A LEGACY OF EXCELLENCE

The Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) was founded in 1912 as the Colored Intercollegiate Athletic Association and is the oldest African-American athletic conference in the nation. Although the membership has changed since 1912, the CIAA consists of Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCU) spanning the east coast from Pennsylvania to North Carolina. The membership: Bowie State University, Chowan University, Elizabeth City State University, Fayetteville State University, Johnson C. Smith University, Lincoln University of Pennsylvania, Livingstone College, St. Augustine's University, Shaw University, Virginia State University, Virginia Union University and Winston-Salem State University is comprised of both private and public colleges and universities with enrollments ranging from 750 to over 7,000 students. Currently, eighty percent of CIAA alumni reside in Maryland, North Carolina and Virginia.

The CIAA is incorporated in the District of Columbia and is a tax-exempt 501(c)(3) organization. The conference is headquartered in Charlotte, North Carolina and is governed by the twelve Presidents and Chancellors of its member institutions.

The conference holds championships annually in the following sports: Men's and Women's Cross Country; Volleyball; Football; Men's and Women's Indoor and Outdoor Track; Men's and Women's Basketball; Women's Bowling; Women's Tennis; Golf; Baseball and Softball. In addition to its outstanding basketball history, the CIAA pioneered the divisional conference football championship game format. In 1970, after dividing the conference into Northern and Southern Divisions, the CIAA played the first conference football championship game in college football history in Petersburg, Virginia. The first black college football game was also played between CIAA schools, Livingstone and Biddle (now Johnson C. Smith) in 1893.

Academic success is a staple of the conference. The conference recognizes the Male and Female Scholar-Athlete of the Year for student-athletes who have excelled on the field, in the classroom and in the community.

CIAA student-athletes have achieved success in the professional ranks. Ben Wallace, former basketball standout from Virginia Union University, was instrumental in helping the NBA Detroit Pistons win the 2004 NBA Championship. Charles Oakley also from Virginia Union has played with the Chicago Bulls, New York Knicks and Toronto Raptors. Darrell Armstrong of Fayetteville State University retired from the NBA New Jersey Nets and Ronald Murray of Shaw University played with the NBA Chicago Bulls and a few other NBA teams. Greg Toler of St. Paul's College was selected by the Arizona Cardinals in the 31st round of the 2009 NFL draft.

Former CIAA alumni who found success in professional sports include Earl "The Pearl" Monroe (Winston-Salem State), Sam Jones (North Carolina Central), the late Earl Lloyd (West Virginia State), and Bobby Dandridge (Norfolk State). The late John McLendon and C.E. "Big House" Gaines are coaching legends and pioneers.

CIAA alumni list boasts some of the country's prominent leaders. They include: the late Reginald Lewis (the owner of the first black billion dollar business - Beatrice Foods); the late Maynard Jackson (first black mayor of Atlanta, GA); Douglas Wilder (first elected black governor - Virginia); Art Shell (the first black NFL head coach); and Andrew Young (the first black United States Ambassador to the United Nations).

The CIAA receives significant support from corporate America. Over the past ten years companies such as Coca-Cola USA, Food Lion, Toyota, Nationwide, and Russell Athletic, have assisted the conference in securing $10.5 million in scholarship money for the member institutions and an additional $23 million for other championships and television. With the help of these sponsors, the CIAA can boast its position as the first NCAA Division II conference to have its tournament televised as part of Championship Week on the Entertainment Sports Programming Network (ESPN), the cable television giant.

One of the nation's premier sporting events is the annual CIAA Basketball Tournament. Touted as the third most attended basketball tournament among all NCAA divisions, the first tournament was a 2,000 seat sellout in Washington, D.C.

Tournament Week offers events for every social palate including parties, numerous educational and healthy-living components and step shows. The men's and women's tournaments are held simultaneously and their respective championship games are on Saturday night.

The CIAA Tournament is televised into more than 57 million homes nationwide. In 2005, the conference partnered with ESPN, which included coverage on ESPN Classic, ESPN Plus and ESPN In-Game. ESPN reaches over 99.5 million homes.

Not only does CIAA basketball rank amongst the top Division II conferences in the nation, but also it celebrates some of the most revered football coaches who have ever taught the game. Coach Willard Bailey held the CIAA's career coaching record with 234 victories, and Herman "Ike" Boone, former Head Coach at T. C. Williams High School, who was portrayed by Denzel Washington in Disney's blockbuster movie "Remember the Titans," are two of the many coaches who have brought unparalleled value to the CIAA's efforts of providing student-athletes with quality educational opportunities that will last a lifetime.

The CIAA is undoubtedly celebrated as a conference of "firsts". Its innate spirit of ingenuity and innovation continues to keep the CIAA in the forefront; blazing trails for other conferences to follow.

As the CIAA is in its second century of excellence in education and athletics, we continue to welcome growth and change; all with the confidence that the legacy of the CIAA will continue.

COMMISSIONER JACQIE McWILLIAMS

Jacquie McWilliams is the third full-time Commissioner of the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) and the first African-American female to hold the position of Commissioner within the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

She works closely with the CIAA board of directors and staff to promote the advancement of its student-athletes and 12 member-institutions. She represents the conference on local, regional and national levels to support the mission and priorities of the conference and intercollegiate athletics.

For almost a decade, Ms. McWilliams spent her career at the NCAA in several key roles managing NCAA championships. Her last four years with the NCAA were spent overseeing one of the largest championship events in the country, the Division I Men's Basketball Tournament- "March Madness."

Throughout her career, McWilliams has served as a coach and an administrator in the governance and compliance, strategic planning, human resources, as well as operations and community programming departments.

Currently, she serves as chair of the NCAA Division II (DII) Management Council and member of the NCAA Gender Equity Task Force; NCAA Board of Governors Ad Hoc Committee for Cultural Diversity; NCAA DII Finance and Budget committee; and DII Identity Task Force. She also serves on the National Association of Collegiate Women Athletic Administrators (NACWAA) Board and the Collegiate Women's Sports Award (CWSA) Board.

Jacquie's received many honors, including the NACWAA Nell Jackson Award; Temple University's Outstanding Alumni Award; and the Black Women Sports Foundation Award.

In 2006, Ms. McWilliams was inducted into Temple University's Gallery of Success and became a member of the inaugural Sierra High School Hall of Fame induction class in her hometown, Colorado Springs, Colorado. She was also an Inaugural Women's History Month Career Mastered Award honoree in 2016.

Two of Jacquie's greatest honors were the retirement of her volleyball jersey at Hampton University and being featured on the cover of the first Charlotte Trendsetters to Trendsetters magazine issue.

Ms. McWilliams is a former CIAA student-athlete and alumna of Hampton University, where she attained a bachelor's degree in psychology and was a member of the 1988 NCAA Division II Women's Basketball Championship team and the 1987 and 1990 CIAA Volleyball Championship teams. She later earned a Master of Arts in Sports Management and Administration from Temple University in 1993, and is currently working on a doctorate in Philosophy of Education and Leadership Management from Hampton University.

A native of Colorado Springs, Ms. McWilliams is the proud mother of Samone, age 10. She is a public speaker and enjoys reading, theater and art, journaling, mentoring and professional coaching.

The 2017 football season marks the 125th anniversary of the first recorded black college football game, which began with two CIAA member institutions. The CIAA will honor its rich football history throughout the season via the conference's 125th anniversary social media campaign. The campaign will highlight consequential moments in CIAA football history from former and current member institutions, records, statistics, and share the stories of CIAA student-athletes who excelled both on and off the field. The celebration will also be displayed using a celebratory football championship logo.

In a snowstorm on December 27, 1892, Johnson C. Smith University, then named Biddle University, traveled for two days by horse and buggy to Salisbury, North Carolina to play against Livingstone College for the first-ever black college football contest. The Golden Bulls defeated the Blue Bears 5-0 after a disputed Livingstone touchdown was called back by the official. Every year, the two schools come together to celebrate this Commemorative Classic and this year we celebrate 125 years!

The CIAA will kick off the 2017 football season with its annual Football Media Day on Thursday, July 20th in Salem, Virginia. Each of the CIAA's twelve head football coaches, accompanied by two student-athletes, will take the stage for discussion regarding their football program, athletes, and the season schedule as teams anticipate the conference championship.

The historic Commemorative Classic between the Golden Bulls and Blue Bears will take place on November 4th at Livingstone's Alumni Memorial Football Stadium. The CIAA will host its annual Football Championship on November 11th at Salem Football Stadium and feature the CIAA Northern and Southern Division Champions.

BOWIE STATE UNIVERSITY

~ Founded 1865 ~

Bowie State University is building a dynamic future on a proud heritage.

Founded in 1865, Bowie State is the oldest Historically Black College/University in Maryland and one of the ten oldest in the country. It is also a diverse university whose 5,600 students, along with faculty and staff, represent many ethnic and cultural backgrounds.

Bowie State University provides high-quality and affordable educational opportunities for students with ambitions to achieve and succeed. In addition to its 22 undergraduate majors, Bowie State offers 38 master's, doctoral, and advanced certification programs with specific focus on science, technology, business, education and related disciplines. A supportive academic environment empowers students to think critically, make new discoveries, value differences and emerge as leaders in a highly technical, rapidly changing global society.

The university's advanced teaching and research facilities include a FlexPod, one of the latest computing innovations with the capabilities of a supercomputer in a box the size of two student desks. Bowie is also home to a satellite operations control center managed in conjunction with NASA and an all-Steinway Fine and Performing Arts Center equipped with the latest technologies for digital media arts and music production.

As a member institution of the University System of Maryland, Bowie State upholds the System's mission of providing high-caliber, accessible, and affordable educational opportunities.

Bowie State is in the midst of one of the nation's most exciting metropolitan areas, within easy reach of Washington, DC, and Baltimore. At the same time, it boasts a serene campus on a 300-acre suburban wooded tract. With seven residence halls, the University is a hub of 24/7 undergraduate life, yet it also offers convenient evening classes and online courses to serve employed professionals seeking to move ahead in their careers.

Damon Wilson begins his eighth year at the helm of the Bowie State University football program. Wilson, who was an all-conference tight end for the Bulldogs (1998), did his first tour of duty as an assistant coach from 1999-2003 under Henry Frazier. As the Assistant Head Coach (Running Backs and Special Teams Coordinator) during those years, BSU's special teams and running game consistently ranked at the top of the conference. During Wilson's first run at Bowie State, the Bulldogs combined an overall record of 26-24 and they were able to bring home a CIAA Eastern Division Championship in 2002.

As Wilson began to flourish in his coaching career, he would trade the comforts of home and the CIAA for the life in the south, deep in the heart of Texas. He spent three seasons on the sidelines at Texas Southern University and then fate would reunite Wilson and Frazier again at Prairie View A&M University. The Panthers of Prairie View finished the 2008 season with a 9-1 record and ranked 23rd nationally in Division I-AA football polls. As the running backs coach, Wilson helped lead the Panthers' offense to their most successful season ever. Under Wilson's guidance, Donald Babers led the SWAC in rushing and broke the university's all-time record. Wilson would leave his name in the history books, having been the first coach in Prairie View history to coach a 1,000 yard running back.

Wilson began his head coaching era at Bowie State in 2009. In 2009 Wilson's Bulldogs broke the school record for Most Offensive Yards in a game, had eight players to receive All Conference honors, and four players selected to All-Rookie Team. At one point in 2009 Bowie State was ranked as high as 8th in the region, and closed the season with the #1 ranked defense in the country. While Wilson garnered Coach of the Week awards on two separate occasions during 2009, Isaac Redman was signed by the Pittsburgh Steelers of the NFL. The 2009 Eastern Division Champs also boasted an impressive 25 players with grade point averages above a 3.0.

The 2010 season would prove to be another successful campaign for Wilson and the Bulldogs. Wilson continues to put his name in the history books as his high-powered offense broke and reset many records. The Bulldogs broke the school record for Most First Downs in a Game, Most Pass Completions in a Game and Season, Most Yards Passing, Most Touchdowns Thrown, Most Kickoff Returns in a Season and Career, Most Pass Breakups and Most Blocked Kicks. They posted a 6-1 CIAA record; the best Bowie State conference record since 1989, and had two players receive conference awards. Wilson has had five players represent Bowie State University in Russell Athletics HBCU All-Star game and two players selected to participate in Division I All Star Game, two players in the NFL and one in the IFL (Indoor Football League), and graduated 30 players in three years. Wilson was also one of the twenty coaches selected from across the country to participate in the NCAA Expert Coaches Academy. The one-time Coach of the Week used his powers of persuasion and strong business acumen to assist the University and supporters in the installation of a million dollar synthetic turf field at the Bulldogs Stadium.

In 2011 the Bulldogs found it hard to replace the senior class from the 2010 season. Although the Bulldogs started off 3-0 they then experienced some losses in close games that they were unable to bounce back from. While it was a challenging season on the gridiron, it did not prevent the Bulldogs from experiencing success in the classroom and in the community. There were 15 seniors to graduate from the 2011 team and seven players that received All Conference recognition.

In the summer of 2013, Coach Wilson completed a summer internship with St. Louis Rams as part of the Bill Walsh NFL Minority Coaching Fellowship. The annual program is administered by the NFL Management Council and NFL Player Engagement and its objective is to use NFL club's training camps, offseason workout program and minicamps to give talented minority coaches opportunities to observe, participate, and gain experience with coaching staffs, front office, and other various areas of the organization.

Coach Wilson entered the 2015 season with six Bowie State University Bulldogs named among those selected 2014 Preseason D2 (CIAA) All-America Football Team. Wilson's Bulldogs finished the 2014 season second in the division and received a number of post season accolades. Wilson had 11 players recognized by the conference and 3 players were named to All American Teams. In 2014 another Bulldog signed a NFL contract, making it four Bulldogs in the last five years to pursue their NFL dream.

The 2015 season proved to be the best on record since 1975 as the Bulldogs earned the title of Northern Division Champions and recorded an impressive 9-3 overall record, they ran the table in the CIAA (7-0 CIAA and 5-0 North), competed in the conference championship game and advanced to the NCAA Division II Super Region One Quarterfinals for the first time in school history. Wilson was named 2015 CIAA Coach of the Year, 2015 Mid-Major Coach of the Year, 2015 AFCA Top 25 Coaches Poll, and 2015 Bowie State University Coach of the Year. Wilson had 16 players recognized by the conference and 2 players were named to All American Teams.

Damon is married to Allison (Dunn) and they have one son Dylan. Coach Wilson is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. In his spare time he enjoys spending time with his family, working with children, fishing, and attending sporting events.

CHOWAN UNIVERSITY

Chowan University is a four year co-educational institution. It is the second oldest of North Carolina's seven Baptist Colleges. Chowan opened in 1848 as a four-year college for women, Chowan Baptist Female Institute. It was renamed Chowan College in 1910, admitted male students in 1931, and established itself as one of the leading junior colleges in the South in 1937. In 1992, the college returned to four-year status when it admitted a junior class. In April of 2006, Chowan President Dr. M. Christopher White announced the changing of the institution's name from Chowan College to Chowan University.

The University fulfills its mission with a careful blend of both liberal arts and professional courses. Recognizing that such a blend of knowledge and experience is particularly suited to the needs of contemporary society. Chowan takes as priority the need to connect general education with specialized education, theoretical learning with practical learning, and intellectual skills with vocational skills.

Set amid 450 acres of woodlands embracing beautiful Lake Vann, Chowan's main entrance leads gracefully around a college green to an antebellum mansion known as the McDowell Columns Building. Sixteen major buildings of contemporary design provide air conditioned residence, academic, and recreational facilities. The small-town university campus attracts students each year from at least twenty-seven states and several countries. The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools fully accredits Chowan University to offer the bachelor's degree. Chowan University's Master of Education program is accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

In addition to the academic side of campus, Chowan fields 18 varsity sports and a co-ed cheerleading squad.

Tim Place will enter his ninth season at the helm of the Hawks football program.

The 2015 team tied the program best record with a 6-4 finish (originally achieved in 2012). Place guided the team to their first win over an NCAA Division I opponent (Delaware State) and defeated perennial CIAA powerhouse Winston-Salem State University for the first time in program history.

Place guided the 2014 team to a 2-8 overall record and a 1-6 finish in CIAA competition. The Hawks earned a fifth place finish in the CIAA Northern Division.

In 2013, Place led the Hawks to a 4-6 overall record and 3-4 finish in CIAA competition. The Hawks ended the year in fourth place in the CIAA Northern Division.

Place guided the 2012 squad to their first winning season since 1999 when the then-Braves posted a 5-4 mark. The 2012 season was the most successful in terms of wins and conference finish since the school began its transition to a four-year school in 1992. Their 6-4 overall record and 5-2 record in league play was good for a 2nd place finish in the CIAA Northern Division, their best finish since joining the conference in 2008.

Place, who stepped down as the head coach at Urbana University (OH) to accept the position at Chowan, has a vast and diverse football coaching background. Most recently he served as the head coach at Urbana where he tallied an 11-11 record over two seasons.

At Urbana, he breathed new life into the program after taking over as interim Head Coach in the summer of 2006. In a seamless transition, he guided that 2006 team to a 4-1 season start and was ranked as high as 10th in the NAIA national rankings. In 2007, Place led the team to only its second winning season in program history after finishing up at 6-5. For six consecutive weeks, the 2007 squad was ranked in the NAIA's Top 25.

Place spent a total of six seasons with the Blue Knights, four as the Defensive Coordinator, three as the Assistant Head Coach/Defensive Coordinator, and two as the head coach. As the Defensive Coordinator in 2004, Place was named the Mid-States Football Association's Assistant Coach of the Year after coaching one of the league's premier defenses.

As the assistant head coach at Urbana, Place also served as the football program's recruiting coordinator and academic advisor. He was integral in bringing several of the best football classes into Urbana while also holding them to high academic standards. While he was the team's academic advisor, they raised their overall team GPA by one point.

Along with his six-year stint at Urbana, Place has college coaching experience at Western Carolina University, Eureka College (IL), and Hartwick College (NY). At WCU, he served as a linebackers and defensive line coach while also heading up the academic support services for over 300 student-athletes within the WCU athletic department. At Eureka, he coached both wide receivers and tight ends, including the NCAA DIII's All-Time Leading Receiver, Kurt Barth.

Place also has high school head coaching experience at Greene Central High School in New York and at Ravenna High School in Ohio. Place graduated from Washington & Lee University in Lexington, Virginia with a B.A. in Psychology. At W&L he was a four-year member of the football team and two-year letter winner. He has a M.S. from SUNY-Albany in Counseling Psychology.

Place and his wife, Jennifer Zak Place, have two children, Nathaniel and Claire.

ELIZABETH CITY STATE UNIVERSITY

~ Founded 1891 ~

On March 3, 1891, Hugh Cale, an African-American representative in the N.C. General Assembly from Pasquotank County, sponsored House Bill 383, which established a normal (teaching) school for “teaching and training teachers of the colored race to teach in the common schools of North Carolina.” The bill passed, establishing a normal school for teachers and laying the groundwork for the Elizabeth City State University we know today.

Early Leadership

The first leader, Peter W. Moore, was called a Principal (subsequent leaders would be called President, then Chancellor). Moore served as Principal and then President until his retirement as President, Emeritus, on July 1, 1928. During his tenure, enrollment increased from 23 to 355 and the faculty grew from two to 15 members.

During the tenure of the second president, John Henry Bias, the institution was elevated from a two-year normal school to a four-year teachers college (1937). Two years later, the institution’s name was officially changed to Elizabeth City Teachers College on March 30, 1939. The growth and elevation to a teachers college changed the institution’s mission to include training elementary school principals for rural and city schools. The first Bachelor’s of Science degrees in elementary education were awarded in May of 1939.

Continued Growth

Between 1959 and 1963, the institution became more than a teaching college, adding 11 academic majors to the original elementary education major. In 1961, the college joined the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) accrediting group and maintains its accreditation with that body to the present. In 1963, the N.C. General Assembly changed the institution’s name from Elizabeth City State Teachers College to Elizabeth City State College and on July 1, 1969, the college became Elizabeth City State University. In 1971, the General Assembly redefined the University of North Carolina system with 16 public institutions, including ECSU. Together, those institutions became constituents of The University of North Carolina (July 1972).

Today

With 28 undergraduate and 4 graduate programs of study, ECSU offers degrees in aviation and natural sciences, business and economics, teaching and administration, visual and performing arts, mathematics and computer science, social and behavioral sciences and other select professional and pre-professional areas.

As a constituent institution of the University of North Carolina System, ECSU is the most affordable academic success university in North Carolina. Our intimate class sizes afford our student body a small, yet challenging learning environment. We teach, train, and mold our students in an environment representative of today’s global economy.

Earnest J. Wilson III was announced as the head coach at Elizabeth City State University on February 19, 2016. Coach Wilson brings over 25 years of coaching experience to the Mighty Vikings.

Wilson joins ECSU after a three year stint at Division I-AA Savannah State University of the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC). Prior to his tenure at SSU he was at Hampton University, where he has served as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach since 2012.

Before joining Hampton, Wilson worked at Jackson State University (JSU) as offensive coordinator, quarterback coach and wide receiver coach for two years (2010-12). While at JSU, Wilson's offense led the South Western Athletic Conference (SWAC) in scoring offense, total offense, pass offense, pass efficiency, first downs and fourth down conversions. Under his tutelage, JSU led the nation in total offense averaging almost 500 yards a game. JSU also had the 9th highest scoring offense in the nation and averaged 35 points per game.

Prior to JSU, Wilson served as the running backs coach and recruiting coordinator at New Mexico State (2005-09). Wilson coached the number two passer in the nation while at New Mexico State and a team that lead the nation in total offense and was 3rd in the nation in passing (2010 and 2011) for NCAA Division I. He successfully recruited two players that continued on to play in the NFL.

Before Mexico State, Wilson was the offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Benedict College (2003-04) for two seasons. He led the team to its first winning season with a first team All-Academic quarterback.

Wilson's coaching background includes a stint as the head coach and director of football operations for the Carolina Rhinos (2001-02) and Jacksonville Tomcats (1999-2001) of Arena League Football 2 (AFL2). In his first season as head coach in 2000, the Rhinos posted a 10-8 record. The next year, Wilson led the Rhinos to a 13-5 record and advanced to the semifinals of the playoffs. Wilson took over at Jacksonville in 2002, leading the Tomcats to an 8-8 record (second place).

Wilson also served as the head coach of the Dayton Skyhawks of the Indoor Football League (1999). He led the team to the semifinals of the playoffs.

From 1998-1999 he served as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Oberlin College. He coached numerous All-League and All-American performers. While at Oberlin he also served as an assistant men's and women's track and field coach.

Prior to Oberlin, Wilson was the offensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator, quarterbacks coach for ECSU. He also served as a lecturer for the Department of Health and Physical Education.

From 1994-1996 he was the special teams coordinator, receivers and tight ends coach at Alabama A&M. Under his tutelage the special teams was ranked first in the nation in KOR and second in punt return. Wilson coached a first team All-Conference (SWAC) wide receiver.

Wilson worked as an offensive graduate assistant under legendary football coach Joe Paterno at Penn State in the 1993-1994 season. That season, the Nittany Lions finished 10-2 and won the 1993 Citrus Bowl.

Prior to his graduate work, Wilson was the receivers and tight ends coach at The University of Maine. Wilson helped the team set passing and special teams records and compile the best team record in four years, while at Maine.

Wilson also worked as receivers and tight ends coach at Allegheny College (1990-92). While at Allegheny, he was part of the coaching staff that won the 1990 NCAA Division III National Championship.

Wilson played football while receiving both his undergraduate and graduate degrees from Texas Tech University. He earned a Bachelor of Science in Recreation in 1989 and a Master of Education in Sports Administration in 1990.

Wilson is married to Maria, and the couple has three children, Earnest, IV, Jonathan, and Mya.

FAYETTEVILLE STATE UNIVERSITY

~ Founded 1867 ~

In 1865, a “sophisticated” education agenda was already underway in Fayetteville’s black community. A year after the Civil War ended, the Phillips School provided primary education to Fayetteville’s black citizens, and the Sumner School provided intermediate education for this population. The two schools were consolidated in 1869 and dedicated in April of that year as the Howard School, in honor of the Freedman’s Bureau chief General O.O. Howard. Seven prominent African-American men pooled $136 to purchase two lots for the first building that housed the Howard School. Robert Harris was named the first principal of the Howard School.

In 1877, the Howard School became not just the first public normal school for African Americans in North Carolina but also the first state-sponsored institution for the education of African-American teachers in the South. It was renamed the State Colored Normal School in Fayetteville that year, Fayetteville State Teachers College in 1939, Fayetteville State College in 1963, and Fayetteville State University in 1969.

Dr. James A. Anderson, a renowned scholar, is the 11th chief executive officer.

Renovations were made to the Rudolph Jones Student Center. More than 24,000 square feet were being added to the already 37,000 square foot facility. The center has a 100-seat movie theater, larger lounge areas, a ballroom that seats 500, and multiple office spaces for staff and students.

The 62,000-square-foot LEED Silver Science and Technology Building is open and ready to produce the generation of STEM scholars. The building, the centerpiece of this campus, is complete with laboratories for chemistry, forensics, mathematics, physics and computer science. Connecting the building’s two wings is the “Discovery Forum,” the building’s common-use area that includes community space, seminar rooms and a coffee shop that is already receiving rave reviews from the students, faculty, staff, and community.

For the fifth consecutive year, the Cumberland County Principal of the Year is a graduate of the FSU School of Education’s Educational Leadership Department. The 2016 Regional Principal of the Year also is a graduate of the FSU Master of School Administration Program. The 2015-16 NC Superintendent of the Year is a graduate from the doctorate in educational leadership program.

The FSU Pre-Law Society, directed by Attorney Angel Gwynn-Powell provides academic support to student seeking to attend Law School. Of the 42 students who have participated in the Pre-Law Society since 2013, 41 have applied for and been admitted to law school.

FSU sponsors many successful student organizations and clubs. For example, a team of 4 FSU students was selected as finalists, one of the four nation-wide student teams, to travel to Detroit, MI to present their grant/scholarship proposal to the selection committee for the Ford HBCU Community Challenge.

Richard Hayes, Jr. embarks on his first season as the Fayetteville State head football coach for the 2016 season. FSU announced Hayes as the 16th head football coach in the program's history on December 28, 2015.

Hayes brings over 15 years of coaching experience into the leadership role of the football program at FSU. He has a background as a defensive specialist and adds his wealth of experiential knowledge; both as a player and as a coach.

Prior to taking charge at Fayetteville State, Hayes served as the defensive coordinator for the 2015 CIAA champion Winston-Salem State Rams. He joined the WSSU football coaching staff in 2010 as an assistant coach working with the defensive backs and special teams.

Hayes won three CIAA Championships (2011, 2012, 2015), made four conference championship appearances (2011-12; 2014-15), and compiled a record of 60-13 as a member of the Rams coaching staff.

"I'm honored for this opportunity to lead the football program at such a great institution in Fayetteville State University," stated Hayes. "I would like to thank the chancellor Dr. James Anderson, director of athletics Anthony Bennett, all the coaches and mentors that have helped me get to this point, and of course my family for all their love and support."

Hayes earned a hefty set of accolades during his time at WSSU. Under Hayes' defensive schemes, the Rams' defense has been ranked nationally in the top 10 since 2010. WSSU had a student-athlete named CIAA Defensive Player of the Year for four consecutive seasons (2011-14). Hayes played an instrumental role in WSSU making three consecutive NCAA Regional appearances, including two Region

I Championships (2011-12) and finishing as a NCAA DII National Finalist in 2012.

Hayes has roots in North Carolina and South Carolina high school football. He served as the defensive coordinator at W.J. Keenan High School in Columbia, SC (2009) and at James B. Dudley High School in Greensboro, NC (2004-05).

While at Dudley, Hayes helped to lead the team to a 3AA Eastern Division Championship in 2004 and a Triad 3A Conference Co-Championship in 2005. Both seasons saw Dudley High ranked in the top five in the state in total defense, pass defense and scoring defense.

Hayes moved on to Keenan High and took control of the defense. Under his tutelage, Keenan High earned a SCHSL Region IV runner-up finish and earned their first playoff win in 17 years en route to posting a 9-3 record.

In 1998, Hayes began coaching on the collegiate level at his alma mater North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University. He served as an assistant coach with the Aggies from 1998-2002. Hayes spent three seasons working with the running backs and two seasons as the outside linebackers coach.

Hayes completed his bachelor's degree in Recreation Administration from N.C. A&T State in 1999. He was a standout defensive back for the 1991 and 1992 Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) champion Aggies; Hayes was a two-year letterman for N.C. A&T State.

He and his wife Thomasina are the proud parents of three children, Richard III, Ryan, and Kennedy.

JOHNSON C. SMITH UNIVERSITY

~ Founded 1867 ~

Johnson C. Smith University is a premier independent new urban liberal arts university located in Charlotte, N.C. Founded in 1867 and chartered as Biddle Memorial Institute, the institution was renamed Johnson C. Smith University in 1923. Women were first admitted in 1932 and the University joined the United Negro College Fund in 1944.

Today, JCSU offers a progressive curriculum with 25 fields of study to more than 1,400 students who come from a variety of ethnic, socioeconomic and geographic backgrounds. The enriching environment enables students to explore and grow – intellectually, socially, culturally and spiritually – and develop a sense of social responsibility. JCSU is gaining a national reputation for integrating the liberal arts with business, the sciences and technology in innovative, socially conscious ways.

The University has strong community relationships and strategic partnerships with businesses, corporations and professional groups. As an active community partner, JCSU serves as a catalyst for building and sustaining assets in the surrounding neighborhoods and throughout the city.

The University's most visible impact in the city can be seen along Beatties Ford Road in Charlotte's historic West End. From the opening of the Arts Factory which provides space for community performances and for students majoring in the visual and performing arts; to Mosaic Village, a mixed use facility that features apartments with suite-style housing, retail space, a multipurpose room and a rooftop terrace available for community use; to "Passing Through Light," a public art installation at West Trade Street and the I-77 underpass, JCSU is expanding beyond the campus gates as an impetus for community revitalization.

JCSU is building upon its long legacy of producing compassionate and forward-thinking leaders as it continues to evolve into a 21st century university.

JOHNSON C. SMITH GOLDEN BULLS

Head Football Coach

Kermit Blount enters his second season at the helm of the JCSU football program. In his first season, he improved the JCSU win total from the 2014 season by putting together a solid defensive team. He guided JCSU to a 37-20 upset win over then Southern Division leading Fayetteville State. That win over the Broncos was the first of three straight wins for JCSU. All told, the Golden Bulls won three of their last four games of the 2015 campaign.

Prior to coming to JCSU, he spent four seasons as the head coach at MEAC member Delaware State. While with the Hornets, Blount guided the DSU program to a 6-5 mark in 2012, including a 5-3 MEAC record. That season marked the most successful year since 2007 when Delaware State won the MEAC, finishing with a 10-2 record. In Blount's third season with the Hornets in 2013, they also finished with a 5-3 MEAC record.

Prior to his appointment at Delaware State, Blount served as head coach at Winston-Salem State. While at WSSU, Blount notched a career record of 91-87-3, leading the Rams to an 8-2 record in his final season at the helm in 2009. He guided the Rams to two Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association Championships and a total of three CIAA Championship game appearances. He also led the Rams to two Pioneer Bowl appearances, winning in 1999.

Blount was honored as the CIAA Coach of the Year and as the Washington D.C. Pigskin Coach of the Year, as well as the 100% Wrong Club Coach of the Year in both 1999 and 2000.

Throughout his coaching career, Blount has been associated with programs that have experienced phenomenal success. In all, he has been in a leadership role with teams that have won a total of six conference titles at both the NCAA Division I and Division II levels. He has also served as President of the CIAA Football Coaches Association.

Prior to becoming head coach at WSSU, Blount served as an assistant coach for five seasons at South Carolina State from 1989-1993, coaching the quarterbacks, wide receivers and acting as the Bulldogs' Offensive Coordinator. Blount also coached the quarterbacks at Howard University (1984-1989) and at East Carolina University (1983-1984). While at Howard, the Bison finished 9-1 and won the 1987 MEAC championship.

Blount holds a B.S. in Health and Physical Education from Winston-Salem State University and later earned a Master's degree from East Carolina University.

A native of Richmond, Va., Blount is married to the former Ava Harris and has two children (April & Bryan) and one grandson (Micah).

LINCOLN UNIVERSITY

Originally established as The Ashmun Institute, Lincoln University received its charter from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on April 24, 1854, making it the nation's first degree-granting Historically Black College and University (HBCU).

The story of Lincoln University dates back to the early years of the nineteenth century and to the ancestors of its founders, John Miller Dickey, and his wife, Sarah Emlen Cresson. The maternal grandfather of John Miller Dickey was a marble merchant in Philadelphia who made contributions to the education of African-Americans in that city as early as 1794. Dickey's father was a minister of the Oxford Presbyterian Church. After serving as a missionary and preaching to the slaves in Georgia, John Miller Dickey became pastor of that same church in Oxford, Pennsylvania, in 1832. Sarah Emlen Cresson inherited a long tradition of service and philanthropy through the Society of Friends in Philadelphia. John Miller Dickey was active in the American Colonization Society, and in 1851 took part in the court actions leading to the freeing of a young African-American girl who had been abducted from southern Chester County by slave raiders from Maryland. At the same time, having been unsuccessful in his efforts to gain college admission to even the most liberal of schools for a young freedman named James Amos, Dickey himself undertook to prepare the young man for the ministry.

In October 1853, the Presbytery of New Castle approved Dickey's plan for the establishment of "an institution to be called Ashmun Institute, for the scientific, classical and theological education of colored youth of the male sex."

In 1866, the institution was re-named Lincoln University in 1866 in honor of President Abraham Lincoln. At that time, Dickey then proposed to expand the college into a full-fledged university and to enroll students of "every clime and complexion." Law, medical, pedagogical and theological schools were planned in addition to the College of Liberal Arts. White students were encouraged to enroll and two graduated in the first baccalaureate class of six men in 1868.

During its early years, Lincoln was known colloquially as 'the Black Princeton' due to its Princeton University-educated founder and early faculty, rigorous classical curriculum, ties to the Presbyterian Church and its similarities in colors and mascots. (Princeton's colors: orange & black; Lincoln's colors: orange & blue; Princeton's mascot: the tiger; Lincoln's mascot: the lion).

Since its inception, Lincoln University has attracted an interracial and international enrollment from the surrounding community, region and around the world. The university celebrated its 100th anniversary by amending its charter in 1953 to permit the granting of degrees to women. In 1972, it formally associated with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a state-related, coeducational university. Lincoln is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools and offers academic programs in undergraduate study in the arts, sciences as well as graduate programs in human services, reading, education, mathematics and administration.

In 2012, Lincoln adopted a new university logo for business use in addition to its established university seal solely for honors and commencement.

Reginald Byarse Jr. was named Lincoln University's Interim Head coach on May 1, 2017 replacing Herb Pickens who left the university. Byarse becomes Lincoln's fourth head football coach since the program was revived in 2008.

No stranger to the Lincoln football program, Byarse spent the last season as the Lions' Special Teams Coordinator and Defensive Backs Coach where he coordinated and managed all aspects of special teams position/positions assignment. Lincoln's punt return unit was one of only six Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) schools to average over ten yards per return in the 2016 season. Byarse also was heavily involved in opponent evaluation and development of defensive game plans and assists with the administrative functions of the program.

Prior to joining the Lions, Byarse spent six seasons coaching on the high school level with stops at Lusher High School in New Orleans, Louisiana as well as Western Hills and Hughes S.T.E.M. High Schools in Cincinnati, Ohio. Byarse served as Varsity Assistant Head Coach at all three schools and was the Offensive Coordinator at both Cincinnati schools. At Lusher, Byarse was also the Assistant Defensive coordinator for the varsity program.

Byarse is a member of the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) and the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association (OHSFCA).

Reginald graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 2011 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Sports Administration. He served as volunteer coach with the Bearcat football program for two seasons and was a program organizer for four years for "A Road to Follow", a program for at-risk youth in the Cincinnati area while he was a student at the University of Cincinnati.

LIVINGSTONE COLLEGE

Livingstone College was originally founded as Zion Wesley Institute by a group of African Methodist Episcopal Zion ministers in Concord, N.C., in 1879. The College later relocated to Salisbury, N.C., in 1882, and was eventually renamed for David Livingstone, a British Christian missionary, philanthropist and African explorer. Livingstone College's founding President is Dr. Joseph Charles Price, who served from 1882-1893.

Livingstone College, a private, co-educational institution of higher learning, is proud of its holistic college approach that aims to teach students what they need to know inside and outside the classroom to ensure they persist to graduation and assume their rightful place in today's global society. The College's Twelfth President, Dr. Jimmy R. Jenkins, Sr., implemented "The Total Learning Environment," a holistic approach to academic instruction, when he assumed the institution's top administrative post in 2006.

The Total Learning Environment requires all Livingstone College students to take two semesters of Spanish, learn CPR and become well-versed in financial literacy. Likewise, it teaches students health and wellness, individual and organizational leadership, cultural and social awareness and political action and social responsibility while requiring them to perform at least 80 hours of community service before earning their degrees.

Livingstone College is accredited by Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award the baccalaureate degree. The College competes in the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) and is a proud member institution of The United Negro College Fund.

COACHING STAFF

Head Coach	----- Daryl Williams
Career Record	----- 15-24 (4 seasons)
Record at LC	----- 15-24 (4 seasons)
Office Phone	----- (704) 216-6098

Daryl Williams returns to the sidelines for his fourth season as head coach and offensive coordinator for the Livingstone College Blue Bear football program.

Prior to joining the Livingstone coaching staff in 2012, Williams gained experience as associate head coach and quarterbacks coach at Texas Southern University from 2007-2011. Williams guided Texas Southern to a Southwestern Athletic Conference Championship in 2010, along with the SWAC Western Division championship that same year.

From 2001-2007, Williams played an instrumental role in the Alabama State University football program, where he served as the co-offensive coordinator, recruiting coordinator and director of football operations. During Williams' tenure at ASU, he helped lead ASU to three SWAC Eastern Division Championships in 2001, 2003 and 2004, respectively. In 2004, Williams also help lead ASU to a SWAC Championship. Under Williams' leadership, the Hornets' offense led the SWAC in total offense.

A native of Memphis, Tennessee, Williams began his coaching career as an assistant football coach at Westwood High School. Later he became head coach at Northside High School, where he also worked as a physical education teacher.

Williams earned his bachelor's degree in physical education and recreation from Tennessee State University in 1996. He was named MVP at the 1993 Southern Heritage Classic and was selected to the OVC All-Conference team. In 1994 and 1995, he was named MVP at the 100 Black Men of America Classic.

Williams obtained his master's degree in counseling from ASU in 2004, the same year he interned with the National Football League's Tennessee Titans. Williams is a member of the American Football Coaches Association.

SAINT AUGUSTINE'S UNIVERSITY

~ Founded 1867 ~

Saint Augustine's University has a strong tradition of excellence and a rich legacy that ties the bonds of thousands of sons and daughters of this great institution from across the globe.

Saint Augustine's University was incorporated in July 1867 by Episcopal priests. The university began as a normal school with a technical and trade-related program and subsequently adopted a liberal arts curriculum. The school further extended its mission by establishing St. Agnes Hospital and Training School for Nurses to provide medical care for and by African Americans. It was the first school of nursing in the state of North Carolina for African-American students and served as the only hospital that served African Americans until 1940. One of its most famous patients was Jack Johnson, the first African-American world heavyweight boxing champion, who was taken to the hospital following a fatal 1946 auto accident near Franklinton, N.C.

In 1893, the school's name changed from Saint Augustine's Normal School to Saint Augustine's School. In 1919, the name changed to Saint Augustine's Junior University, the first year in which postsecondary instruction was offered. The school became a four-year institution in 1927. In 1928, the institution was renamed Saint Augustine's College. Baccalaureate degrees were first awarded in 1931.

In 2013, the university graduated its largest class in university history. Another pivotal moment occurred on Aug. 1, 2012 when Saint Augustine's College transitioned in name and status to Saint Augustine's University.

A priority from the beginning, the institution recognized the importance of spiritual formation for its students. Affiliated with the Episcopal Church, Saint Augustine's University was started by twelve Episcopal priests to teach freedmen. On Tuesday, Oct. 11, 1897, the Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina, the Rt. Rev. J. B. Cheshire, consecrated the university chapel. Alumnus Henry Beard Delany, the first African-American elected Bishop of the Episcopal Church in the United States, led as a teacher of carpentry and masonry at Saint Augustine's University. Students who were enrolled in the carpentry and masonry classes were required to construct the university's chapel, which is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Delany and his wife, Nanny, were the parents of 10 children, all of whom were born at St. Agnes Hospital. Two of their children, Sadie and Bessie, are alumnae of Saint Augustine's University. The Delany sisters' best-selling memoir, "Having Our Say," was made into a hit Broadway play.

Today, Saint Augustine's University is a four-year, private, liberal arts university in Raleigh, N.C. The university offers more than 20 undergraduate degree programs and is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

SAINT AUGUSTINE'S FALCONS

Head Football Coach

Saint Augustine's University removed the interim tag and officially named Tim Chavous as head football coach on Friday, Feb. 19, 2016.

Chavous coached the Falcons for eight games on an interim basis in the 2015 season. He guided the Falcons to a 31-24 win over crosstown rival Shaw University on Nov. 7, 2015.

"After his performance as an interim coach during the season, and his relationship with the student-athletes, the committee thought it would be in the best interest of the institution to extend his contract," Falcons' Athletic Director George Williams said.

Chavous has been with the football program for four seasons, including three full seasons as running backs coach. Under his guidance, standout tailback Roderick Davenport II became the University's career rushing leader in the modern era this past season, gaining 2,809 yards.

Chavous has been the team's academic coordinator since he arrived at Saint Augustine's University in 2012. The Falcons have thrived in the classroom under Chavous, winning three consecutive awards for having the highest grade point average among all CIAA football teams.

Before coming to Saint Augustine's University, Chavous was an assistant offensive coordinator and running backs coach at Saint Paul's College from 2005 to 2011.

While at Saint Paul's, Chavous was head baseball coach, admissions recruiter and director of student activities. During his tenure at Saint Paul's, Chavous coached one All-CIAA rookie player and one 1,000-yard rusher.

Chavous was running backs coach at Virginia State University from 2003 to 2004. He was a coach and camp coordinator at the University of Virginia during the summers of 2002 to 2004.

Chavous was a standout college running back at Bethune-Cookman University where he was a member of the 2001 MEAC championship team. He played two years at Pasadena (Calif.) City College for two years before transferring to Bethune-Cookman.

Chavous graduated from Bethune-Cookman with a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education and recreation in 2002. He earned a master's degree in education and physical education in 2012 at his alma mater.

In high school, Chavous was a four-year starter at running back and linebacker at Lakewood (Fla.) High School. He was all-county at linebacker.

A native of St. Petersburg, Fla., Chavous is a member of the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) and the Baseball Coaches Association.

He is the proud father of two children, Jaylen and Chela Chavous.

SHAW UNIVERSITY

Shaw University, located in Raleigh, North Carolina is the first historically Black institution of higher education in the South and among the oldest in the nation. The University was founded in 1865 by Henry Martin Tupper, a native of Monson, Massachusetts, a soldier in the Union Army during the Civil War, and a graduate of Amherst College and Newton Theological Seminary.

Shaw boasts many "firsts": the first college in the nation to offer a four-year medical program, the first historically Black college in the nation to open its doors to women, and the first historically Black college in North Carolina to be granted an "A" rating by the State Department of Public Instruction. Dr. Tashni-Ann Dubroy currently serves as the University's President.

The mission of Shaw University is to advance knowledge, facilitate student learning and achievement, to enhance the spiritual and ethical values of its students, and to transform a diverse community of learners into future global leaders. The University currently enrolls more than 1,500 students and offers more than 30 degree programs, including accredited programs in athletic training, kinesiotherapy, social work, divinity, religious education, and teacher education.

Shaw's history of leadership, activism and service is well documented. The Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) was established on Shaw's campus in 1960. In 1976, a task force was appointed to develop plans for what is now known as the Center for Alternative Programs in Education (CAPE), and beginning in 1980, eight extramural CAPE locations were established in addition to a Raleigh main campus site. Since 1994, more than 4,000 students have graduated from the program.

In 1993, the University made courses in ethics and values central to the general education that all of its students receive in order to emphasize its commitment to the inculcation of high personal standards and citizenship. In 1997, research was conducted by the University to determine why Black World War II veterans were excluded from receiving the top military award. Ten soldiers were recommended to the Pentagon to receive the Medal of Honor as a result of this study, and ultimately seven of the candidates were awarded the prestigious medal.

In 2009, the University's Institute for Health, Social, and Community Research was awarded a $4.3 million grant from the National Institutes of Health - National Center on Minority Health and Health Disparities (NCMHD) to implement The Shaw NCMHD Research Infrastructure in Minority Institutions (RIMI) Project.

On April 16, 2011 a tornado made a direct hit on the campus, causing severe damage to the University's student center and residence halls. Remarkably, just three weeks later, more than 350 students participated in the University's commencement exercises. On August 6, 2011 the University re-opened its doors and welcomed the class of 2015. The following year, on March 24, 2012, Shaw's women basketball team won its first NCAA Division II national championship by beating Ashland 88-82 in overtime. The Lady Bears' title is the first national championship in school history.

Shaw's students, faculty, staff and alumni contributed $133 million to Wake County's economy in 2013 and in 2014 the Shaw Divinity School received a $500,000 grant from the Lilly Foundation. At the start of the 2015-2016 academic year, the North Carolina General Assembly honored Shaw with both a Senatorial and House of Representative statement recognizing the University's contributions during its 150th Anniversary.

Shaw continues to produce outstanding professionals who contribute to the advancement of American society. Shaw graduates include several college presidents, a number of academic vice presidents, judges, lawyers, recording artists, school principals, pastors, teachers of the year, a president of the United Nations General Assembly, and other notable persons. In addition, the founder of North Carolina Central University and the first presidents of Elizabeth City State and North Carolina A&T Universities were all Shaw graduates. The third president of Fayetteville State University was also a Shaw graduate.

Adrian Jones was announced on Thursday, March 3rd, 2016 as the 17th head football coach at Shaw University. He joins Shaw athletics with impressive credentials in the football coaching ranks.

Jones comes to Shaw from North Carolina Central University where he was the running backs coach and camp coordinator for the Eagles. During his two stints at NCCU, Jones coached running backs, defensive backs and outside linebackers. As an assistant coach at NCCU, Jones helped the Eagles garner two CIAA championships (2005 and 2006), two MEAC championships (2014 and 2015) and a Black College National Championship (2006).

Prior to NCCU, Jones led his high school alma mater, Southern High School in Durham, N.C., to the 2013 NCHSAA 3-AA State Championship title. In his seventh season as the head coach at Southern High, Jones led the Spartans to the state title following the team's seventh straight playoff appearance under his supervision. With a Big 8 Conference championship also a part of the team's historic run, Jones was selected as the 2013 Big 8 Conference Coach of the Year. He was also the PAC-6 Coach of the Year three times after charging the Spartans to three consecutive PAC-6 championships from 2007 to 2009.

As a student-athlete at NCCU, Jones earned First Team All-Conference and Second Team All-Region honors twice and remains among the school's career leaders in passes defended (41) and interceptions (10). In 1996, Jones earned First-Team All-CIAA and Second Team All-South Region honors as a junior when he collected eight interceptions, placing him second on NCCU's single-season records list. He was voted as the NCAA Division II Player of the Week after tying a school record with three interceptions in a game against Elizabeth City State University. That year, the Eagles boasted the No. 1 pass defense in the nation.

Jones was again selected First-Team All-CIAA and Second Team All-South Region in 1997 after leading the conference with an 11.0-yard punt return average and a 29.5-yard kickoff return average. Jones broke a 52-year-old school record when he returned a punt 80 yards for a touchdown against Fayetteville State University, the longest punt return in school history at the time. He graduated from NC Central with a bachelor's degree in recreational therapy in 2001.

After NCCU, Jones went on to play arena football with the Carolina Cobras in 2001 and 2003, the Augusta Stallions in 2002, and the Greensboro Prowlers in 2000. He also served as defensive coordinator with the South Georgia Wildcats of the AFL2, leading his squad to the No. 1-ranked red-zone defense in the league.

Jones is married to Dr. Kamala Uzzell Jones, and has a daughter, Jayla.

VIRGINIA STATE UNIVERSITY

~ Founded 1882 ~

The bill was sponsored by Delegate Alfred W. Harris, a Black attorney whose offices were in Petersburg, but who lived in and represented Dinwiddie County in the General Assembly. A hostile lawsuit delayed opening day for nineteen months, until October 1, 1883. In 1902, the legislature revised the charter act to curtail the collegiate program and to change the name to Virginia Normal and Industrial Institute.

In 1920, the land-grant program for Blacks was moved from a private school, Hampton Institute, where it had been since 1872, to Virginia Normal and Industrial Institute. In 1923 the college program was restored, and the name was changed to Virginia State College for Negroes in 1930. The two-year branch in Norfolk was added to the college in 1944; the Norfolk division became a four-year branch in 1956 and gained independence as Norfolk State College in 1969. Meanwhile, the parent school was renamed Virginia State College in 1946. Finally, the legislature passed a law in 1979 to provide the present name, Virginia State University.

In the first academic year, 1883-84, the University had 126 students and seven faculty (all of them Black), one building, 33 acres, a 200-book library, and a $20,000 budget. By the centennial year of 1982, the University was fully integrated, with a student body of nearly 5,000, a full-time faculty of about 250, a library containing 200,000 books and 360,000 microform and non-print items, a 236-acre campus and 416-acre farm, more than 50 buildings, including 15 dormitories and 16 classroom buildings, and a biennial budget of $31,000,000, exclusive of capital outlay.

The University is situated in Chesterfield County at Ettrick, on a bluff across the Appomattox River from the city of Petersburg. It is accessible via Interstate Highways 95 and 85, which meet in Petersburg. The University is only two and a half hours away from Washington, D.C. to the north, the Raleigh-Durham-Chapel Hill area to the southwest, and Charlottesville to the northwest.

Virginia State University has a long history of outstanding faculty and administration. The first person to bear the title of President, John Mercer Langston, was one of the best-known blacks of his day. Until 1992, he was the only black ever elected to the United States Congress from Virginia (elected in 1888), and he was the great-uncle of the famed writer Langston Hughes. From 1888 to 1968, four presidents - James H. Johnston, John M. Gandy, Luther H. Foster, Robert P. Daniel served an average of 20 years, helping the school to overcome adversity and move forward.

For the next four decades, seven more presidents would lead the University to its current level of excellence including James F. Tucker, Wendell P. Russell, Walker H. Quarles, Jr., Thomas M. Law, Wilbert Greenfield, Wesley Cornelious McClure, Eddie N. Moore, Jr., and Keith T. Miller.

On January 1, 2015, Interim President Pamela V. Hammond took office as the first female leader of the University.

VSU's 14th President Dr. Makola Abdullah took control of the University on February 1, 2016.

Virginia State University President Makola Abdullah along with the Trojan Athletic Department is pleased to announce Reggie Barlow as the 25th Head Football Coach at Virginia State University.

Barlow spent eight years in the NFL: five with the Jacksonville Jaguars and two with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, where he won a World Championship in Super Bowl XXXVII and one offseason on the Oakland Raiders roster. He was used as a secondary wide receiver and punt returner. In 1997, he led the NFL in punt return yards with 555 yards on 43 returns.

In addition to being an accomplished player, Coach Barlow comes to the Virginia State University with more than a decade of coaching experience. He coached at several secondary schools before being offered a coaching position at his alma mater, Alabama State University, where he was the head coach from 2007-2014. As head coach, Barlow compiled an overall record of 48-42. In 2010, the Hornets went 7-5, claimed their fourth outright Southwestern Athletic Conference (SWAC) Eastern Divisional title and made their third trip to the league’s championship game in eight seasons. In 2011, the Hornets improved to 8-3 winning the Turkey Day Classic over Tuskegee.

“I am pleased with the selection that the search committee has made,” said VSU Director of Athletics, Peggy Davis. “We are excited to welcome Coach Barlow to the Land of Troy as the football program continues to move in the right direction.”

Barlow is the father of three children — Erica, Reggie Jr. and Simone.

VIRGINIA UNION UNIVERSITY

~ Founded 1865 ~

Virginia Union University's proud mission of providing a bridge to intellectual freedom and equality to newly freed slaves began in 1865. In April of that year, the American Baptist Home Mission Society (ABHMS) sent teachers and missionaries from its home office in New York to Richmond, Virginia to begin teaching former slaves. By November of 1865, ABHMS was officially holding night classes as Richmond Theological School for Freedmen. The students met in different locations throughout Richmond until 1867 when Lumpkin's Jail, a former slave jail and auction complex, was rented as the school's first permanent location.

In 1870, Richmond Theological moved to the United States Hotel on the corner of 19th and Main streets in Richmond. By the end of 1880, President Dr. Charles Corey claimed that student preachers had converted 7,000 souls throughout the South. In 1899, ABHMS merged Richmond Theological and Wayland Seminary to create Virginia Union University. ABHMS had established Wayland Seminary in Washington, D.C. in 1865, one of 27 institutions of higher education founded by ABHMS to educate freed slaves after the Civil War.

The princely sum of $500,000 was expended for the construction of nine buildings erected with Virginia gray granite using a late-Victorian Romanesque style of architecture. The first classes were held at this new Lombardy Street location on October 4, 1899. Virginia Union operated as a mostly male institution until 1932 when it merged with Hartshorn Memorial College, also founded by ABHMS as the first college in the United States to offer bachelor's degrees to African American women.

The fourth educational institution that comprises the "union" in Virginia Union is Storer College. Founded by the Home Mission Society of the Free Will Baptist Church in Harper's Ferry, West Virginia in 1867, Storer was the first institution of higher education for African Americans in West Virginia.

For more than 150 years, Virginia Union University has expanded its educational footprint throughout the world. Our graduates have made major contributions to the fabric of America, including 22 college presidents, the country's first elected African American governor, Virginia's first African American state senator, and Richmond's first African American mayor. Virginia Union graduates have made significant contributions in education, medicine, science, business, the arts, athletics, and theology. The promise of a limitless future continues.

VIRGINIA UNION PANTHERS

Head Football Coach

James is in his third season as Head Coach for the Panthers. Mark James became Virginia Union University's 26th Head Football Coach on January 21, 2014.

James joined the Panther coaching staff prior to the 2013 season as the defensive line coach, and he's in his sixth season overall coaching at the collegiate level.

James has made several coaching stops along his way to Virginia Union. He was a Head Coach for nine years at two major high schools in south Florida. James was able to build powerhouse programs that gained national recognition for producing some of the top division I prospects and several NFL players.

In his tenure he has worked with a number of successful past and present NFL players. His list of NFL players coached includes Patrick Simms, Louis Holmes, Stanley McGlover, Leonard Hankerson, Major Wright, Hanik Milligan, Daryl McGlover and Super bowl winning Josh Bynes.

He started his coaching career as a high school defensive assistant at Coconut Creek in 1997. In 1998, James made the decision to attend Virginia Union University after transferring from University of Louisville. Upon graduation from Virginia Union University in 2000, he returned back to the south Florida area to return to his coaching pathway.

James was the Head coach at Dillard High in 2003-2005. From 2005-2011 he was the Head coach at Boyd Anderson where James won three district championships and lead the team to become the school's all-time winningest football coach. James has also had short stints at Norfolk State University (Linebackers) and St. Paul's College in 2011(Offensive Coordinator). His thumb print in south Florida athletics is that he is known for placing the most players in college in an eight-year period than any other program in the state of Florida. James was a defensive lineman at University of Louisville from 1990-1993 and Virginia Union University from 1998-2000.

He earned a degree in history from VUU in 2000. James was named the National VUU Alumni of the Year in 2007. He earned his Master's degree in educational leadership from Florida Atlantic University and is scheduled to earn his PhD in higher education administration in 2016.

James is married to Adia Middleton-James (Former two-sport athlete at VUU '99). He and his wife Adia have three children, Dane, Malik, and Mark Jr.

WINSTON-SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY

~ Founded 1892 ~

Winston-Salem State University was founded as the Slater Industrial Academy by Simon Green Atkins on September 28, 1892. Atkins had an audacious vision to create an institution where every student would meet the challenges of the day equipped with an education designed to intellectually prepare the “head, hand, and heart.” Twenty-five students attended classes in a one-room frame structure and were taught by a single instructor.

In 1925, the General Assembly of North Carolina recognized the school’s curriculum above high school, changed its name to Winston-Salem Teachers College, and empowered it under authority of the State Board of Education to confer appropriate degrees. Winston-Salem Teachers College thus became the first black institution in the nation to grant degrees for teaching the elementary grades.

In response to a growing medical community emerging in the Winston-Salem area, the School of Nursing was established in 1953, awarding graduates the degree of Bachelor of Science. In recognition of the university’s growing curriculum and expanding role, the North Carolina General Assembly of 1963 authorized changing the name from Winston-Salem Teachers College to Winston-Salem State College.

A statute designating Winston-Salem State College as Winston-Salem State University received legislative approval in 1969, and in 1972, Winston-Salem State University became one of the 16 constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina, subject to the control of a Board of Governors.

Since its founding in 1892, Winston-Salem State University has grown from a one-room frame structure to more than 39 buildings located on a picturesque 117-acre campus overlooking the woodlands of Salem Lake in the heart of Winston-Salem.

The university is now number one in the UNC system for North Carolina job placement for graduates and number one in the UNC system for the average salary for triad-area graduates. It is home to an award-winning student activities center, top 25 division II football, basketball and baseball programs, and offers students 100-plus student organizations.

With a faculty-to-student ratio of 16:1, the university enrolls approximately 5,000 students and offers more than 40 bachelor’s programs, 9 master’s programs, two professional doctoral programs, and two certificate programs.

Through the Division of Lifelong Learning, opportunities abound for non-traditional students to pursue studies through evening-weekend, summer, distance learning, and continuing education classes.

A new era for Winston-Salem State University football has begun, and Kienus P. Boulware is leading the charge as the new head coach of the Winston-Salem State University Rams. The ninth head coach in Winston-Salem State University history, he will look to carry on the proud tradition that is Rams football.

"This is a dream job, and I'm at a dream school," Boulware said. "I'm extremely happy that this day has come."

"Though this is Boulware's first head coaching position, he brings a wealth of experience to the position and has been well-prepared to carry on the strong legacy of the WSSU football program," said Bill Hayes, athletic director.

Kienus Boulware is in his third full season as head coach of the WSSU Rams. He has compiled a record of 15-7, and is coming off of a CIAA Championship season in 2015.

Boulware arrived at Winston-Salem State University after spending four years as an assistant coach at Shaw University in Raleigh, where his defensive teams ranked tops in the nation in 2007 and 2008, and brings with him a wealth of collegiate coaching experience and championship pedigree.

Boulware has transformed the WSSU defensive unit into the best in the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association and the nation each year. His 2013 defensive unit was not only tops in the CIAA, but finished the season ranked as the top Division II defense in the nation. During the Rams run to national title game in 2012, his defense led the CIAA once again and finished 12th nationally. In 2011, his defense led the CIAA and finished ninth in Division II and his defensive unit finished ranked as the number one unit in the CIAA and fifth nationally in 2010.

Not only have his teams been ranked at the top during his tenure, but Boulware has also produced the last three Defensive Players of the Year in the CIAA. Carlos Fields, Jr. was named the Co-Defensive Player of the Year in 2013, as well as being named the 2012 CIAA Defensive Player of the Year. In 2011, Alton Keaton took home the award from the CIAA as the league's top defensive player.

A native of Thomasville, N.C., Boulware starred in football and also was a two-time state champion wrestler at Thomasville High School. He would go on to play two seasons (1993-94) as an inside linebacker at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill before his football career was shortened by the discovery of a spinal cord abnormality. He remained on the sideline as a student coach for two seasons under former coach Mack Brown, working with linebackers and defensive linemen.

Upon graduating from UNC-Chapel Hill in May of 1997 with a degree in organizational communication, Boulware coached linebackers at Livingstone College for two years (1997-98) and helped to lead the Blue Bears to a pair of CIAA Championships.

Following his tenure at Livingstone he moved to North Carolina Central University in Durham, where he served in various capacities including assistant football coach (linebackers and defensive line), assistant track coach and assistant athletic director.

While at NCCU, he worked primarily with the Eagles linebackers after spending one season (2003) as the defensive line coach. In 2004, two linebackers topped the team in tackles, including CIAA All-Rookie Team pick Marcus Short, who led the way with 64 total tackles. From 1999-2002, he coached linebackers under head coach Rudy Abrams. During those four seasons, a linebacker led the team in tackles three times.

When not on the field, Boulware enjoys playing racquetball, working on cars and working out with the WSSU student-athletes.

Boulware and his wife, Kellie Kelsey Boulware, reside in Winston-Salem, NC.

CIAA FOOTBALL HISTORY

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

The CIAA originally began the divisional championship game format in 1970. At that time, the Northern and Southern Division Champions squared off and played a championship game, and the format continued until 1990. The Conference realigned into Eastern and Western Divisions in 1997, and since 1993, the CIAA has determined its champion by overall conference winning percentage. The inter-divisional conference championship game, a format pioneered by the conference, has become somewhat of a staple in Division I Football with the Southeastern, Big 12 and Western Athletic Conferences utilizing the format. All began their championships in the 1990s.

The championship game was played up until 1992, when Hampton University defeated Winston-Salem State 27-14 at Bowman Gray Stadium in Winston-Salem, N.C. After an eight year hiatus, the championship game returned in 2000 in Durham, N.C. on November 11th. The first place teams in the Eastern and Western Divisions battled on the gridiron for the right to be declared CIAA Football Champions. Winston-Salem State University edged Virginia Union University by a score of 31-28 to claim its second consecutive conference championship. This time, however, the title was won between the lines.
