Digital RCRT is a systematic teaching on how to learn. This is a more effective way of learning which is put together to access deeper conscious mind. There is a connection between memory and awareness. There is lot to learn from ancient wisdom and RCRT is one such powerful steps towards it.

In education it relates as to taking what is there but making it more effective as "to learn" how "to learn so they can retain their syllabus" in the memory.

“RCRT brings about that much needed shift from “Teacher centric” education to “student centric” learning, where students are the decision makers of what they want to learn thus making them creators of knowledge from mere absorbers of knowledge. Guruji has done phenomenal work in the field of education, particularly with school children and who better than Siddhant himself to take the vision of his great father forward through the Digital RCRT Program. I would recommend digital RCRT to students simply because I have personally witnessed the unbelievable pace at which children complete their entire syllabus and the confidence it stirs in them when they are able to retain and generate all that they have learnt with utmost perfection.”
