PUBLISHERS' NOTES

A simple thank you for the past 15 years is an understatement. In one of the most challenging times in our economic history, the Performing Arts Magazines continue to grow and thrive. Is it the loyalty of the arts patron or better still the creative program offerings by the arts? We believe our success to be a wonderful combination of the two.

First consider the diversity of the Fall shows, which includes; Wicked, Beethoven, Frankie Valli and The Four Seasons, Mozart, Steel Magnolias, Al Jarreau, Curious George, Little House on the Prairie, LA Theater Works, The Fall of the House of Usher, and Giselle, just to name a few. Add to the mix the enviable demographic of the arts patron and donor, and you have the most fertile print advertising vehicle in Nashville.

In a good economy our publications are a great place to advertise. However when the economy slows, we are a pressing necessity. As you read tonight's publication, you will notice that a record number of advertisers have agreed. These companies not only understand the importance the arts play within the diversity of our community, but they also value you as a customer in the new economy we are all adjusting to. So whenever possible, please show your appreciation by patronizing our advertisers.

We thank you again as we celebrate our 15th year as publishers of the Performing Arts Magazines, and as always we value your input.

Enjoy the show!

Welcome to the Tennessee Performing Arts Center.

As you experience the wonder of Wicked, Mariachi Vargas, Little House on the Prairie, and our Family Field Trips this fall, you know why “the magic happens here” is the theme of our new song and ongoing advertising campaign.

TPAC also works magic in the lives of thousands of children each year.

TPAC Education brings world history, literature and culture to life for students at little or no cost. We provide free curriculum-based resources for teachers and send artists to schools, where the arts are proven to advance learning. Health, safety, self-esteem, communication, tolerance for diverse cultures, and the value of education and community are among the concerns targeted by our pre-school program and explored through works of art and educational activities for all ages. The arts set the stage for more effective education in stronger communities with better citizens.

Welcome

KATHLEEN W. O'BRIEN

TPAC PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

You can make the magic happen for more children. Please consider making a donation. Just $7 subsidizes the admission for one student to see a school performance at TPAC, where no child is turned away for inability to pay (and more than 5,000 children each year attend at no cost to them). You can place a check or cash in the contribution box to the left of the elevators in Jackson lobby... Donate online at www.tpac.org/donate... or send a check to TPAC, PO Box 190660, Nashville, TN 37219.

A non-profit organization, TPAC uses the income from ticket sales, concessions, and facility use to operate and maintain the building. Contributions from people like you help us to deliver one of the most comprehensive education programs in the nation – a model that other performing arts centers follow.

You can make a difference. You can make the magic happen here.

Thank you. ✿

Kathleen W. O'Brien

They're Playing our Song

When we say “they’re playing our song,” we do mean our melody. Yes, just for TPAC. To our knowledge, it’s the only full-fledged song, to our knowledge, written for a performing arts center in the nation, a tribute to the talent in our home town of highly creative songwriters.

Looking for a short refrain, we were told “Jingles are so yesterday. You need a song.” The Nashville company 615 Music drafted professional songwriters Greg Barnhill and Randy Watchtler for our project, which included collaboration with the creative minds on the TPAC staff. We’re all thrilled with the end result, with the refrain of “I Can Feel Some Magic Starting Here,” performed by Becki Ryan.

Take a listen! Visit www.tpac.org/magic to watch the 30-second commercial or hear the full song. We hope you think it’s magic, too.

Your ticket to the magic TPAC selling tickets on own system

The Tennessee Performing Arts Center now sells tickets on its own independent system, ending 29 years with Ticketmaster.

Customers can continue to purchase tickets for TPAC performances in ways they always have – online and at the box offices within the arts center and at Davis-Kidd Booksellers.

What’s new? Customers pay less fees and a phone line is dedicated to selling TPAC tickets, which are no longer available at Ticketmaster outlets.

Magic Happens Here!

Legends Come to Life

Season ticket sales are up as the Tennessee Performing Arts Center opens the 2009-2010 series of HCA/TriStar Broadway at TPAC.

“Wicked had an impact, but we’re getting lots of feedback from patrons on the strength of the full season,” said Kathleen O’Brien, TPAC’s president and chief executive officer. “People buying season tickets are attracted to the familiar titles, shows geared to families, and the combination of classic, contemporary, and shows that have never before toured to Nashville. We’re hopeful that our success so far is a strong indication of an improved economic climate for arts and entertainment in the city and state.”

Season ticket packages for the remaining shows in the season will continue to be sold through March.

After Wicked, HCA/TriStar Broadway at TPAC features Little House on the Prairie with Melissa Gilbert and 101 Dalmatians – both new musicals – followed by The Drowsy Chaperone, The Color Purple, and A Chorus Line. TPAC is also presenting the return of two audience favorites, Mamma Mia! and Disney’s Beauty and the Beast, as optional add-ons to a season package. See page 29 for dates, pick up a Center Stage and Broadway brochure in the lobby, or visit www.tpac.org for details.

“What musical won more Tony Awards than any other in 2006? The Drowsy Chaperone! Even up against powerhouse titles like Jersey Boys and The Color Purple, this unique musical in a comedy has had tremendous appeal to audiences, critics, and Broadway insiders. The tunes are catchy, the characters are comical, and the action is fast-paced,” said O’Brien. A tribute to theatre-lovers, the show features Broadway’s biggest fan. A musical magically comes to life around him as he listens to the score of his favorite show, with the unlikely title of The Drowsy Chaperone, so named because the title character does such an awful job of keeping up with her charge, a young woman about to be married in 1928.

“The Color Purple has become one of those rare musical theatre landmarks with universal appeal. Audiences are surprised by the humor and love the music – a blend of gospel, soul, and rhythm and blues, a real American feel,” said O’Brien. The 1983 novel earned the Pulitzer Prize and was adapted for film by Steven Spielberg, before it was presented by Oprah Winfrey, one of the screen stars, on Broadway, drawing a new generation into the theatre and pulling them into the gripping epic about an African-American woman who overcomes adversity with extraordinary courage and endless capacity to forgive, love and laugh.

The two best decisions of my life.

Having a baby with my Vanderbilt Nurse-Midwife was such a warm, wonderful experience that I want to share our choice with everyone who's starting a family. Our relationship was built on her sound clinical skills and a holistic approach, including personal attention. She was there for me every step of the way, first listening, then acting as a coach and teacher while always giving us choices based on what was best for our family. I felt she was not just an amazing professional, but also a personal friend. There's no better experience in the world than having a baby. Doing so at Vanderbilt Medical Center with a Vanderbilt Board Certified Nurse-Midwife made it even better.

One of the most comprehensive programs of its kind in the nation, TPAC Education has served over 1.5 million children, from pre-school through high school, over the past two decades. Each year, up to 70,000 people – students, teachers, artists and adult patrons – take part in four distinct programs.

HUMANITIES OUTREACH IN TENNESSEE (HOT) presents an annual season of outstanding professional performances of theatre, dance, and music that complement curriculum objectives and provide a rich variety of artistic and cultural expression for school groups. To make these experiences more fulfilling and accessible for students, HOT offers in-school visits, post-performance seminars, and teacher workshops, as well as subsidized tickets, travel grants, and logistical support. All teachers receive guidebooks containing performance information, production-specific arts insights, historical background, and activity suggestions that can be used in the classroom before and after the performance.

INSIDEOUT is for adults who want to grow in their knowledge and enjoyment of the performing arts. Events come in many shapes and sizes, and in many different places both inside and out of TPAC's downtown theaters. InsideOut offers a series of lunch seminars, rehearsal and performance excerpts, workshops, and sneak previews behind-the-scenes.

ARTSMART integrates education and the arts to build study units that make learning fun. Educators and teaching artists collaborate to engage students in multi-faceted explorations of the relationship between the arts, the world around them and their own personal expression. The learning culminates in the experience of exceptional live performing and visual arts presentations. Through ArtSmart professional development, teachers discover ways to incorporate arts-based strategies into their classroom work and further the critical and creative thinking of their students.

WOLF TRAP EARLY LEARNING THROUGH THE ARTS is a nationally affiliated program that utilizes the disciplines of music, dance, theatre, and puppetry as powerful tools for educating pre-school children. Professional performing artists partner with early childhood educators and create activities that target curriculum and developmental goals for 3-to-5 year olds, including emerging literacy skills, social interaction and self-expression. WolfTrap residencies and workshops provide training for teachers in arts-based instruction techniques they can employ in their classrooms.

The adventure and excitement continues...

THE 101 DALMATIANS MUSICAL

features all-star cast

Not long ago, there lived in London a young married couple of Dalmatian dogs named Pongo and Mrs. Pongo. They were lucky enough to own a young married couple of humans named Mr. and Mrs. Dearly, who were gentle, obedient, and unusually intelligent – almost canine at times.

This dogs-eye view of the world presented in Dodie Smith's original novel inspired the concept for The 101 Dalmatians Musical, coming to TPAC in January.

The musical adventure story with a lively contemporary score by Dennis DeYoung stars Broadway leading lady Rachel York as Cruella DeVille, along with a cast of accomplished performers – human and canine!

STARRING RACHEL YORK AS CRUELLA DE VIL

“Here is an enchanting, upside-down vision of the world: seeing life from the dogs’ point of view....we are instantly transported to a slightly topsy-turvy, exciting, and altogether fantastic reality that gives grand license for song, dance and spectacle,” said book writer BT McNicholl.

Discovered by trainer Joel Slaven, the shelter-dog stars of The 101 Dalmatians Musical got a second chance and a stage break, travelling in a rock-star-style tour bus and performing a choreographed number all by themselves. On the road, the dogs have two rehearsals a day, playtime, grooming sessions, and media appearances.

Think globally. Print locally.

A WORLD OF PRINT SOLUTIONS

As one of middle Tennessee's oldest printers, our roots run deep. Not just in the local community, but across the globe. After all, we're part of a nationwide network of commercial printers. But more than that, we're also participants in the worldwide movement to sustain the planet. In fact, we recently became the first full-service commercial printer in Nashville to be certified by the Forest Stewardship Council.

And a rear seat that appears with a touch of a button. Even details like double-stitched seats became big ideas. The Nissan Murano brings it all together in one beautiful place. Look Closer.
