

The London School of Astrology

Learn astrology online in your own time

Study with us from anywhere in the world

Join over 10,000 students who have been taught by Frank Clifford and his LSA team over the years in a dozen countries around the globe and online.

In the coming months, we'll be uploading courses for all levels of study – whether you're an absolute beginner or looking to use astrology professionally.

Each of the 9 courses offers 18 hours of pre-recorded videos (with tutor and presentation) and at least 6 live (also recorded) Q&A sessions (Sunday evenings, UK time, 75 mins each) – available for a year. You'll receive a wealth of learning materials, articles to read (and a recommended reading list), free lectures and optional homework (allow a couple of hours for reading each class and a couple of hours to do the assignments). Below is a quick summary of the subjects we cover each year.

£255 per course (incl. all materials and access to a course's videos, assignments, Q&As for 12 months)

Year One: Our Foundation Course

Learn the essential tools and 'language' of astrology: the zodiac signs, planets, aspects and houses; work on your own charts and the horoscopes of people in the news, and start to spot and synthesize major chart themes. You'll also learn astrology in 'real time' by watching charts animated dynamically using the latest software.

This year of study is ideal if you are: a beginner; wanting to revise the basics or fill in the gaps; self-taught or have been reading about astrology for years but want to broaden/ground your knowledge and receive help filling in the gaps.

- Course 101 • Signs and Planets – Introducing the horoscope wheel; data; learning the glyphs; sign divisions (elements and modes); introducing the Big Three (Sun, Moon, ASC); exploring the zodiac signs; the luminaries (Sun and Moon) and the lunation cycle; introducing Mercury to Pluto.
- Course 102 • Angles, Houses and Aspects – Chart shapings; the four angles and twelve houses; the issue of house division; house rulership and the chart ruler; decans and degrees; finding aspects; major and minor aspects; the Void Moon; retrogradation; introducing the Nodes.
- Course 103 • Synthesising the Fundamentals – Mix and match: planets in sign, planets in combination, signs in combination, sign polarities; introducing Chiron and other bodies; planetary strength; finding signatures in the horoscope; interpretation exercises; synthesising chart factors.

Year Two: Our Intermediate Course

During this exciting year of study, you'll develop your skills in interpretation and forecasting with class examples and live client work. You'll be introduced to forecasting methods such as transits, planetary cycles, solar arc directions, secondary progressions, and returns. You'll also learn essential tools and techniques for today's working astrologer, including locational (astro-maps) and mundane astrology, plus the art of synastry (chart comparison).

This year of study is ideal if you are: familiar with the basics of astrology (signs, planets, aspects, houses); keen to develop your interpretation skills and knowledge of forecasting; in need of guidance with natal charts and transits.

- Course 201 • Advanced Interpretation; Forecasting and Transits – Natal interpretation practice; interpreting configurations (incl. t-squares); forecasting principles and guide; transits and generic life cycles; forecasting diary.
- Course 202 • Forecasting Methods – Which forecasting method when?; solar and lunar returns; symbolic systems of forecasting: solar arc directions and secondary progressions; combining forecasting methods; lunar gestation cycle; Huber life clock; profections.
- Course 203 • Mundane, Locational and Synastry – mundane (world and political) astrology; locational astrology (astrocartography, the relocated chart, local space); synastry (relationship compatibility and assessment); parental and sibling significators.
