FOR THE STUDENTS

This afternoon the first of what is hoped will be a long series of lectures is to be given in Huntington Hall by Governor Leverett Saltonstall under the sponsorship of the Lecture Series Committee. This Committee, formed during the middle of July, is set up to present students lectures of non-technical nature, as it is felt by many that this is what the students here are lacking. Among the subjects planned by the committee are ing. national politics, foreign relations, and post-war policies.

This series can be either very well attended or very much ignored by the student body, depending on how well the Committee is able to interpret the wants of the students. The purpose of the group is to give the students what they want, not what the Committee thinks the students should have. Their task is one of service, not one of deciding what to teach their fellow students. The job is a difficult one, but can be done if the Committee keeps constantly on its toes and in touch with student opinion.

HEAD START

Every year there is some person or group who runs around at the last minute trying to find signers for nomination blanks for class elections. There is often another group which would have run if they had known how to go about it, but they never found out.

As announced last week, the class elections of all classes are to be held on October 11. Now is the time for people to decide whether or not they want to run, and whether they have any friends who ought to run. Start thinking about it now, don't wait until the last minute. In order for a student democracy to work everyone must put some thought and effort into it.

In The Spotlight

Recently the newspapers carried the tragic story of the death of Peter Saltonstall, son of the present governor of Massachusetts, as a result of enemy action on Guam in the Mariannas. Sgt. Peter Saltonstall of the Marines was but one of the three children of Leverett Saltonstall who are now in the service of their country. Leverett, Jr. is a lieutenant in the Army and Emily B. Saltonstall is a member of the WAVES.

Saltonstall himself Governor served in the Army in France during the last war shortly after he graduated from Harvard Law At Harvard University, in 1917. from which he graduated in 1914, the Governor took an active part in sports. He rowed bow on the Harvard second crew in 1914 which won all its races that season, and captained that crew in the same year when it won the Royal Regatta at Henley. He played end on the second football eleven and did the kicking for that team. Governor Saltonstall also was a substitute center at hockey in his senior year at Harvard. His high spot came when against Princeton, in the longest college game on record, he scored the winning goal.

The governor still retains an interest in sports and occasionally attends hockey and football games. His favorite sports include sailing, tennis; golf, and skating. Some years ago the governor broke his neck in a fall while horseback rid-

"Spirit of Victory"

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, its twenty-one associated operating telephone companies, Bell Telephone Laboratories, and Western Electric Company, continue to face unprecedented demands for telephone communication.

Never before in the country's history has there been so much evidence of the indispensable part telephone service plays in the life of the nation. It makes a direct contribution to the effectiveness of every part of the war effort.

The sense of responsibility which telephone people call the "spirit of service" is in this war the "spirit of victory." The men and women of the Bell System, in whom this spirit lives, may be relied upon to do their utmost.

Identity of Tech J.V. Crew Still Undecided; May Depend On Wind

Tomorrow, the Charles River will be the scene of this term's only crew race, with Cornell, Harvard and Tech the participants. The first race which brings together the Tech and Harvard third boats will be started at 3:45, and will be followed by the J. V. race at 4:15 with all three schools entered. The big race of the day will be the varsity race at 5:00.

A confusing situation prevails at the Tech boathouse as the identity of the J. V. boat has not yet been established. This week time trials only served to frustrate Coach Moch as both the Lightweights and the Second Heavies have finished second to the varsity. At the moment Moch plans to row the lightweights as J. V.'s if a tail wind prevails, similarly the Heavies will be the J. V.'s if there is a headwind. Nothing has been planned to cover a dead calm. However it is known that the boat that doesn't row in the J. V. race will row as the third boat.

Tech Boatings

The lineup for the three Tech boats are: Varsity: Thorkilson, stroke; Hield, 7; Kalb, 6; Rudolf, 5; Russell 4; Hoaglund, 3; Street, 2; Hunter, bow. Lightweights: Little-field, stroke; Kinehan, 7; Mc-Kewen, 6; Frailey, 5; Schuman, 4; Compton, 3; Hoffman, 2; Huschke, bow. Second Heavyweight: Winkler, stroke; Stephenson, 7; Kuriss, 6; Ormiston, 5; Heuchling, 4; Belcher, 3; Edgerly, 2; Hoover, bow.

Beaver Key Race Nears Completion

Activity in the Beaver Key Softball Tournament has slackened with the approach of Fall, and there are no games to report for the past week. With two teams already in the round-robin, and a single game remaining to decide the third finalist, the tournament is in its last stages, and it is hoped that all the games can be played before the beginning of the Beaver Key Football Elimination, the first games of which are scheduled about a month from this date.

Some of the important contests, which will be played in the next week are the Phi Kappa Sigma versus Theta Chi tilt, and the Phi Sigma Kappa play-off game with Phi Gamma Delta. The first, to be played next Tuesday, will decide the third member of the finals, and the second game, at the present scheduled for Sunday, will be the first play-off game of this season.
