Spring 2024

For this Post-lecture Assignment (PLA), you will modify (or create) your student ePorfolio using LaGuardia's Digication platform. Note: Please do not create multiple ePortfolios for yourself. Instead, continue working on the existing ePortfolio that you have created in your First Year Seminar.
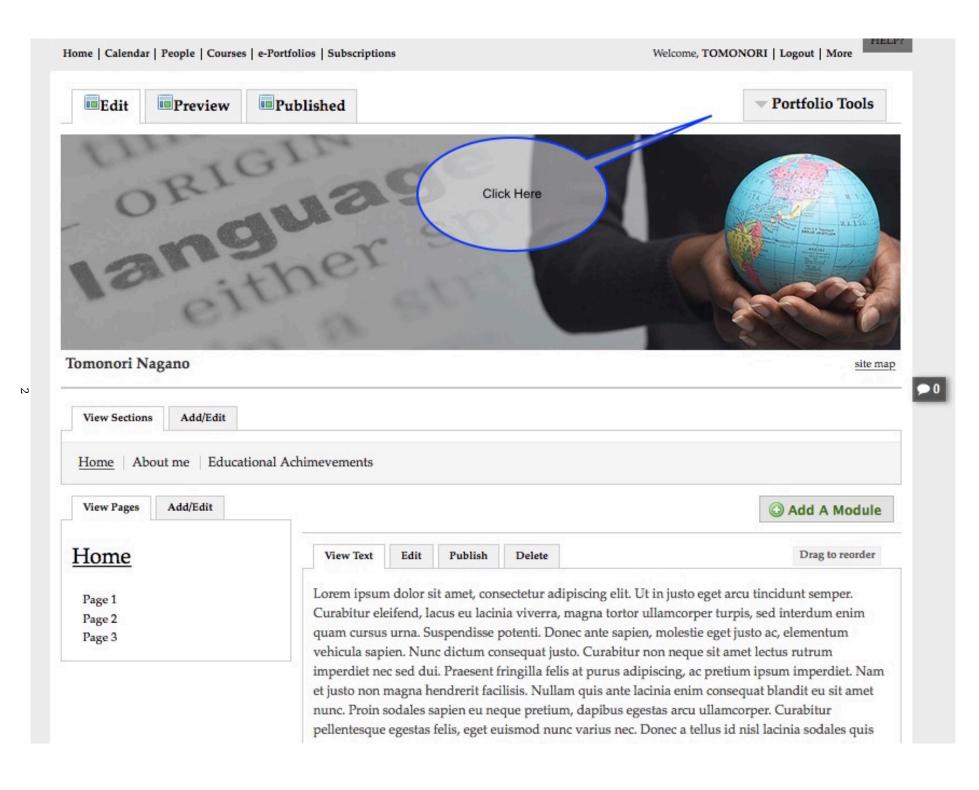

(1) Find your ePortfolio. If you don't have one (if you have recently transferred from another school etc), please speak with me individually.

(2) Make sure that you have the menu titled "Educational Achievement/Coursework" (or something similar). You should have a link to your Freshman Seminar Class there.

(3) For this class, create an "ELN101: Introduction to Bilingualism" module under "Educational Achievement/Coursework." In other words, ELN101 will appear right after (or next to) your Freshman Seminar Class. Your ELN101 page should include the following components:

   a) Your language autobiography (the first week PLA; copy and paste it as text, rather than an attachment)
   b) A visual related to the course (i.e., images about bilingualism)
   c) ELN101 course description (Copy it from https://laguardia.catalog.cuny.edu/courses/0754521)
   d) ELN101 syllabus (Download it from https://t-nagano.com/mycourses/ELN101/)

(4) You will receive credit for this assignment as long as you create a page for ELN101 and add it to your ePortfolio. I trust your aesthetic and creative mind – you can choose how you want to present your ePortfolio.

Please make sure to change the permission of your ePortfolio viewable to others (either "public" or "private within LaGuardia") so that we can see your ePortfolio with the link. See the attached instructions. (see the attached screenshot)

See a few examples of ePortfolio at the following URLs:

- Shane Arreaga: https://bit.ly/3HgqrwM
- Keishmy Claudio: https://bit.ly/3Kq5nDB

Submit the link to your ePortfolio through Blackboard Week06 Post-lecture Activity (PLA). You just have to submit a link to your ePortfolio for this assignment.
