects in the new update 1.16.0.As rocks will be very sharp and steep and now look more realistic. There will be new snow at the top of the mountains. Why is it new? Because from now on you can fall from this snow in some places. So it makes this place a little dangerous and also interesting, because we all love the danger! Yeni Mob in Minecraft 0.12.1 APKA new update will add a new mass, Mountain Goat, into the game! They are a gang that lives in the mountains and may be food or other resources for their survival. We call your attention, however, that killing them will not be so simple, because they move very fast in the mountains, jumping high and fast. Which biome will be updated later? The next swamp biome to be updated in the minecraft world! In the next update, the developer promised us mangroves. As always, but only the roots of these trees go underground. To survive and travel in swampy waters, players will be able to use new boats with chests that can be easily boarded ashore. You can pile booty on your chest. A new crowd called frogs. Yes, these common frogs will be completely harmless to any player and creature Generally. Clearly Clear they will live in a swamp, as in real life. This place is going to get more dangerous. A bush will be added to the game to bring down the player. Tumbleweed is a new plant that roams the countryside as you wish. They are looking for a new cactus with an updated texture, a new predator that will fly in the sky and a target from above, this is a vulture. Most likely, these gangs will attack the players, because they will take care of the saque next to you. This is a small update that the developer decided to release immediately after the release of the previous game version. In the new version, new changes await us and which one you will find below. What's new in minecraft beta 1.14.0.4? No doubt everyone already knows what update 1.14.0 is from the last update, an update that everyone calls Honey Update and for some reason. In a new global update, players receive new crowds called bees, honey, beehives and are more directly related to the issue. This is a rather big update that is already loved by many players. In the new beta version of the game 1.14.0.4, we do not accept new elements, new elements, gangs or whatever, this update brings some important changes. We will deal with you in more detail below. What has changed in Minecraft apk download 0.14.0? This will only be an item that developer Mojang has decided to change a bit, namely its functionality. It's about a honey bottle. After that, players can make it using only honey and a few empty bottles. This is a very convenient innovation in the game, as this method allows players to recycle a block of honey in a bottle. The texture of the honeycomb and honey bottle has also been changed, now according to the texture in the Java version of the game. Personally, we can't be sure which texture was best before this update or as of now. Next changes related to minecraft apk android download skins. Most of my personal experience can already say that there are many skin-related issues with the release of the global update 1.14.0. One of the most common appears when selecting which falls to default after restarting the game, you see again the standard view of Alex and Steve.It's very uncomfortable, because the player has to adjust the skin he loves over and over again. The problem is when a button is pressed, or if a name appears on the screen, Narrator plays it back and also plays all the buttons pressed, because you have to double-click to use it. Fortunately, this issue has been resolved. Correcting the error in finding the success of the bodyguard. Previously, hit apk minecraft 1.7.10 has been opened several times. The essence of success is that the player creates a Golem with his own hands during survival.
