

Coach Expectations:

Although the demands of coaching can be endless, so too can the rewards. Coaching is an opportunity to positively affect the lives of the youth in our community and help develop the skills they will need to compete at higher levels. With that in mind our coaches are expected to adhere to the Code of Conduct established by EYSA (can be found on the homepage of www.estacadayouthsoccer.com). Coaches are also ultimately responsible for ensuring:

- Parent and Player Code of Conduct guidelines are committed to by signature from every parent and player and are adhered to at every practice and game.
- Every single player on your team is officially registered and paid for prior to beginning practices. If a player is not on the official roster you receive from the Registrar, they cannot participate in any practices or games until they are. Please review your roster carefully and contact the Registrar with questions or concerns at registrar@estacadayouthsoccer.com
- Players come prepared for practice with the appropriate protective equipment and supplies (cleats, shin guards, water, sweatshirts, etc). If a player does not have the proper cleats and shin guards, they should not be allowed to practice and will not be allowed to play games per EYSA guidelines.
- Personally identifiable information of players and parents is protected in accordance with Privacy Act laws. Rosters and player's cards contain personal information and it is the coach's responsibility to ensure this information is protected.
- Assistant coaches are registered and background checked through the Affinity system. Even having a parent or high school student fill in during your absence for one or two practices is not acceptable. They must be registered and background checked. Please direct them to our website at www.estacadayouthsoccer.com, Register tab, and proceed with registering as a coach through Affinity.
- All uniforms and equipment are collected at the end of the season and returned to the Coaches' Rep.
- Information on player's cards is accurate and that they are collected and returned to the Coaches' Rep at the end of the season.
- Information is properly distributed to parents and players (schedules and changes, fundraisers, sweatshirt orders, pictures, rules of play, etc)
- Any incidents involving coaches, players or parents (injuries, bad sportsmanship, etc) are reported to the Coaches' Rep within 48 hours.
- Rules of Play for the Willamette Youth Soccer Association are understood and adhered to (attached for your reference).

These expectations are in place to protect the youth who participate in our program, to protect EYSA, and to protect you. Please only apply if you feel you can adhere to these rules and the Code of Conduct and give our youth the best possible experience in soccer this fall. Team Parents can also assist with some of these responsibilities and the Coaches' Reps are always available to answer questions and assist with any obstacles you might encounter.

Thank you,
EYSA Coaches' Reps
