Letter from the Publishers

Dear Readers,

As we begin our 21st year as the publishers of the Performing Arts Magazines, we want to stop and take a moment to say thank you. Thank you to the arts groups for the incredible shows they produce for our enjoyment each year. Thank you to the ticket buyers and the patrons of the arts for their love of the performing arts, and thank you to our advertisers who have loyally supported our publications throughout the years.

When asked if advertising in the Performing Arts Magazines works, we simply point to an incredible statistic...over 90 percent of our annual advertisers renewed last year, and even more amazing...over 80 percent of our major advertisers have advertised consistently for more than 10 years. Reading between the statistical lines...clearly the business community understands that the Performing Arts' audience is a very important market to reach. If you want to learn more about how your company can benefit from an annual ad buy please go to: GloverGroupEntertainment.com or give us a call at 615-373-5557. We provide Nashville and Franklin with a one-stop option for arts and entertainment information as well as advertising.

In addition to the Performing Arts Magazines, it's also our great pleasure each year to provide local readers and visiting tourists with an annual guide to arts and entertainment. Be sure to pick up a copy of Nashville Arts & Entertainment Magazine at your favorite newsstand location, or go to NAEmag.com. We are also pleased to be the official magazine in all 800 rooms of the Omni Hotel.

For additional information and special online promotions, please follow us on Facebook and Twitter.
Thank you!

TPAC PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Welcome to the Tennessee Performing Arts Center, where you're investing in your community, the education of children, and even the Broadway industry with your presence here.

We're especially excited that Kinky Boots is on our schedule this year, because TPAC invested in this show as a member of the Independent Presenters Network. The IPN plays a producing role for a number of musicals each year, mainly to serve our audiences. We help develop shows that will hopefully be hits on Broadway and then tour to venues like TPAC across the country. You can imagine our excitement when Kinky Boots became the big winner at the 2013 Tony Awards. Our return on that investment includes its spot on our current schedule, giving our audiences a wonderful new musical to enjoy. Fresh and fun, Kinky Boots is one of the most joyful and inspiring musicals I've ever seen. We're proud to have played a part in its development.

Speaking of investments... Whenever you purchase a ticket to a performance at TPAC – or buy food and beverage here – you're making an investment in the state and local economy. The economic impact of TPAC and audience spending was over $64.1 million last year, including more than $3.3 million in state and local revenues. That powerful impact translates to more than 1,000 full-time jobs and more than $23 million in household income for workers in a wide variety of businesses.

TPAC's most important investment – and yours – is our contribution to the education of children in Tennessee and southern Kentucky. I hope you share my pride in knowing that TPAC Education is one of the most comprehensive programs of its kind in the United States. Numerous national studies link arts education to improved academic achievement, graduation rates, and other factors that position children for success in school and life. Your contributions to TPAC Education are an investment in the quality of education and the future of your community.

I thank you for joining us and sincerely hope you enjoy the time you've invested in today's performance.

Kathleen W. O'Brien

TPAC President and Chief Executive Officer

One way to support TPAC'S educational initiatives is to “round up” your purchase to the next $5 increment when you buy tickets online. Last year, that option resulted in over $31,900 of direct support for programs serving children from pre-school through high school. Through “round up” and other ways, your support of TPAC'S cultural and educational initiatives makes an impact in classrooms and a difference in individual lives. For more information, visit TPAC.ORG/Support.

TPAC Education proudly partners with three schools through the Pencil Foundation, linking community resources with Nashville Public Schools to help young people achieve academic success and prepare for life.

The lively video on dental care features TPAC Education teaching artists at a local Head Start classroom served by Wolf Trap Early Learning Through the Arts, one of TPAC's five education programs. Illustrating how music, puppetry, storytelling and other arts are powerful teaching tool, the video can be enjoyed by children and families at home along with other fun resources from Delta Dental.

"Delta Dental has a longstanding relationship with TPAC. We are proud to support the arts and excited about the ways that the arts are used to teach our children the fundamentals of good health, like brushing your teeth," said Phil Wenk, D.D.S., president and CEO, Delta Dental of Tennessee. "The work being done with Head Start is wonderful. We've had the best experience possible with TPAC and encourage other corporations to support arts education and explore ways to become actively involved."

Additional leadership included Linda and Jere Ervin and Suzanne and Grant Smothers (patron committee chairs), Bill and Janet Schock (kickoff party hosts) Julie Boehm, Jason Bradshaw, Bob Deal, Phillipe Chadwick, Amy McDaniel, and Melissa Mosteller.

TPAC INSIDEOUT

They go where no TPAC audiences have gone before – into the exciting inner world of the performing arts.

InsideOut, TPAC Education's popular program for adults, provides unique opportunities to engage with artists, serving more than 3,000 people a year through three distinct series.

LookIn takes the public into the rehearsal halls of Nashville Ballet, Nashville Opera, and Nashville Repertory Theatre, TPAC's three resident companies.

Arts Appetizer pairs touring artists with community experts for lively conversations on the Wednesday evening before each show in TPAC's Broadway season.

InsideOut of the Lunch Box, presented in partnership with Vanderbilt University, features a panel discussion, often including performance excerpts and dialogue with academic experts on issues explored through music, theatre, opera and ballet.

"We've partnered with Vanderbilt for ten years, collaborating with Gail Williams, their associate director of community engagement," said Kristin Dare-Horsley, TPAC's director of education outreach. "We want to keep the format that's been incredibly popular with our audience. At the same time, we're always open to new ideas and looking for ways to make the program fresh and interesting."

Reservations open three weeks before each event, with a free box lunch for the first 300 people who sign up. Upcoming programs will feature panel discussions, with performance excerpts, on Nashville Repertory Theatre's The Whipping Man on March 3 and Nashville Opera's Pirates of Penzance on April 2.

All 300 lunches are consistently given away, with the recent program on Nashville's The WannaBeatles setting a record by hitting that magic number within two hours.

Each LookIn at the rehearsal halls of TPAC's resident companies also fill to capacity.

"The rehearsal process is sacred, rarely open to the public. It's a highly unique opportunity to observe directors working with the artists as they refine their performance," said Dare-Horsley. "Later, it's fun and exciting to see the finished product on stage, experiencing that polished, beautiful work of art that they witnessed in rehearsal."

Connecting the subject matter of a Broadway show to their own lives is what audiences especially appreciate about the Arts Appetizer.

"We get the most comments in surveys on how much participants enjoy hearing from people in their own community, learning about our area while they learn about the show," said Dare-Horsley. "They also love the stories of the touring cast members – their history, how they got the part, and what it's like on the road."

For past shows, the pairings between shows and community experts have included nuns (Sister Act), historians (War Horse), a psychic medium (Ghost), a meteorologist (White Christmas), and the director of the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation (Catch Me If You Can).

For more information, visit TPAC.ORG/InsideOut.

A SPECIAL EVENING EVENT

WALKING THE TIGHTROPE • March 5 at 6:00 p.m.
Free pre-show refreshments in the lobby

Adult audiences are invited to see a critically-acclaimed play that will be presented to student audiences during the day through TPAC Education's Season for Young People.

Why?

"This particular production is just as relevant – if not more so – to adults, who will experience it from a totally different perspective than young people," said Dare-Horsley.

Winner of multiple honors for 24th Street Theatre in Los Angeles, Mike Kenny's Walking the Tightrope features a grandfather who struggles to explain the absence of "Nanna" to his visiting granddaughter. With humor and help from a clown, they discover the meaning of family – celebrating life and learning to accept death. Beautifully produced video and live music transport the audience from the quaint English seaside to the spectacular big top of the circus.

For information on reservations for this evening event, contact Kristin Dare-Horsley at KHorsley@TPAC.org or 615-687-4291.

PIPPIN

MARCH 10-15

Experience the thrilling 2013 Tony Award-winning musical, Pippin, Broadway's high-flying, death-defying hit revival. Full of extraordinary acrobatics, wondrous magical feats and soaring songs from the composer of Wicked, this unforgettable new production will lift you up and leave you smiling.

Pippin is the most nominated Broadway show of 2013 and the winner of four 2013 Tony Awards® including Best Revival of a Musical. Hailed as “an eye-popping, jaw-dropping extravaganza” (NY1) and “Astonishing! A Pippin for the 21st Century” (The New York Times), it's unlike anything Broadway has ever seen.

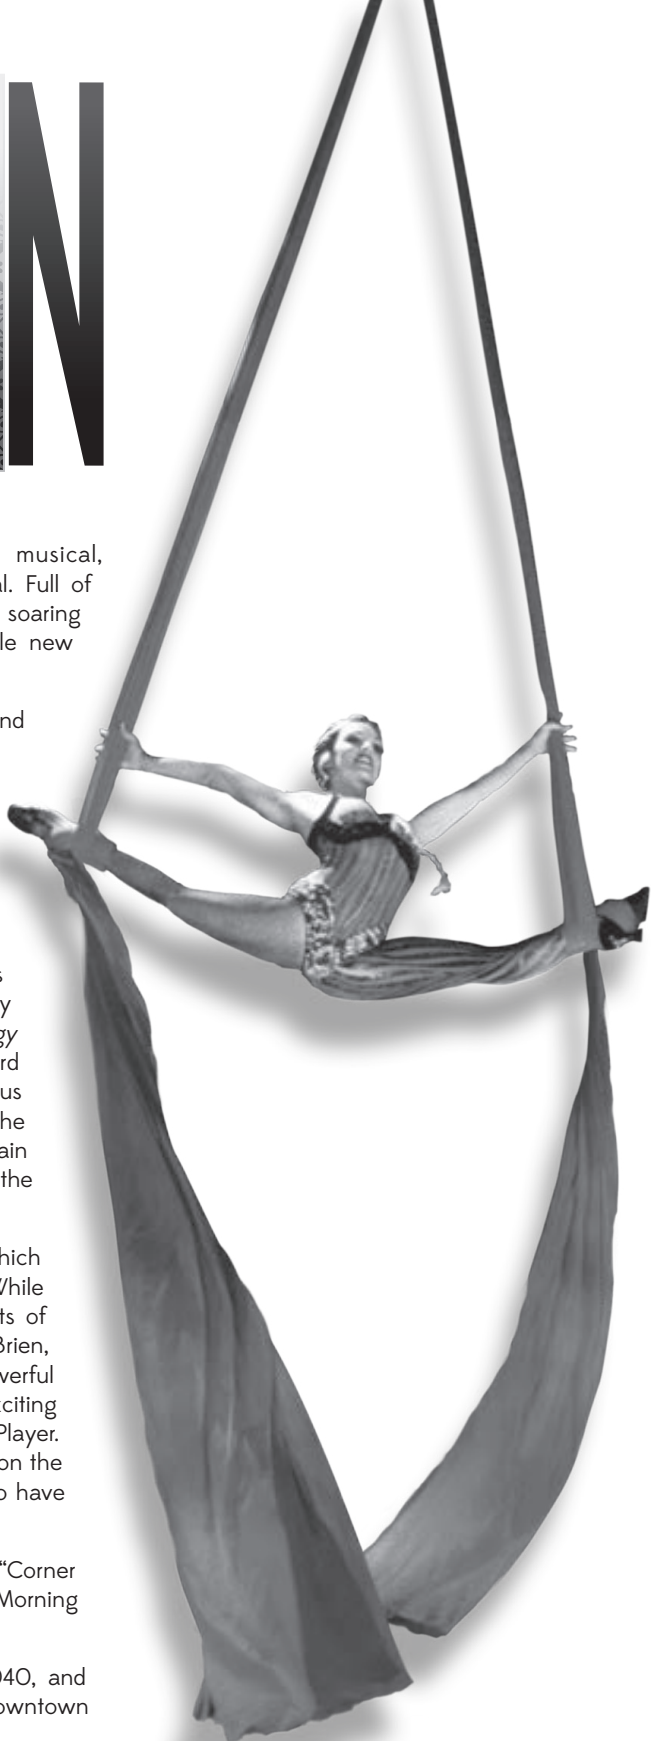

With a beloved score by Tony Award nominee Stephen Schwartz (Wicked), Pippin tells the story of a young prince on a death-defying journey to find meaning in his existence. This captivating new production is directed by Tony winner Diane Paulus (Hair and The Gershwins' Porgy and Bess). It features sizzling choreography by Tony Award nominee Chet Walker in the style of Bob Fosse and circus creation of breathtaking acrobatics by Gypsy Snider of the Montreal-based circus company Les 7 doigts de la main (also known as 7 Fingers), the creative force behind the nationwide sensation Traces.

“This production features a beautiful acrobatic element, which adds a stunning and creative twist from the original. While vibrantly costumed, the cast performs unbelievable feats of flexibility, balance, grace, and agility,” says Kathleen O'Brien, TPAC president and chief executive officer. “There are powerful voices throughout the cast and one that is particularly exciting is the voice of Sasha Allen, who plays the Leading Player. JOSEPH AND THE AMAZING TECHNICOLOR DREAMCOAT SYNOPSIS

ACT I

The Biblical story of Joseph is framed by a narrator telling the tale. It begins with introducing Jacob and his twelve sons. Joseph's brothers are jealous of him for his multi-colored coat, which was a gift from their father. Joseph has dreams that indicate that he will rule over them, but they try to stop that by attempting fratricide but finally selling him as a slave to Ishmaelites going to Egypt. The brothers go home and break the news to their father that Joseph has been killed by showing him the multi-colored coat smeared with sheep's blood and claiming it was Joseph's. As Jacob goes to mourn, the brothers and wives all celebrate. In Egypt, a millionaire named Potiphar buys Joseph and he rises in the household till he is running the house. Potiphar's wife makes a move on him, Joseph spurns her and she then accuses him of coming on to her. Potiphar believes his wife and throws Joseph in jail. Two prisoners, a baker and a butler of Pharaoh, are with him and he interprets the strange dreams they have had. The baker will be executed but the butler will return to his original service. The other prisoners encourage him to go for his dreams.

ACT II

Now free from jail, the butler is serving Pharaoh, who is having some confusing dreams. The butler recommends Joseph because of his interpretation skills and Pharaoh demands him brought in. He tells the tales of his dreams involving cows and corn. Joseph helps predict seven plentiful crop years and seven famine years. Pharaoh puts Joseph in charge of preparing for this and he becomes the second most powerful man in Egypt. Back home, the famine has reached Joseph's brothers and they discuss the regret of selling him and lying to their father. They hear that there is still food in Egypt and they decide to go beg for mercy and food. Joseph is actually who they meet and he gives them sackfuls of food but hides a golden cup in his youngest brother's bag. He stops them as they go to leave and accuses the brothers of robbery and it is found in Benjamin's bag. The others beg for mercy for Benjamin and offer themselves. Joseph sees this selflessness and reveals himself, sends for his father and they are all reunited in a happy conclusion.

"THEY SAVED MY LIFE"

—DUANE EDDY

AT WILLIAMSON MEDICAL CENTER, OUR STORY IS BEST TOLD BY OUR PATIENTS.

They have been here. They know us well.

To Deed and Duane Eddy, Williamson Medical Center is where Duane's life was saved when he suffered an abdominal aortic aneurysm. What started out as back pain ended with Duane collapsing at our front door. One more red light and he wouldn't have made it, his doctors told him.

What happened over the next few days, the Eddys describe as a symphony. Nurses, doctors and hospital staff working together to produce a beautiful outcome that meant Duane walked out of the hospital and back on stage where he belongs.

We want to hear your story.

It didn't take long after the opening of our Pharmaceutical Sciences Research Center for its impact to be felt across the community and even further. Yes, it was a milestone as a significant teaching facility, but even more important was that it represented our continued move in recent years into the research arena. In fact, the College of Pharmacy just received the university's first National Institutes of Health grant for research over the next five years which could impact breast cancer treatment.

Impressive recognition for a university of our size. But not surprising, given our commitment to creating far-reaching science and health sciences programs with a mission to benefit others. From our highly ranked pharmacy and nursing schools to a new master's in pharmacy informatics and a developing physician's assistance program, we're strengthening our longtime reputation for graduating students who academically and spiritually have what it takes to make a difference.

FOR THE FIRST TIME, OUR PHARMACEUTICAL RESEARCH IS BEING TAKEN FOR GRANTED.

We have faith in your future.™

Elevating education to a fine art.

It should come as no surprise that a school known for its academics is equally recognized for its fine art programs. Whether art, chorus, band, drama or theater, students are able to discover and pursue their own creative talents in new and exciting ways. As part of Lipscomb University, they are also able to do it on a much larger stage with access to first-class art studios, a variety of performance venues and collegiate-level instructional experiences.

Our choruses continue to receive high honors and top state rankings, outstanding musicals are performed year-round and, most recently, our band received superior ratings and was asked to perform at the state concert festival held at Vanderbilt's Blair School of Music.

Come by the campus for a tour, meet a few of our faculty or attend an upcoming information session. See just how we elevate our students to reach their potential...and beyond.

NEWSIES:

A TENNESSEE SPECIAL EDITION

The Tennessee Performing Arts Center and the Tennessee State Museum are partnering to present Newsies: A Tennessee Special Edition, a collaboration to present this exhibition, educational programs, and museum tours based on Disney's Broadway smash-hit musical NEWSIES and the rich publishing history of Nashville and across the state. This exhibit will be displayed in the G-Level Gallery through June 2015.

Disney's NEWSIES, which will play a one-week engagement in TPAC's Jackson Hall May 26-31, 2015 to close the HCA/TriStar Health Broadway at TPAC season, is a musical based on Disney's 1992 live-action film Newsies. Both are inspired by the real-life Newsboys Strike of 1899 in New York City in which a newsboy named Kid Blink led a successful two-week strike against publishing giants William Randolph Hearst and Joseph Pulitzer. This exhibit includes a costume from the Broadway production, making Nashville the first city to display such a production item.

With assistance from the Special Collections department of the Nashville Public Library and the museum's collection, this exhibition covers the history of newspaper printing in Tennessee, along with several interesting stories surrounding the local newspaper industry. The Tennessee State Museum has several photographs taken by Lewis Wickes Hines, the American sociologist and photographer who used his camera as a tool for social reform. Some of his images of newspaper delivery boys and other child labor settings are featured in the exhibit.

Another section of the exhibit examines how old-fashioned printing terms have made their way into the digital age. Educational tours planned for May 2015 will showcase a re-creation of the Knoxville Gazette printing press and press room now on display in the museum's permanent exhibits.

Pablo Picasso's quote that "Art washes away from the soul the dust of everyday life" is one of our favorite quotes here at the Tennessee Performing Arts Center (TPAC).

The power of art to restore and transform people of all ages is why we show up to work each day in support of TPAC's mission.

We also are inspired by the diverse and dynamic world of art outside our doors, the innovative and evolving artistry taking place behind the scenes and the ways different arts and entertainment industries are colliding and collaborating.

So we created SPOTlight, an online magazine where each week we can shine a light on those things – from art to music; film to live theatre; Nashville to national trends – that influence and enrich our lives. SPOTlight features a multi-media look into the diverse and dynamic world of the performing arts. Each month, we'll focus on a specific theme and provide several behind-the-scenes looks at upcoming shows, educational programming, local history and more.

In our February issue, we explore a collaborative exhibit between TPAC and the Tennessee State Museum based on Disney's Newsies and Tennessee's rich newspaper history. We'll preview Nashville Rep's The Whipping Man, look at the historical context of upcoming Broadway shows, and celebrate an NEA Grant in support of TPAC Education's unique staging of Hamlet.

Subscribe to receive SPOTlight by e-mail each month or explore our current issue at

Cindy

In 2007, Cindy lost her husband. A year later, she lost her job. Cindy had been out of work for a year and a half when she stopped by the Goodwill Career Solutions center in Jackson for help. Just a few months after enrolling in the program, Goodwill offered Cindy a job as a donation attendant. Cindy said having a steady job at Goodwill for the last five years has allowed her to become independent. But there are some things you can't put a price tag on. "Working for Goodwill has raised my self-esteem," she said. "I am now a confident person. I can walk around with my head held high."
