From Darkness to Sight

FOREWORD BY SENATOR WILLIAM FRIST, MD

MING WANG Harvard/MIT (MD)
PhD (laser physics)

chronicles the remarkable life journey of Dr. Ming Wang, a world-renowned laser eye surgeon and philanthropist.

As a teenager, Ming fought valiantly to escape one of history's darkest eras – China's Cultural Revolution – during which millions of innocent youth were deported to remote areas to face a life sentence of poverty and hard labor. Through his own tenacity and his parents' tireless efforts to provide a chance of freedom for their son, Ming eventually made his way to America with $50 in his pocket and an American dream in his heart, where against all odds he would earn a PhD in laser physics and graduate magna cum laude with the highest honors from Harvard Medical School and MIT. He embraced the Christian faith and tackled one of the most important questions of our time – Are faith and science friends or foes? – which led to his invention of a breakthrough biotechnology to restore sight.

To date, Dr. Wang has performed over 55,000 eye procedures and has treated patients from nearly every state in the U.S. and from over 55 countries worldwide. He is considered the “doctor's doctor,” as he has operated on over 4,000 physicians. Dr. Wang has published 8 textbooks, holds several U.S. patents and performed the world's first laser artificial cornea implantation. He is currently the only surgeon in the state who performs 3D LASIK (age 18+), 3D Laser Kamra (age 45+), 3D Forever Young Lens Surgery (age 50+), and 3D Laser Cataract Surgery (age 60+). He established a non-profit foundation which provides sight restoration surgeries for indigent patients who otherwise would never have the opportunity to receive them free-of-charge.

All proceeds donated to the Wang Foundation, a 501c(3)
non-profit charity

This is a story of one man's inspirational journey, of turning fear, poverty, persecution and prejudice into healing and love for others. It demonstrates how focus, determination, humility and profound faith can inspire a life that, in turn, impacts that of countless others.

Inside A Gentleman's Guide to Love & Murder

When the Tony Awards were handed out in June of 2014, the stylishly comic musical, A Gentleman's Guide to Love & Murder, took home four trophies, including the biggest: Best Musical.

"It was the most incredible thing," says author Robert Freedman, who also took home an award for Best Book. "It's surreal and it's wonderful." His collaborator, Steven Lutvak, who wrote the music and co-authored the lyrics, adds, "Given the almost 11 years that we had worked on the show, to win that was nothing less than astonishing."

Both Lutvak and Freedman, who met in 1981 at NYU's Graduate Musical Theatre Writing Program, and director Darko Tresnjak, made their Broadway debuts with Gentleman's Guide, which Charles Isherwood, in The New York Times, called "inspired and hilarious."

The plot, loosely based on a 1907 novel by Roy Horniman, which also served as the inspiration for the film comedy Kind Hearts and Coronets, concerns a penniless young man named Monty Navarro who discovers that he is the ninth in line to become the Earl of Highhurst. Since the aristocratic family, the D'Ysquiths, disinherited his deceased mother and denies his existence, Monty takes matters into his own hands; he knocks off each of his relatives, one by one, in outrageously amusing ways.

What keeps the musical light and entertaining is that every single one of the D'Ysquiths – male, female, young and old – is played by the same actor.

"If you have a talented actor getting killed over and over again," says director Tresnjak, who won a Tony for his work on the show, "then each murder is a reward, because he's going to come back as another delightful characterization." And, Freedman adds that each D'Ysquith is "loathsome in different ways, but in kind of the same way, in their attitude toward the little people, and their arrogance, which is silly. They're all silly people, too."

"There's nothing like it in the world."

– Robert Freedman

A big part of the musical's appeal is its theatricality. There's a toy stage inside a larger proscenium, which constantly opens to reveal new two-dimensional settings for the murders (a parish church, a frozen lake, a garden, etc.); the ensemble of six play multiple roles; and the score has echoes of Gilbert and Sullivan, Lerner and Loewe, and an English music hall.

The LA-based Freedman says he sees the production on the road every chance he gets and, on visits to New York during the Broadway run, he'd frequently slip into the Walter Kerr theater to catch the last fifteen minutes of the show.

"By the end people are overwhelmed and thrilled and it's just so exciting," he says. "It's the thing about the show that's the most meaningful to me; feeling that from the audience and knowing that I've been a part of it, of a sharing experience like that. There's nothing like it in the world."

Lavish new production of The Sound of Music to thrill Nashville audiences Feb. 14-19

"Sparkling, fresh and lively."

— The Los Angeles Times

The hills are alive! A brand new production of The Sound of Music, directed by three-time Tony Award winner Jack O'Brien, brings the beloved musical story of Maria and the von Trapp Family to Nashville on February 14-19, 2017.

Featuring music by Richard Rodgers and lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein II, this lavish production will once again thrill audiences with such songs as "My Favorite Things," "Do-Re-Mi," "Climb Ev'ry Mountain," "Edelweiss" and the title song.

"The Sound of Music has been in our ears for decades, as it deserves to be," says director Jack O'Brien. "But it might be time to look once more, and more closely, at this remarkable work which, I feel, begins to reveal itself as deeper, richer, and more powerful than ever. It's no longer 'your mother's' familiar 'Sound of Music.' We are tearing off the varnish of the past from one of the great glories of our theatergoing experience and making it fresh!"

Rodgers and Hammerstein's The Sound of Music is a family classic for all ages with a beautiful love story that audiences enjoy seeing again and again. With stirring, moving songs and lyrics that evoke a sense of nostalgia, the powerful story of the von Trapp family continues to charm and resonate and makes for a perfect family outing or date night.

Tickets for The Sound of Music are on sale now at TPAC.ORG/SoundOfMusic, by phone at 615-782-4040, and at the TPAC Box Office in downtown Nashville.

Concerns or compliments?
PatronServices@TPAC.org

include parking, elevators, wheelchair seating, use of a TPAC wheelchair, designated restrooms, and services for hearing and visually impaired patrons. Infrared assisted listening devices are available at no charge at the entrance to each theater. TPAC offers signing for hearing impaired patrons, and audio description and Braille programs for blind and visually impaired patrons on the Sunday matinee in the season ticket series of HCA/TriStar Health Broadway at TPAC. Large print programs are available for Broadway and TPAC Presents shows. Special accessibility requests and concerns, excluding assisted listening headsets, should be discussed in advance with the TPAC House Manager at 615-782-4087. Reservations for a wheelchair should be made on the day of performance.

Restrooms for Jackson Hall are located one level down from the 6th Avenue entrance, in the halls behind the seats in the tier and balcony, and downstairs in the back of the orchestra level. Restrooms for Polk Theater are located down the stairs to the left of the entrance to the orchestra level and on the balcony level.

Bars are located in the lobbies and in the back of the orchestra level of Jackson Hall.

An ATM is on the G-Level, near the main security desk at the Deaderick Street entrance to the building.

All electronic devices including cell phones, pagers, watch alarms, cameras, and recorders should be turned off prior to the performance or checked-in with the floor manager or an usher, who will note the seating location of physicians and others who expect emergency calls.

Call Lost and Found at 615-782-4098 to report an item you might have left at TPAC.

In case of an emergency, the number to leave with others is 615-782-4000 (plus performance, theater, and seat location).

Smoking, including use of all tobacco products and electronic cigarettes, is permitted outside the building.
