Listen to the following audio recordings of a child's utterances at different developmental stages (from 6 months old to 5 years old). Identify their age and sort them in the right developmental order. Brief description of each utterance is presented below. The third audio is listed here as a clue.

- (1) Audio A (<https://t-nagano.info/375vTFj>):
 - This child has demonstrated complete mastery of the verb tense (e.g., hit, got, saved etc) and has uttered very complex sentences such as "Remember we got him at a different mall?" "A horse was on a ship and a student? came and the boy touched on fire, and the horse save the boy because the boy saved the horse on fire on the boat."
- (2) Audio B (<https://t-nagano.info/3j0pv4t>):
 - This child started to use independent words (e.g., Gua (maybe got?) and Hey) and attempted to repeat his/her parents, but his/her utterances are limited to a single (and often incomplete) word.
- (3) Audio C (<https://t-nagano.info/3mCA0ts>):
 - This child started to use chunked phrases (e.g., Put in the ball, Put in Lego?), but most phrases lack any sign of productive English morphology (e.g., the past tense -ed or the progressive -ing).
- (4) Audio D (<https://t-nagano.info/31T1MK2>):
 - This child started to use complete sentences (e.g., Data, did you have a present?, But this is the present.) with various English inflectional morphemes (e.g., the past tense -ed or the progressive -ing).
- (5) Audio E (<https://t-nagano.info/37WK0hI>):
 - This child uttered mostly a sequence of the same consonants (e.g., dadada, uuuuu).
- (6) Audio F (<https://t-nagano.info/2HDYt2J>):
 - This child uttered full sentences, but the sentence is still missing tense and inflectional morphemes (e.g., Blue one, I paint this a picture (rather than painted)).
