RUSS & DAUGHTERS

At the Jewish Museum Restaurant & Take-Out Appetizing Counter

After more than a century on the Lower East Side, Russ & Daughters, the New York City culinary landmark famous for their bagels and lox, smoked fish and traditional baked goods, opened a restaurant and take-out appetizing counter at the Jewish Museum, on the Upper East Side. Presenting appetizing classics with timeless appeal in the Museum's beautiful and historic setting, it's a match that is, as they say, bashert (meant-to-be)!

Russ & Daughters at the Jewish Museum is the perfect place to nosh during your visit. The restaurant also offers a popular book-ahead Saturday Shabbat Brunch, and private event rentals for any occasion, including weddings, brises, and bar and bat mitzvahs. Catering, and delivery orders of their world-famous food are also available, from generous platters to just a bissel.

Floor Three includes a multimedia listening room, featuring covers of Cohen's songs by Feist, Moby, and others that pay tribute to the life and legacy of Leonard Cohen.

Scenes from the Collection

Ongoing

Divided into several Scenes, this dynamic installation explores ways in which art and objects are shaped by context and perspective, with each item touching upon a facet of the broader Jewish experience. On view through August 11, 2020, The Gift: Works from the Barnett and Annalee Newman Foundation Collection highlights the artistic spirit and generosity of the groundbreaking artist Barnett Newman, and his wife, Annalee.
