Anthony Chen

Investment Adviser Representative

Anthony Chen is an Investment Adviser Representative at Lighthouse Financial Network, LLC. He started his career in Financial Services with MetLife in Buffalo, NY in 2008. In 2013 he decided to move back to the tri-state area where he calls home. Born and raised in Elmhurst, Queens, he considers himself a full-blooded New Yorker and was excited to come back after nine years in Buffalo. Being in the local NY area he will continue to advance in the field of Financial Services.

Anthony now works with families and business owners to protect what is most important to them. From preserving to creating wealth, Anthony partners with CPAs and attorneys to help address all of the concerns and help clients achieve their goals. By using a combination of financial products ranging from life, disability, and long term care insurance to many investment options through Signator Investors Inc. Anthony looks to be the eyes and ears for his client's financial foundation.

In his spare time, Anthony is an avid long distance runner.
