

Techsapoppin Weekend Being Planned

T.C.A. Begins Combined Drive On November 3

Dinner for Workers At Grad. House Thurs.; Drive Goal Set at $6,750

To raise funds for a varied program of student service and foreign relief, the Technology Christian Association and National Student Association will conduct their annual combined financial drive among Institute student body during the week of November 3 through November 7.

The TCA has set a goal of $4500 for the drive, while the NSA, acting on behalf of the World Student Service Fund, hopes to obtain $2250 for foreign student relief. The TCA goal is $1500 less than that set last year, since the Freshman Camp was self-supporting. Funds donated to the TCA will be used to cover operating expenses of the Association's program of student service.

A dinner for all those who will work on the coming drive will be held on Thursday, October 30, at 6:00 p.m. in the Campus Room of the Graduate House. Post cards are being sent to the two hundred odd students drive workers. Among these workers are all Dormitory and Building 22 officers plus a selected group from the fraternities, Westgate, and the Graduate House.

Baker Speaks at Dinner

Dean Baker will speak at the dinner on the proper psychological approach to be used in collecting funds for the drive, while Molly Seasholes, a senior at Radcliffe, will briefly outline the work of the WSSF. Benjamin J. Brettler, '48, a co-chairman of the drive, will preside over the dinner.

The WSSF is the American agency cooperating with World Student Relief, an international organization which is non-sectarian and non-political in operation. Allocation of relief supplies is made entirely on the basis of need. WSR's

Need Technicians For '48 Tech Show

Meeting In Tyler Lounge To Be Held Next Thurs.

Plans for this year's Tech Show got under way last week with the announcement that meeting will be held on Thursday, October 30, at 5:00 p.m. in Tyler Lounge for those interested in technical work with the production.

The Tech Show is an annual musical comedy written and produced by and for Technology students, wives and secretaries. Last year's show, entitled "A Liberal Life," was performed in Jordan Hall before audiences of 1000 people on two succeeding nights near the end of the spring term.

The meeting on next Thursday will be for people interested in lighting, stage design, stage crew, costumes, scenery painters and builders, property men, and make-up. Music writers who missed last spring's meeting have been asked to attend at this time.

All those who are interested, but will be unable to attend the meeting Thursday are asked to contact James Berman, '48, construction manager of Tech Show, at the Senior house.

It is to be emphasized, according to General Manager Harold L. Field, '48, that this meeting is not for casting. Preliminary casting meetings will be held on November 12 and 13.

VOO DOO ATOMPROOFS OFFICE

As shown above, worried VOO DOO men are insulating their editorial office with cigarette aluminum foil. The man with his ear to the Geiger counter is counting Geigers and waiting for neutrons to pop through the plaster, while the other man is ready to knock them right back. VOO DOO regrets that, because its office is small, it cannot shelter everyone at Technology, but has offered atomic insulation for men coming out for the staff.

"World Government By 1955" Is Theme Of Osborne Lecture

Lecture Series Comm. Also Sponsors Pigors In Personnel Discussion

"World Government by 1955," a lecture by Henry C. Osborne, Laborite Member of Parliament and noted lecturer and author on the subject, will be presented next Wednesday afternoon, October 27, in Room 10-250 at 5:00 p.m.

Mr. Osborne, who is at present on an American lecture tour, has a definite plan for world government. He advocates a people's constitutional convention to meet in Geneva in 1950, or sooner. Representation would be by nations, with each entitled to one representative for every million people. In order to determine the general public viewpoint, Mr. Osborne favors referendums in the individual nations.

Outlines Plan

The essential points of Mr. Osborne's plan are as follows:

1. Central federal control of armed forces and weapons.
 2. A world atomic development authority, with full control.
 3. A world bank with stable currencies for all nations.
 4. World antifamine food board.
- The movement headed by Mr. Osborne has strong support in Britain, where many important personages are standing for election as representatives to the proposed conference.

Last Wednesday the committee presented Professor Paul Pigors, whose theme was "Good Personnel relations require proper policy thinking."

"The chief executive is the only person who can make final decisions on matters of company policy," Professor Pigors said. The logical person to give assistance to the chief executive in policy-thinking for personnel relations would be the personnel administrator.

Professor Pigors stressed the following four essential features of a successful personnel policy:

1. In terms of a general principle, it states a constructive management purpose.
2. It commits management to put this principle into practice.
3. It leaves room for discretion by those who are to apply policy.
4. It is consistent with other policies which, taken together, comprise a complete policy system.

Inst. Comm. Passes Final Judgments In Harvard Case

Probation Recommended After Lengthy Discussion; NSA Approval Deferred

Final action was taken by the Institute Committee yesterday in regard to the recent Harvard incident. Four resolutions were passed and sent to Dean of Students Everett M. Baker for consideration by the Faculty Committee on Discipline.

A factual account of the incident was approved, along with recommendations for discipline of the three men most responsible for the "raid." Leniency was recommended because the Institute rule concerning expulsion in cases of "mass action" was not generally known.

The Institute Committee ruled that it had no jurisdiction over Jack W. Rizika, '47, one of the ring-leaders who is now a student at the Harvard Graduate School. The facts of his participation are being sent to Deans Baker and Bunker of the Institute Graduate School to be handled at their discretion. In the cases of Ralph E. Segel, '48, and Ed Chase, '49, probation was the only action, with the further recommendation that a letter be sent to Segel's parents, explaining his part in the affair.

Motions favoring the expulsion of Segel from the dorms were defeated. Under an unanimous motion, a three-man subcommittee was set up to write a minority report in the cases of Chase and Segel.

Action on the National Student Association constitution was tabled until next week. A vote of confidence in the provisional N.S.A. committee was passed so that the committee may operate in the interim.

Activities Must Register With Walker Committee

Every recognized activity in the Institute is required to have a list of present officers on file in the Walker Memorial Office. In addition, the head of each activity is required to appear at the Walker Memorial office any day between 4:00 and 6:00 p.m. to read and sign the constitution of his activity. Failure to comply with these requirements within two weeks will result in the loss of official recognition and the use of all institute facilities.

Sports Events Scheduled Plus Saturnalia Dance And Selection Of Queen

Spirit Is Strong In Grid Tourney

Chi Phi, Theta Chi Win By Lightning Attacks

The first round of the intramural football tournament is all but over now with only one postponed game to be played off. The series is to be noted for the enthusiasm with which the Tech men have responded to the stimulus of the new sports program.

The Senior House won as Art Levine intercepted a pass and ran 15 yards to tie the game 6-6 in the fourth quarter, and Corny Hudak scored over center in the "sudden death overtime." Sudden death overtimes are periods after the regulation four quarters in which the first team to score wins. Leader of the Theta Chi team in their crushing win over Theta Xi was Fred Dunbrie with two touchdowns. He was followed over the last chalk line for one tally each by teammates Jack Corrie, Don Eaton, and Bill Proctor.

The married men of Westgate proved themselves equal to the might of the bachelor Delta Tau Delta men. In front of the admiring eyes of their little women Tom Gale scored three times and John Marshall once to roll up the winning score. Miller scored all three times to rack up the points for the victorious Phi Mu Delta team. Receiving two passes from the accurate arm of Earl Hoyt he crossed twice and then finished the fine performance by carrying the ball across on an end run play.

Basketball, Swimming Hockey And Fencing Are Part of Program

"Techsapoppin," a carnival of intercollegiate athletic events in keeping with the new sports spirit at the Institute, will come to life on Friday and Saturday, December 5 and 6. Hailing a program of six pitted battles of basketball, wrestling, fencing, squash, swimming, and hockey, the student spectators will also enjoy a post-game dance Friday night and a contest to pick "Queen of Techsapoppin" on Saturday evening.

The program, now being brought to completion, boasts first of a varsity basketball game against Boston University. The tilt, which will be held in Mechanics Building Friday evening, will be followed by a dance under the name "Saturnalia."

Saturday's afternoon program includes wrestling, fencing, squash, and swimming which will be held here on the campus. Each event will weigh Technology's skill against the best which the colleges can present.

Early Saturday evening the selection of "Queen of Techsapoppin" will be made from among the dates of those who attend the program. The scene of the event will be the Massachusetts Avenue National Guard Armory, where a group of impartial students chosen from dormitories, fraternities, and commuters will judge the winner.

Following the crowning of "Queen of Techsapoppin," Saturday evening participants will go to the Boston Arena where the Institute's pucksters will battle against another collegiate team as yet undecided.

NSA At Technology Becomes Official Student Organization

Activity Heads Of NSA Appointed At Weekly Meeting

A constitution to govern local policies of the NSA was drafted and approved by members of the NSA at their weekly meeting last Monday. Temporary chairmen were appointed by Earl W. Eames, '49, general chairman, to head permanent committees covering projected activities of the NSA which are enumerated elsewhere on this page.

It was also announced at this meeting that ten students from Technology are to represent NSA at a regional conference being held at Mt. Holyoke College this weekend. Over 200 delegates from upper New England colleges and universities will submit reports on campus activities and formulate plans for the coming year.

Further announcement was made by Eames to the effect that Robert Smith of Harvard, vice president of NSA in charge of international activities, and Malcolm Adiseshah of India, director of World Student Relief, are expected to attend the Institute Committee meeting of October 23. Both men have agreed to explain their position in connection with the NSA.

New Enterprise Gains Approval From Inst. Comm.

All preliminaries to official affiliation of Technology with the United States National Student Association were cleared last night upon approval by the Institute Committee. Earl W. Eames, Jr., '49, chairman; Rosemary Durnan, '48; and Paul C. Johnson, '49, delegates to the NSA constitutional convention this summer at the University of Wisconsin, submitted the 25-page report to the Institute Committee.

According to the report, which contained the N.S.A. Constitution and several reports on student welfare, the following projects are prominent among those to be initiated this year at the Institute:

1. Work with the administration in planning the 12-week summer course for foreign students next summer.
2. Cooperate with TCA in their drive for funds in November, since the International Relief Drive is included in the TCA campaign.
3. Conduct a full investigation and publish reports on the cost of living at Technology.
4. Work for the extension of faculty evaluation program.
5. Sponsor a bi-weekly free film

FIELD DAY AND FOOTBALL

Over the years there have been a number of complaints about the lack of a football team at Technology. One of the main arguments against it has been the apparent lack of spectator interest in Institute sports. Students in favor of football can do a lot to show their interest by appearing this Friday and Saturday at practice football games by our sophomores and freshmen against outside schools.

The frosh will play Saturday at 2:30 P.M. against Northeastern Frosh, and the Sophs against Boston Latin today about 3:00 P.M. Both games are at Briggs Field.

Otherwise, while we are not trying to take the business of predictions of the outcome of Field Day away from Oscar, pre-field Day activity seems to be along the usual lines. The freshmen, instilled with the do-or-die spirit acquired in high school, are turning out in rather large numbers for all the Field Day sports; the sophomores, lackadaisical as always, are biding their time with the result that openings still exist on their teams.

However, the sophomores are always slow in turning out and depend on a small number of trained athletes; also their previous experience counts heavily in defeating the overwhelming numbers of "naive" frosh in the glove fight. And so far they have had a preponderance of victories in Field Day.

But, sophs, let's not be too overconfident. There is always the chance of an upset.

LET'S PLAY UP UNITY INSTEAD

The big headlines this week have gone to the House Un-American Activities Committee which has been investigating what it calls Communist infiltration in Hollywood and on Broadway. There is no doubt but that this is an important investigation. We think, however, that the whole thing is being carried a little bit too far and that the committee, which consists of such men as John Rankin, is doing more harm than good in unearthing this "sensational" evidence.

Let us first say that we would agree with the Committee and especially some of the undoubtedly eloquent speakers such as Adolph Menjou, if we could believe their facts and the conclusions which they draw on those facts. If Hollywood and Broadway were really spouting the party line a serious situation would be at hand. For those places are potential fountainheads of propaganda and we have seen the importance of this art during the last war and even now in its aftermath. It is difficult to believe, however, that this is actually the case because it seems hard to swallow such allegation as the fact that forty-four per cent of the plays on Broadway are actually following the party line. Were they thinking of "Brigadoon" or "John Loves Mary."

In order to prove how Broadway was spreading Communist propaganda, Mr. Menjou cited the pictures "Mission To Moscow" and "North Star." What he objected to in these pictures, however, was not any sinister undercurrent to overthrow democracy but rather playing up the courage of the Russian people and glamorizing our recent allies.

How Mr. Menjou feels about the Russians is clearly evident by his own statements. He said, for example, that "I'd move to the state of Texas if they (the Communists) come over here because I think the Texans would kill them on sight."

So here we have this undoubtedly important personage, for importance in this country is unfortunately often measured by adulation on the movie screen and by posing for whiskey ads, monopolizing the headlines with statements of a questionable nature and certainly a strange viewpoint on international affairs.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of The Tech:

I should like to call attention to the flagrant violations of the freshman regulations concerning the wearing of the red and grey ties. This year the sophomores seem to have lost all interest in hazing the frosh, and to date the frosh seem to be enjoying it all. In previous years the freshmen were compelled to wear their ties at all times, and by this date in the fall the majority of the ties had lost their red and grey color, having been spotted by ink and hacked by scissors.

If the people insist that there is a lack of school spirit at MIT, they certainly could make a start here and institute some active hazing, although not that of the obviously dangerous type. Too many freshmen have not yet experienced the loss of their pants. Arise, ye sophs!

TECH STAFF MEETING

All men who are trying out for THE TECH staff except those interested in the business department are asked to attend a meeting in the news room Tuesday night, Oct. 28, at 5:00 p.m.

We feel that the MS department is stealing a march on the rest of the Institute. They seem to have so many movie projectors in their classes. Even Prof. Livingston with his colored chalk can't compete with Sergeant Fisher at the lantern slides.

At the risk of further lowering our mark in MS, we must mention that the Army's method of removing particles from your comrade's eye with a clean handkerchief does not conform with religious specifications. Doesn't the Bible say to remove the bean from your own eye before you go casting motes out of your neighbor's eye?

Head Coach McMillin is deeply concerned about our prospects for next year. The Varsity crew is recruited from the previous year's frosh team, but with the small size frosh force this term there is considerable question whether we can maintain our standing.

On par with the mystery of where elephants go to die is the question of what coaches do in the morning. Since the crew starts practicing late in the afternoon coaching duties do not start until three. Coach Manning, an expert craftsman, spends all his time at the boat house keeping the shells in shape. Coaches McMillin and Jackson are employed by the Institute as aeronautical engineer and metallurgical chemist respectively.

STAFF PLAYERS

William Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing," will be presented at the Peabody Play House by the Staff Players on the nights of December 11 to 13. Rehearsals take place two evenings a week in the architecture exhibition room.

BATON SOCIETY

Dean Everett M. Baker and Professor Klaus Liepmann have been elected as honorary members of the Baton Society, it was announced recently. In addition, officers for the coming year have been announced. They are: President, William Nemitz, '48; Vice-president, Robert Giljohann, '48; Secretary, Barbara Feeney, '49; and Treasurer, William Wilson, '49.

Plans for the annual faculty dance are under way with William Howlett, '49, as chairman. An evening of dancing and entertainment is planned with invitations extended to the entire instructing staff.

MIT.M.A.

The Institute Management Association's fall term banquet will be held in the Campus Room of the Graduate House on Wednesday, October 29, at 6:00 P.M.

After the meal, R. J. Caldwell, Dean of Humanities and lecturer of the Fletcher School of Diplomacy, will give a talk based on his recent trip to South America. After Dean Caldwell's speech, Vice-President Killian will speak on the "State of affairs at the Institute."

The price of the meal and the evening's entertainment will be $1.75 per plate. Reservations may be secured from Miss Dutton in Room 1-285 before noon on October 27.

TAU BETA PI

The Institute chapter of Tau Beta Pi, the national honorary engineering society, recently elected new officers for the present school year. They are: President, William Zimmerman, '48; Vice-president, James Adelstein, '48; Recording Secretary, George Freund, '49, Corresponding secretary, Lee Montgomery, '48, and Treasurer, Jules Levin, '48.

In the 42nd national convention, held October 9, 10, and 11 in New York City, the delegates approved the incorporation of the society and the plans for the erection of a new national headquarters building in Knoxville, Tennessee. Austin, Texas, was chosen as the site for next year's meeting, with the chapter at the University of Texas as hosts.

DRAMASHOP

The Dramashop will present its annual play in February. It may present more than one play this year because of the unusually large number of freshmen who have shown interest in the society by attending its initial meeting. The committee appointed to select the play will announce its decision next week, with tryouts the following week.

Boston can be Beautiful

By DAVID MARCUS

Boston is beautiful!! It's just about time that some one stood up and defended the fair city of Boston and its institutions.

In a recent issue of The Tech one of my fellow writers made some very disparaging remarks about my home town. In fact, almost anyone who doesn't come from Boston is usually making remarks about this city.

The first targets of these critics are the Boston newspapers. Granted, some of them run "sensational" headlines, but this is nothing compared with a certain New York tabloid in this respect. A Boston newspaper will play up sensational doings in Boston; New York papers go all the way to Havana for their scandals.

Of course, in the middle-west, there is a newspaper publisher who believes himself the greatest general in the world. His paper issues his word as the gospel. (Generals (Continued on Page 3))

The Combined Glee Clubs and the Symphony Orchestra are to present "The Messiah" on December 12. Ronald Kallman, '48, stated that the Women's Glee Club will not sing unless there are 100 girls at this week's rehearsal, Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. in Room 1-390. All students, students' wives, staff and staff wives are eligible for membership.

Twenty-seven Institute students have organized to form a Bridge Club. This organization has petitioned for a charter from the Institute Committee in order to officially become an organization but will carry on activities informally until such time as it is recognized.

Elected president was Axel Coffin, '49. Dues for the term were set at $1.00 to defray expenses for cards and duplicate boards. The club will hold weekly tournaments on Saturday afternoons in Tyler Lounge in Walker Memorial.

During the course of the year teams will be picked from the members to represent the Institute in inter-collegiate tournaments. Matches were played last year with several of the schools around Boston including Wellesley and Radcliffe.

New members interested in playing bridge are invited to come to the Saturday meetings. Lessons will be given to beginners and more advanced players at announced times.

Boston Beautiful

Eisenhower and Marshall please note).

It is admitted that there are two or three really great newspapers in this country. Isn't it funny that people who read the New York Times in New York generally read the Christian Science Monitor in Boston? People who read good newspapers, such as the Times and the Monitor, find one wherever they go. "Critics" probably read the same trash wherever they go.

Why shout about Boston politicians being crooked? It seems to me that I have heard some names like Crump, Kelly, and Hague spoken of in not too gentle terms in other parts of the country. Boston turns out good politicians as well as bad ones. However one often hears of some of these men: MacCormack, Saltonstall, John Kennedy, and Joe Martin.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra does pretty well for itself, to say the least. Conceded to be, even by its severest critics, one of the four or five great orchestras in the nation, it plays before a larger audience each year than any other similar organization. It also has the largest and most complete summer festival of any orchestra.

As for Boston sports, we have our ups and downs. The Boston Bruins are a perennial power in the National Hockey League, while the Red Sox won the pennant two years ago, and have just hired a manager who will probably win it for them next year. The Braves are

Booters Beat Trinity, 2-1 Lose To Tufts

Show Overconfidence After Two Victories; Meet Harvard On Wed.

Since their initial win in the first game over Fitchburg, the Technology soccer team has scored one victory and one defeat. Last Saturday, October 18, the Beavers defeated a strong Trinity team at Hartford, 2-1. But Wednesday, October 22, at Briggs Field, the team lost to a better spirited Tufts eleven, 4-5. But thus far in three games the team has scored ten goals, two more than it scored in the whole season last year.

The team was up for the Trinity game, and though slightly outplayed, the cardinal and gray team made the most of its opportunities to pull the game out of the fire. Before two minutes had been played, Jaime Patron finished an attack with a good goal shot to give Technology a lead of one goal. A seesaw battle then ensued with neither team able to score. Near the end of the second quarter, the referee called for a penalty shot against Tech, which Nelson scored for Trinity.

Veras Scores

In the beginning of the third quarter, with the game's tempo at high pitch, Dimmitriou failed to convert a penalty shot as the Trinity goalie caught the ball just on the line of the goal. But when the ball found its way to Captain Jim Veras, he was close enough to the Trinity goal to be able to shoot a hot ground ball right into the net for the winning score, 2-1. Tech was able to hold off Trinity for the rest of the game.

Tufts Wins

A spiritless Tech eleven was outplaying the Tufts soccer team last Wednesday for three periods and leading 4-2 after the third stanza, when the usually strong Beaver defense completely collapsed. In the fourth period the Jumbo inside-left McKinley scored three times, once on a penalty shot, to give the game to Tufts 5-4. A strong case of overconfidence was noted among the players, as they apparently looked past this game for next week's Harvard game.

Dimmitriou opened the scoring for Technology in the first quarter to give the home team the lead.

Basketball

Varsity basketball practice has gotten under way. All candidates for the varsity squad should report for practice in Walker Gym any afternoon at 5:00 p.m.

Steve Rozendaal and Patron added two more goals in the second period, while Steele and McKinley scored for Tufts in the same quarter. Patron shot his fifth goal of the season on a penalty shot in the third stanza, but this finished Tech's scoring for the day, although the team had several other fine chances.

Playing for Tech the last two games have been Hendershot in the goal, with Falcao, Rand, Dimmitriou, and Ferrand at fullback. The halfback line has seen the services of Captain Veras, Bergmann, Jenkins, Falcao, and Skillman. Cooper, Rozendaal, Lacson, Dimmitriou, Patron, Marlio, Rosenberg, Cinik and Hoegfeldt have led the attack in the forward line.

Meet Harvard Wednesday

Harvard is the next opponent for the soccer eleven, as Tech meets the Crimson on Briggs Field Wednesday, October 29. As Harvard has previously beaten Tufts, Tech is definitely the underdog team.

Lambda Chi Alpha split the honors for its two touchdowns between Bill Fisk and Zanus Crocker. Exciting point in the Hayden-Bemis vs. Phi Kappa game came as Gene Wroblewski intercepted a pass behind his own goal line to carry the ball on an eighty yard run that had the spectators running too. The two touchdowns for the winning Wood-Goodale team were scored by Don Thomas receiving a twenty-five yard pass from Frank Heilenday and again by Thomas on a short run after the team had pushed down to the five yard line.

Harriers Harass Tufts; Frosh Lose

Tech's varsity cross-country team was successful in defeating the Tufts varsity 23-38 as predicted, but the Jumbo freshmen ran away from the Tech frosh to the tune of 18 to 37. The meet was run over the Tufts course at Medford last Saturday.

Leading the varsity men across the finish line was Tufts' marathoner Ted Vogel, his time being 19.56.5. Hank Henze (time 20.25) and Bud Knapp (20.29), both from Tech, finished second and third respectively to lead the Beaver parade.

Freshmen Trail Tufts

In their first meet of the season, the Technology freshmen harriers lost to Tufts 18-37. Tufts took the first three places, while Moore placed fourth, Forbes sixth, McKee eighth, Lortschner ninth, and Hewitt tenth to form the Beaver team. Some of the men show promise for future years, but at the present the frosh team does not seem as strong as the varsity.

This Saturday the team travels to Amherst to meet the runners of the University of Massachusetts over their course. As the course out there is somewhat hillier than the trails around Boston, the team will gain valuable experience for the coming Intercollegiate meet, which is held in New York City over many a steep hill.

7. Hold weekly meetings to coordinate these activities.

Student Bill of Rights

A Bill of Rights (not amendments to the NSA Constitution) was drafted at the Student Congress in "order to preserve and extend those conditions indispensable to the full achievement of educational objectives. . . ." Special attention is devoted to the principle that "off-campus activities of individuals shall not be the basis of campus restrictions, and that on-campus regulation shall be uniform and not exceed the limits of the United States Constitution."

It was emphasized in the report that a strong local student government is essential for an active NSA.

Skippers Capture Wood Trophy Race For Third Season

Two triumphs marked the past weekend of sailing for Technology's skippers as both varsity and freshmen teams topped all competition in Intercollegiate Yacht Racing Association events.

Competing in the fifteenth annual regatta for the Jack Wood Trophy, the varsity helmsmen nabbed victory laurels for the third consecutive year in the event sailed on the Charles Basin last Sunday. With a 16-point margin of victory, the Tech forces staved off bids by Harvard and Brown, which copped second and third in the regatta, respectively.

Freshmen Win

Sailing in Preliminary "F" for the annual Freshmen Dinghy Championships, two of Tech's freshmen skippers piled up a total of 61 points on the Mystic Lakes last Saturday to defeat five New England freshmen teams, as Middlebury placed second with 54 markers to also qualify for the finals. The finals of the Freshmen Championships, slated for tomorrow and Sunday on the Basin, will bring together the 10 teams which qualified in the five elimination sailings to determine individual and team honors.

Dan Greenbaum paced the Technology sailors in the Wood Trophy regatta as he annexed high-point skipper laurels with 48 points in first division sailing. The co-skipper team of Chuck Bloomer and John Marvin registered 36 more points in that division to give Tech an 84-point total in the first division and a seven-point lead over Harvard, the closest contender.

Lead Division

The Engineers also took the lead among second division skippers as John Lawson and co-skippers Phil Bridges and Ray Brown racked up 83 points to come away with first place for Tech in the second division. Tech's total score of 167 eclipsed Harvard's 151 and Brown's 149 points, while Coast Guard and Dartmouth trailed the three leaders.

Differing from the usual I.C.Y.R.A. events in that more team racing is required with the two additional crews, the Wood Trophy regatta is the oldest of the Association's traditional limited competitions. Of the 15 times the event has been held, Technology failed only on four occasions to win the plaque honoring the M.I.T. sailing master "Jack" Wood.

Nickerson Shines

A pair of talented freshmen skippers brought victory to Technology in the eliminations for the Freshmen Dinghy Championships at the new Tufts Yacht Club facilities on the Mystic Lakes. Tech's Bob Nickerson lacked only one point of tying for high-point honors in the races,

Dave Cist Elected Dorm Comm Head

Botway Is Treasurer;
Friedman New Secretary

Head of this year's Dormitory Committee is David Cist, '48, who won the general election last Friday covering all Dormitory and Building 22 residents. Also elected at the meeting of the Committee last Monday were Don Botway, '49, and Frank Hulswit, '49, as treasurer and secretary, respectively.

As chairman of the Committee, Cist says that he intends to try and integrate the dormitories and the Committee into a more active group, making the residents feel competently and thoughtfully represented. Towards these ends, he plans to bring the constitution of the Committee up for revision, (the Committee is at present working under the constitution of 1932) and incite greater interest in elections through more extensive publicity.

A Princeton graduate, Cist entered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a freshman. He was class president in both his sophomore and junior years, and is vice-president of this year's senior class. He was a representative-at-large on last year's committee, and has been officer on the Institute Committee in his sophomore, junior and senior years. He is president of this year's Dorclan, and a member of the Quadrangle Club.

Defeated candidates for chairmen were Bob Friedman, '48, and Don Botway, '49, who has been acting as temporary chairman for the first part of the year.

This year your dollars may bring medical service to a tubercular Italian student, food and winter blankets to cold and starving Chinese students, or shoes and pencils to Greek students.

TCA's record of service to the Institute student body is familiar to all. Almost as soon as a person is admitted to the Institute, the TCA starts taking an interest in him. The incoming student's name is sent to the fraternities, then the student is sent a copy of the TCA's M.I.T. Handbook which tells him about Institute life and activities.
