Real World Interview Skills For Life

Executive interview coaching techniques made accessible to High School Students

Our Vision Is Simple

Talking about yourself in an interview with little or no work experience is not easy. That's why High School to Hireable was born. We felt strongly that the techniques & tools we've developed over 20 years and use to teach Professionals, CEO's, the odd ex-Olympian and Airline Pilots globally had to be accessible and affordable to all High School Students.

Bridging the gap from education to employment.

The tools & techniques we teach are the foundation for succeeding at any interview. Students will use these skills for life.

Confidence comes from knowledge & preparation

GET INTERVIEW READY

For many students there is a gap in knowledge and practical skills heading into interviews for university, apprenticeship or jobs. With the reduced access to practical work experiences and more competition for jobs due to Covid, this gap is widening.

As parents, teachers and educators there is an opportunity to support each other to fill the gaps where funding and time fall short.

Executive level training is costly in a one-on-one setting but what if a class or year group could easily access quality training and practical skills together?
